Evolutionary Medicine Martin Brüne,Wulf Schiefenhövel,2019-01-31 Medicine is grounded in the natural sciences where biology stands out with regard to our understanding of human physiology and the conditions that cause dysfunction Ironically though evolutionary biology is a relatively disregarded field One reason for this omission is that evolution is deemed a slow process Indeed the macroanatomical features of our species have changed very little in the last 300 000 years A more detailed look however reveals that novel ecological contingencies partly in relation to cultural evolution have brought about subtle changes pertaining to metabolism and immunology including adaptations to dietary innovations as well as adaptations to the exposure to novel pathogens Rapid pathogen evolution and evolution of cancer cells cause major problems for the immune system Moreover many adaptations to past ecologies have actually turned into risk factors for somatic disease and psychological disorder in our modern worlds i e mismatch among which epidemics of autoimmune diseases cardiovascular diseases diabetes and obesity as well as several forms of cancer stand out One could add depression anxiety and other psychiatric conditions to the list The Oxford Handbook of Evolutionary Medicine is a compilation of up to date insights into the evolutionary history of ourselves as a species exploring how and why our evolved design may convey vulnerability to disease Written in a classic textbook style emphasising physiology and pathophysiology of all major organ systems the Oxford Handbook of Evolutionary Medicine is valuable reading for students as well as scholars in the fields of medicine biology anthropology and psychology Mammalian Toxicology of Insecticides Timothy C. Marrs,2012 Insects more similar in structure and physiology to mammals than plants or fungi Consequently insecticides are often of greater toxicity to mammals than herbicides This is particularly the case with neurotoxins However some insecticides are targeted at structures or hormonal systems specific to insects insect growth regulators chitin synthesis inhibitors so are less harmful but can still be mildly haematotoxic There are therefore issues specific to insecticides which do not occur with other pesticides hence the need for a book specifically on insecticide toxicology in mammals The book starts with general issues relating to the mammalian toxicity of insecticides including target non target specificity nomenclature and metabolism of insecticides It then goes on to discuss specific types of insecticide including organochlorines anticholinesterases pyrethrum and synthetic pyrethroids nicotine and the neonicotinoids insect growth regulators ecdysone agonists chitin synthesis inhibitors insecticides of natural origin biological insecticides and insecticides used in veterinary medicine Bibliography of
