cue from approaches more usually associated with literary studies. It offers a sustained and detailed close reading of three works that might be understood to fall outside the established body of educational theory. The unconventional methodology and focus promote irreducible difference and complexity and in this stage a resistance to reductive discourses of managerialism. Questioning the materialism to which all sides of the contemporary pedagogical debate increasingly appeal, the book sets out a challenge to investments in excellence, transparency and objecthood. It will be of interest to students and researchers in the fields of education, sociology and literary theory. Confessions of a Philosopher Bryan Magee, 1999-05-18
