Journalism Under Fire Stephen Gillers, 2018-08-07 A healthy democracy requires vigorous uncompromising investigative journalism. But today the free press faces a daunting set of challenges in the face of harsh criticism from powerful politicians and the threat of lawsuits from wealthy individuals. Media institutions are confronted by an uncertain financial future and stymied by a judicial philosophy that takes a narrow view of the protections that the Constitution affords reporters. In Journalism Under Fire, Stephen Gillers proposes a bold set of legal and policy changes that can overcome these obstacles to protect and support the work of journalists. Gillers argues that law and public policy must strengthen the freedom of the press, including protection for news gathering and confidential sources. He analyzes the First Amendment's Press Clause, drawing on older Supreme Court cases and recent dissenting opinions to argue for greater press freedom than the Supreme Court is today willing to recognize. Beyond the First Amendment, Journalism Under Fire advocates policies that facilitate and support the free press as a public good. Gillers proposes legislation to create a publicly funded National Endowment for Investigative Reporting, modeled on the national endowments for the arts and for the humanities; improvements to the Freedom of Information Act; and a national anti-SLAPP law, a statute to protect media organizations from frivolous lawsuits to help journalists and the press defend themselves in court. Gillers weaves together questions of journalistic practice, law, and policy into a program that can ensure a future for investigative reporting and its role in our democracy.

News under Fire Shuge Wei, 2017-09-05 News under Fire: China's Propaganda against Japan in the English Language Press 1928-1941 is the first comprehensive study of China's efforts to establish an effective international propaganda system during the Sino-Japanese crisis. It explores how the weak Nationalist government managed to use its limited resources to compete with Japan in the international press. By retrieving the long-neglected history of English-language papers published in the treaty ports, Shuge Wei reveals a multilayered and often chaotic English-language media environment in China and demonstrates its vital importance in defending China's sovereignty. Chinese bilingual elites played an important role in linking the party-led propaganda system with the treaty port press. Yet the development of propaganda institution did not foster the realization of individual ideals. As the Sino-Japanese crisis deepened, the war machine absorbed treaty port journalists into the militarized propaganda system and dashed their hopes of maintaining a liberal information order. A superbly researched and well-nuanced account of an overlooked topic, nationalist China's propaganda system and the multiple ways in which it intersected with the treaty port foreign language press of the time. Combining a wealth of archival and newspaper sources, it is destined to be on the must-read list of all who are interested in state propaganda and news dissemination in the Republican period. Julia C. Strauss, professor of Chinese politics, SOAS University of London. An absorbing and well-sourced study of KMT propaganda efforts to convince the United States to side with China rather than Japan in WWII. The study shows how the KMT, facing a massive power asymmetry compared to its Japanese opponent, managed to
