Group Living Tom Douglas, 1986 Group Work Timothy Kelly B,2012-12-06 Explore the latest research and practice information in group work Group Work Strategies for Strengthening Resiliency is a collection of research and information presented at the Twentieth Annual International Symposium on Social Work with Groups Resiliency issues are explored in relation to children couples managers survivors of torture poor women HIV AIDS affected youth and other population groups The contributors were keynote speakers and paper presenters at the symposium They represent a wide range of fields of practice and experience For social workers students educators and practitioners this volume examines how group work can improve resiliency in your community Here's a sample of what you ll find inside Keynote Speaker Jeremy Woodcock's experiences in his groundbreaking resiliency work with victims of torture Alex Gitterman's brilliant exposition of the notions of resiliency and vulnerability he outlines the current thinking and puts it into a group work context case examples that illustrate resiliency in children a discussion of how residential settings can function like a 24 hour group and how to use that group effectively to strengthen the resiliency of the residents a way to use groups to help develop social and economic capital for poor women through investment clubs group themes and practice strategies for group work with couples who have differing HIV statusGroup Work Strategies for Strengthening Resiliency also contains chapters reflecting the personal experiences of the authors One shares her transformation from a worker who did case work in a group into a social group worker Another shares a reminiscence of a personal journey during her formative years as a budding group worker From its description of how the use of group work principles and skills can benefit managers and programs to its challenge to group workers to incorporate some community work skills into their repertoire Group Work Strategies for Strengthening Resiliency is more than a fascinating read it is a tool to help you keep abreast of the latest theory and practice in this ever changing field Competence in Social Work Practice Kieran O'Hagan, 2007 Making a major advance in social work training this book illustrates social work competences by describing genuine cases real people and real contexts All identifying features have been changed to preserve confidentiality Groupwork Allan Brown, 2017-07-05 This highly successful book on groupwork practice first published in 1979 has become a standard introductory text on most social work training courses It is very popular with social workers whatever their agency setting and is also used by health visitors youth workers and the voluntary sector This new enlarged and revised third edition includes two new additional chapters The first of these addresses the issue of groupwork in day and residential centres where special kinds of group skills are required in addition to those already well established for fieldwork groups The second new chapter attempts to understand the significance of race and gender in groupwork and to begin to develop a framework for anti discriminatory practice All key sections from previous editions have been retained and updated while those on group composition open groups co working and consultation have been extended and revised to give more comprehensive coverage The bibliography has also been developed to include the most recent additions to the groupwork literature including many articles from the journal Groupwork for which Allan Brown is co editor Working in Residential Homes for Elderly People C Paul Brearley, 2023-03-31 First published in 1990 Working in Residential Homes for Elderly People outlines the purposes and objectives of residential homes and what it is like to live and work in them The author looks at the factors that make for a good quality of life considering how these can be promoted and how staff can work with people both individually and in groups to help them get the best out of life He reviews prevalent thinking about what happens to people as they grow older and at a practical level he looks carefully at the day to day management of homes suggesting how they should be organized in order to get the best out of the staff buildings and resources Unique in its coverage of the process of ageing good practice and good management the book takes into account the differing needs of both residents and staff With its emphasis on the various aspects of the flexible individual support necessary in providing a good home it will be invaluable to social work and social care students residential workers and their managers Critical Practice in Social Work Robert Adams, Lena Dominelli, Malcolm Payne, 2009-04-16 What do social workers need to know in order to practise skilfully and effectively Edited by three Social Work's leading scholars the second edition of this highly respected textbook helps bridge the gap between social work theory and the challenges of day to day practice Versatile and thoughtful the book s simultaneous accessibility and depth make it essential reading suited for both social work students at undergraduate and post qualifying level Practitioners too will learn and benefit from the insights collected together in this valuable addition to their bookshelf What Works in Residential Child Care Roger Bullock, Roger Clough, Adrian Ward, 2006-12-31 Reviews research evidence and identifies the significant elements that will lead to a successful strategy for Residential Child Care Networking and Community Partnership Steve Trevillion, 2018 First published in 1999 this volume is a revised and fully updated version of the ground breaking book Caring in the Community which was the first book to attempt to develop a theory of networking for social workers and others It is still the only book which has systematically applied key networking principles to both community care and child care There is now no doubt that the time has come for a new edition which will take into account the developments which have taken place in social care since the work was first published This edition will also incorporate comparative European material thereby placing networking principles in a broader context Social Service Abstracts ,1987 Closing Children's Homes David Berridge, David Cliffe, 1991-01-01 This ebook reports on the unprecedented and radical step taken by Warwickshire Social Services Department when in 1986 it closed the last of its children's homes Group Work Nano McCaughan, 2021-11-07 Group work is central to social work whether it be work with individuals and families residential care community work management or social work education Despite however the upsurge of interest in this aspect of social work method at the time Group Work Learning and Practice originally published in 1978 represented the first attempt at providing an up to date and carefully integrated source book for students in the form of a series of mainly original and British papers on social group work its knowledge base the possible varieties of practice settings and objectives and its implications for social work education and training models For new directions in social work education suggested that the small group was to become the core system around which much future social work teaching would be based The main concern of this new National Institute for Social Work reader the development and demonstration of intervention skills in practice would be particularly relevant The book draws attention to the opportunities for work with groups in the community in residential institutions and with families where the emphasis was rapidly shifting towards the need for greater understanding and use of the small group dimension Group Work Learning and Practice would have been widely welcomed both by specialists in group work at the time and all those more generally interested in social work methods as teachers students practitioners supervisors and as local authority training officers It would also be of interest to a wider readership of teachers youth workers and those concerned with the group dynamics and counselling fields Occupational Outlook Handbook ,1996 Describes 250 occupations which cover approximately 107 million jobs Residential Interventions for Children, Adolescents, and Families Gary M. Blau, Beth Caldwell, Robert E. Lieberman, 2014-06-05 Now more than ever there is a need to ensure that best practices are being used in residential programs As the focus on costs and outcomes increase residential programs must clearly demonstrate that the interventions provided are efficient and effective Readers will learn how to Create strength based empowering and healing environments Better engage and partner with children adolescents and families in meaningful ways Support those who have experienced trauma and loss and to prevent and eliminate the use of restraint and seclusion Respect and include cultural indices in practices Train mentor supervise support and empower staff about how to deliver promising and best practices and evidence informed and evidence based interventions and Track long term outcomes and create funding strategies to better support sustained positive outcomes This book encourages readers to think strategically about how agencies communities and systems can identify and implement actions that lead to positive change and how to work more collaboratively to improve the lives of children and adolescents who have experienced emotional and behavioral life challenges and their families Mutual Aid Groups, Vulnerable and Resilient Populations, and the Life Cycle Alex Gitterman, Lawrence Shulman, 2005 The authors reveal the ways in which mutual aid processes help individuals overcome social and emotional trauma in contemporary society by reducing isolation universalizing individual problems and mitigating stigma New chapters in this completely revised and updated third edition illustrate the power of mutual aid processes in dealing with children traumatized by the events of September 11 adult survivors of sexual abuse parents with developmentally challenged children people with AIDS in substance recovery and mentally ill older adults Use of Groups in the Psychiatric Setting ,1960 Young People and the Care Experience Julie Shaw, Nick Frost, 2013-04-12 The care system looks after the most vulnerable young people in society those who are for a variety of reasons unable to live with their parents Young People and the Care Experience examines what can be done to support young people to remain at home and if this is not possible how they can be supported whilst in care and on leaving care The book explores the range of options foster care children's homes and adoption and how these options interact Using the latest research and framing the issues through both psycho social and legal perspectives the book provides an in depth analysis of young people's experience of the care system and how it can be improved Examining the challenges faced by children on their journey from initially entering care to living independently after care the book places these issues in a global context Specifically it discusses how to support children and young people at home an analysis of the history and demographics of children placed in care the challenges faced by children living in foster care the challenges faced by children living in a children's home the challenges faced by children being adopted leaving care The book will be of interest to all those working with children in care or those who have experience of the care system as a professional carer or young person.
