Group and Cross-media Ownership of Television Stations, 1990 Group and Cross-media Ownership of Television Stations Herbert H. Howard, 1990 The Encyclopedia of Television, Cable, and Video R.M. Reed, M.K. Reed, 2012-12-06 This is a major reference work about the overlapping fields of television cable and video With both technical and popular appeal this book covers the following areas advertising agencies associations companies unions broadcasting cable casting engineering events general production and programming Television Broadcasting in Contemporary France and Britain Michael Scriven, Monia Lecomte, 1999 This is the first study devoted to the highly significant roles played by France and Britain in the formulation of European audiovisual policy providing a truly comparative analysis of the contemporary audiovisual scene in the two countries History of the Mass Media in the United States Margaret A. Blanchard, 2013-12-19 The influence of the mass media on American history has been overwhelming History of the Mass Media in the United States examines the ways in which the media both affects and is affected by U S society From 1690 when the first American newspaper was founded to 1995 this encyclopedia covers more than 300 years of mass media history History of Mass Media in the United States contains more than 475 alphabetically arranged entries covering subjects ranging from key areas of newspaper history to broader topics such as media coverage of wars major conflicts over press freedom court cases and legislation and the concerns and representation of ethnic and special interest groups The editor and the 200 scholarly contributors to this work have taken particular care to examine the technological legal legislative economic and political developments that have affected the American media Journalism at the End of the American Century, 1965-Present James Brian McPherson, 2006-06-30 McPherson captures the best and worst aspects of American journalism since 1965 The press has evolved into a conglomeration of entities that today can be described as pervasive entertaining and justifiably mistrusted In some ways today's press offers the best journalism Americans have ever seen In other ways the modern news media fall short of the ideals held by most of those who care about journalism and far short of the promise they once seemed to offer in terms of helping create an enlightened democracy Neither a paean to the press nor an exercise in media bashing this book finds much to criticize and to praise about recent American journalism while illustrating that traditional journalistic values have diminished in importance not just for many of those who control the media but also for the media consumers who most need good journalism Chapters are devoted to various themes that include social unrest the influence of entertainment values technological shifts media consolidation and corporatization issues of content versus context new kinds of news media and why the 1970s may have been the high point of American journalism Events and issues given extra attention include the rise of television news and later CNN the Civil Rights Movement and other race related issues the Women's Movement various forms of alternative journalism wars in Vietnam and Iraq investigative journalism the World Trade Center attacks the Clinton Lewinsky scandal the 2000 and 2004 presidential campaigns and elections civic

Information and Communication in Economics Robert E. Babe, 2012-12-06

Although there is a burgeoning interest among economists in information economics much of the literature adopts a reductionist conceptualization of information defining it exclusively as reduction in uncertainty exploring the implications of imperfect information on markets This neoclassical treatment obscures major interrelations between economic and communicatory processes Drawing on a range of distinguished scholarship from both the economic and communication studies disciplines Information and Communication in Economics explores the implications for economic analysis and our understanding of economic processes of employing a more complete conceptualization of information information as locus of power information as evolutionary agent and media systems as devices for control Newspapers: A Lost Cause? P. Hendriks, 2012-12-06 Newspapers A Lost Cause describes the recent history of newspaper firms in the United States and The Netherlands and attempts to assess the chances of survival of the printed newspaper The changing competitive media landscape and the challenges of today's newspaper organisations including the impact of the Internet on the news industry are described and analysed The author argues that although the printed newspaper will not be replaced overnight by new competing media the traditional business model of newspapers is being eroded slowly but steadily A healthy newspaper industry and prospering newspaper firms can only exist if management including journalists and marketeers focus their attention on changing the newspaper organisation and capitalise more intensively on its core assets and skills The Media in France Raymond Kuhn, 2006-04-07 Tackles key issues eg audiovisual expansion covers press radio TV and new media Author specialist in field Broadcast Advertising Sherilyn K. Zeigler, Herbert H. Howard, 1991 Politics and the Media in Britain Raymond Kuhn, 2017-09-16 This important new text provides an up to date account of the complex interrelationship between politics and the media in Britain It starts by setting key policy areas in the context of technological convergence globalization and initiatives at European level It then addresses the key issues the role of the media in politics and elections

The British Media Industries Vincent Campbell, Paul Smith, 2023-06-29 The British Media Industries offers an accessible introduction to how the media in Britain operates and the impact that recent political economic and technological developments have had on the nature of media industries today Split into two parts this book starts by exploring approaches to understanding contemporary media industries through political economic and technological terms The second part delves further into issues and practices relating to individual media industries including newspapers magazines film television music video games and social media The book adopts a political economy approach and is designed to engage students in an accessible way with key issues around the ownership and control of different sectors of the British media UK and EU government regulation of the media including content regulation and market economic regulation and the corporate strategies employed by leading media players such as the BBC Netflix Google and Apple This is an essential textbook for undergraduate students approaching British media industries for the first time and will also be relevant to students
