Handbook of Aging and the Social Sciences Robert H. Binstock, Linda K. George, Stephen J. Cutler, Jon Hendricks, James H. Schulz, 2011-05-05 The Handbook of Aging and the Social Sciences Sixth Edition provides a comprehensive summary and evaluation of recent research on the social aspects of aging The 25 chapters are divided into four sections discussing Aging and Time Aging and Social Structure Social Factors and Social Institutions and Aging and

Society Within this context aging is examined from the perspectives of many disciplines and professions including anthropology bioethics demography economics epidemiology law political science psychology and sociology The Sixth Edition of the Handbook is virtually 100% new material Seventeen chapters are on subjects not carried in the previous edition Seven topics were carried over from the previous edition but written by new authors with fresh perspectives and brought up to date Some of the exciting new topics include social relationships in late life technological change and aging religion and aging lifestyle and aging perceived quality of life economic security in retirement and aging and the law There is also a greater emphasis on international perspectives particularly in chapters on aging and politics diversity and aging and immigration The Handbook will be of use to researchers and professional practitioners working with the aged It is also suitable for use as a course text for graduate and advanced undergraduate courses on aging and the social sciences

Can We Afford to Grow Older? Richard Disney,1996 On aging and its affect on Society Handbook of Theories of Aging Merrill Silverstein,Vern L. Bengtson,Vern L. Bengtson, PhD,Norella Putney,Daphna Gans,2008-10-27 The field of gerontology has often been criticized for being data rich but theory poor The editors of this book address this issue by stressing the importance of theory in gerontology While the previous edition focused on multidisciplinary approaches to aging theory this new edition provides cross disciplinary integrative explanations of aging theory The contributors of this text have reached beyond traditional disciplinary boundaries to partner with researchers in adjacent fields in studying aging and age related phenomena This edition of the Handbook consists of 39 chapters written by 67 internationally recognized experts in the field of aging It is organized in seven sections reflecting the major theoretical developments in gerontology over the past 10 years Special Features Comprehensive coverage of aging theory focusing on the biological psychological and social aspects of aging A section dedicated to discussing how aging theory informs public policy A concluding chapter summarizing the major themes of aging and offering predictions about the future of theory development Required reading for graduate students and post doctoral fellows this textbook represents the current status of theoretical development in the study of aging Information and Communication Technologies for Active Ageing Marcelino Cabrera,Norbert Malanowski,2009 The Institute for Prospective Technological Studies IPTS carries out research in the field of ageing with a focus on the role that Information and Communication Technologies ICT can play to promote Active Ageing This book attempts to reflect aspects of the contribution ICT can make to quality of life for older citizens in Europe Aging, Globalization and Inequality Jan Baars,Dale Dannefer,Chris Phillipson,Alan Walker,2016-11-03 This book is a major reassessment of work in the field of critical gerontology providing a comprehensive survey of issues by a team of contributors drawn from Europe and North America The book focuses on the variety of ways in which age and ageing are socially constructed and the extent to which growing old is being transformed through processes associated with globalisation The collection offers a range of alternative views and visions about the nature of social ageing making a major contribution to theory building within the discipline of gerontology The different sections of the book give an overview of the key issues and concerns underlying the development of critical gerontology These include first the impact of globalisation and of multinational organizations and agencies on the lives of older people second the factors contributing to the social construction of later life and third issues associated with diversity and inequality in old age arising through the effects of cumulative advantage and disadvantage over the life course These different themes are analysed using a variety of theoretical perspectives drawn from sociology social policy political science and social anthropology Aging Globalization and Inequality brings together key contributors to critical perspectives on aging and is unique in the range of themes and concerns covered in a single volume The study moves forward an important area of debate in studies of aging and thus provides the basis for a new type of critical gerontology relevant to the twenty first century

Growing Older in World Cities Michael K. Gusmano, 2006 Population aging often provokes fears of impending social security deficits uncontrollable medical expenditures and transformations in living arrangements but public policy could also stimulate social innovations These issues are typically studied at the national level yet they must be resolved where most people live in diverse neighborhoods in cities New York London Paris and Tokyo are the four largest cities among the wealthiest most developed nations of the world The essays commissioned for this volume compare what it is like to grow older in these cities with respect to health care quality of life housing and long term care The contributors look beyond aggregate national data to highlight the importance of how local authorities implement policies

Transitions and the Lifecourse Amanda Grenier, 2012 This book offers a unique perspective on ideas about late life as expressed in social policy and socio cultural constructs of age with lived experience

Dramatic Global Population Growth Embraces the Growing Older Population Edward A McKinney, 2018-11-16 The world is witnessing a dramatic demographic population growth explosion across all age groups that had its beginning around the early 1800s when the first billion people in population was recorded Most importantly has been an increasing growth in the older population Does population aging matter in the twenty first century Yes it matters because as research has pointed out the increasing older population globally will have a significant impact on all essential societal systems the family pensions and retirement and financial institutions as well as medical health and social systems This growth explosion or phenomenon will affect all continents countries and regions regardless of economic political and military power Causative factors for this global growth in population have come about primarily as a result of medical advances innovations agricultural development and the industrial revolution especially the development of railways seaways and highways A major emphasis of the book focuses on several very important factors the growing older population as aforementioned especially its impact on all of essential societal systems and the subject of ageism Ageism becomes extremely important considering that the growing older population the silver tsunami represents the new majority This new majority will no longer be ignored Gerontologists for years have attempted to call attention to the fact Expectations for old people are based on negative age stereotypes Members of American society generally expect and even encourage the aged to be asexual intellectually rigid unproductive ineffective and disengaged Seniors are supposed to stay out of the way sit in their rocking chairs and enjoy the golden years They are expected to be inactive invisible but happy Levin J and Levin W Ageism Prejudice and Discrimination Against the Elderly California Wadsworth Publishing 1941 pp 97 98 Speaking of being ignored why aren't more members of the older population involved at the decision making tables in shaping a society for all ages After all they would bring years of experiences skills knowledge and values for creating a society for all ages in the twenty first century with justice and human rights for all Currently there is a global movement with a goal of the eradication of ageism in all of its forms Some will recall from several decades ago the Grey Panther Movement in America with a similar mission of the eradication of all injustices at the time being experienced by the older population The current movement says The time is now not later One major social injustice being experienced by the growing old population globally is the lack of income security in old age including the lack of access to other essential services such as medical health and social including long term care More than 50 percent 51 percent of older persons globally do not have basic income security or a social pension in retirement A more alarming statistic is that in Sub Saharan Africa forty seven countries eight two percent 82.5 of retirees do not have a social pension Yes for the older population the new majority the time is now for correcting the aforementioned injustices Maybe what is needed is a human seismic force comprising the new majority to initiate a social movement with a goal of the eradication of all forms of ageism and ensuring that the growing older population will live in dignity and respect in later life including social protection pensions Growing Older and Wiser Nathan Billig, 1993-01-01 Older adults are more diverse biologically socially and psychologically than any other age group This guide to understanding the mental health of older people reveals how to cope with the normal aging process and see its potentially positive aspects while dealing with its problems Ageing in Society John Bond, Sheila M Peace, Freya Dittmann-Kohli, Gerben Westerhof, 2007-02-22 Ageing in Society brings forth exciting new questions fresh perspectives and a necessary critical approach to key issues this is indeed an authoritative introduction The authors not only have made significant contributions to gerontology but offer the reader considerations for what could be not just what is the design of old age in society The book will inform students in ways that so many texts in the area satisfied with comfortable bromides do not Jaber Gubrium Editor of Journal of Aging Studies University of Missouri Columbia This completely revised Third Edition of Ageing in Society presents one of the most comprehensive pictures of ageing today Emphasising the dual processes of ageing societies and the experience of ageing the book offers the reader student or researcher alike cogent discussions of the most up to date perspectives and evidence available The contributors are all leading experts in their fields comprising a range of important disciplines as they apply to ageing Ageing in Society is a cutting edge text on one of the most important subjects facing the modern world a must for all students of ageing Mike Bury Emeritus Professor of Sociology University of London The Third Edition of the comprehensive textbook Ageing in Society extends its scope to include continental Europe allowing broader as well as deeper insights into recent trends in gerontology Gerontologists and practitioners are urged not to stop reading before they have reached the insightful last chapter Ageing into the future Professor Dorly Deeg Editor in Chief European Journal of Ageing The Third Edition of this popular and widely used text provides a comprehensive introduction to the study of ageing exploring the key theories concepts and methods which the behavioural and social sciences contribute to the subject Thoroughly revised and updated Ageing in Society reflects new trends in gerontology incorporating recent developments in theory and research as well as major international and interdisciplinary perspectives A new chapter on cognitive ageing has been added and key themes such as social protection retirement health and illness and cultural images of old age are also critically examined Ageing in Society was developed by the British Society of Gerontology to fulfil the need for an authoritative introduction to social gerontology As such it is an ideal resource for students and lecturers in the social and behavioural sciences as well as for students and practitioners in health and social care

The Symbolism of Globalization, Development, and Aging Steven L. Arxer, John W. Murphy, 2012-09-14 This book looks at the symbolic side of globalization development and aging Many of the dimensions that are discussed represent updates of past debates but some are entirely new In particular globalization is accompanied by subtle social imagery that profoundly shapes the way institutions and identities are imagined The process of aging and persons sense of identity is no exception The underlying assumptions that pervade globalization inform how critical dimensions of aging are discussed and institutionalized The application of marketplace imagery for example may impact attempts for holism in how aging is studied and the prospects for human agency during the aging process This book offers a special look into how temporality technology normativity and empiricism structure the symbolic side of globalization and influence dominant images of the aging process Current debates about globalization and aging are expanded by helping readers see the social imagery that is both subtly behind globalization and at the forefront of shaping the aging experience

The SAGE Handbook of Social Gerontology Dale Dannefer, 2010-09-14 This volume reflects the emergence of ageing as a global concern including chapters by international scholars from Asia Australasia Europe and North America It provides a comprehensive overview of key trends and issues in the field drawing upon the full range of social science disciplines The Handbook is organized into five parts each exploring different aspects of research into social aspects of ageing Disciplinary overviews summaries of findings from key disciplinary areas within social gerontology Social relationships and social differences topics include social inequality gender and ageing the role of religion inter generational ties social networks and friendships in later life Individual characteristics and change in later life chapters in this section examine different aspects of individual aging including self and identity cognitive processes and biosocial interactions and their impact on physical and psychological aging Comparative perspectives and cultural innovations topics in this section include ageing and development ageing in a global context migration and cross cultural perspectives on grandparenthood Policy issues The final section examines some of the main policy concerns affecting
