Grounding Knowledge Environmental Philosophy Epistemology And Place:

Grounding Knowledge Christopher J. Preston, 2010-01-25 He asks what these ideas in contemporary epistemology and environmental philosophy mean for environmental policy concluding that the grounding of knowledge strongly suggests epistemic reasons for the protection of a full range of physical environments in their natural condition BOOK JACKET

Nature, Value, Duty Christopher J. Preston, Wayne Ouderkirk, 2006-11-17 Gifford Lecturer and Templeton Prize winner Holmes Rolston III is widely known as the father of environmental ethics His writings range between natural philosophy and theology and include detailed presentations of an interlocking position that includes aesthetics value theory natural resource policy wilderness advocacy and sustainable development Nature Value and Duty Life on Earth with Holmes Rolston III is a collection of contemporary writings on the work of Holmes Rolston III The authors contributing to this volume are a mixture of senior scholars in environmental ethics and new voices in philosophy and in literature Together they provide an in depth evaluation of many of the topics discussed by Rolston They probe the strengths and weaknesses of his work and suggest valuable correctives Rolston himself in a detailed reply to each of his critics at the end of the volume reveals where some of these criticisms sting him the most and in the process provides one of the most detailed and articulate defenses of his position ever offered

Understanding Cultural Geography Jon Anderson, 2021-04-08 This book outlines how the theoretical ideas empirical foci and methodological techniques of cultural geography make sense of the culture wars that define our time It is on the battleground of culture that our opportunities rights and futures are determined and Understanding Cultural Geography showcases how this discipline can be used to understand these battles and how we can engage in them Through doing so the book not only introduces the reader to the rich and complex history of cultural geography but also the key terms on which the discipline is built From these insights the text approaches place as an ongoing composition of traces highlighting the dynamic and ever changing nature of the world around us and what our role can be in transforming it for the better The third edition has been fully revised and updated to incorporate recent literature and reflect the changing cultural context of its time Retaining its exciting and innovative structure the third edition will expand its focus into new areas including updated chapters on ethnicity and race and new chapters on gender and the body This new edition captures not only recent changes in the cultural world but also the discipline itself offering the most up to date text to understand and engage with the cultural battlegrounds which constitute our lives Understanding Cultural Geography is the ideal text for students being introduced to the discipline through either undergraduate or postgraduate degree courses The third edition is an important update to a highly successful text that incorporates a vast foundation of knowledge it is an invaluable book for lecturers and students The Environmental Uncanny Brian A. Irwin,2024-06-27

The Environmental Uncanny argues that the increasing destitution of our world is the result of a certain forgetfulness we have forgotten that the basis of our knowledge is not calculative reason but our participation in the natural world The modern built environment is exemplary of this forgetfulness and induces an uncanniness that can help us to understand the nature of our environmental crisis This book offers a unique interdisciplinary perspective on the global environmental crisis Ranging from traditional phenomenology including substantial discussion of both Merleau Ponty and Heidegger to philosophy of biology to architectural and urban design theory to landscape photography it makes illuminating connections to paint a multifaceted picture Tracing the root causes of dwindling biodiversity deforestation and suburban sprawl we can find how might we mark the path back toward a mode of rich inhabitation in a contemporary age In charting out how it is that we are losing our world Irwin offers a thought as to how we might regain it Touched By This Place Valentín,

Benjamín,2024-06-12 Explores the ways in which geographic places influence and are influenced by human life thought and action The Future of Environmental Criticism Lawrence Buell,2009-02-09

Written by one of the world s leading theorists in ecocriticism this manifesto provides a critical summary of the ecocritical movement A critical summary of the emerging discipline of ecocriticism Written by one of the world s leading theorists in ecocriticism Traces the history of the ecocritical movement from its roots in the 1970s through to its diversification and proliferation today Takes account of different ecocritical positions and directions Describes major tensions within ecocriticism and addresses major criticisms of the movement Looks to the future of ecocriticism proposing that discourses of the environment should become a permanent part of literary and cultural studies Nanotechnology Challenges Joachim Schummer,Davis Baird,2006 the knowledge and skills necessary to lead impactful environmental initiatives across public private and non profit sectors Designed for students educators researchers policymakers and practitioners this book is an essential resource for fostering sustainability and developing the next generation of environmental leaders worldwide Conserving Words Daniel J. Philippon,2004 Conserving Words looks at five authors of seminal works of nature writing who also founded or revitalized important environmental organizations Theodore Roosevelt and the Boone and Crockett Club Mabel Osgood Wright and the National Audubon Society John Muir and the Sierra Club Aldo Leopold and the Wilderness Society and Edward Abbey and Earth First These writers used powerfully evocative and galvanizing metaphors for nature metaphors that Daniel J Philippon calls conserving words frontier Roosevelt garden Wright park Muir wilderness Leopold and utopia Abbey Integrating literature history biography and philosophy this ambitious study explores how conserving words enabled narratives to convey environmental values as they explained how human beings should interact with the nonhuman world Contemporary Irish Ecocentric Poetry and the Writing of Nature Wit Pietrzak,2025-10-02 Contemporary Irish Ecocentric Poetry and the Writing of Nature explores how poetic language can apprehend non anthropocentric points of view It builds on the recent developments in environmental humanities and seeks to show that four Irish poets Derek Mahon Paula Meehan Moya Cannon and Se n Lysaght offer means of diversifying our perception of nature and our place in it This diversification in turn is intended to help us change our idea of natural environment from seeing it as a passive space which we can either exploit or preserve to a view of nature as an interrelated network of agents in which humans are one actor among numerous others Utilising a broad theoretical and philosophical context to help frame the analyses of verse in up to date conceptual schemes this volume serves as a critical foundation for the future work and research in Irish ecocriticism and on eco poetics in general making the monograph an ideal read for postgraduates scholars and researchers in these fields That Dream Shall Have a Name David L. Moore,2020-04-01 The founding idea of America has been based largely on the expected sweeping away of Native Americans to make room for EuroAmericans and their cultures In this authoritative study David L Moore examines the works of five well known Native American writers and their efforts beginning in the colonial period to redefine an America and American identity that includes Native Americans That Dream Shall Have a Name focuses on the writing of Pequot Methodist minister William Apess in the 1830s on Northern Paiute activist Sarah Winnemucca in the 1880s on Salish M tis novelist historian and activist D Arcy McNickle in the 1930s and on Laguna poet and novelist Leslie Marmon Silko and on Spokane poet novelist humorist and filmmaker Sherman Alexie both in the latter twentieth and early twenty first centuries Moore studies these five writers stories about the conflicted topics of sovereignty community identity and authenticity always tinged with irony and often with humor He shows how Native Americans have tried from the beginning to shape an American narrative closer to its own ideals one that does not include the death and destruction of their peoples This compelling work offers keen insights into the relationships between Native and American identity and politics in a way that is both accessible to newcomers and compelling to those already familiar with these fields of study
