Cultural Critique and the Global Corporation Purnima Bose, Laura E. Lyons, 2010 This book examines the stories that corporations tell about themselves and explores the powerful influence of corporations in the transformation of cultural and social life Six case studies draw on CEO memoirs annual reports management manuals advertising campaigns and other sources to analyze the self representations and rhetorical maneuvers that corporations use to obscure the full extent of their power Images of corporate character and responsibility are intertwined with the changes in local economy politics and culture wrought by globalization and neoliberalism The contributors to this volume describe the effects of specific corporate practices on individuals and communities and how activists and academics are responding to labor and environmental abuses

One Crow Sorrow Lisa Martin-DeMoor, 2011-11-15 Lisa Martin DeMoor's debut collection of poetry One Crow Sorrow is both fearless and vulnerable an exploration of grief and loss that is rooted in life affirmation in deep attention to the natural world From a tangle of snowflakes in Saskatchewan to cell masses like dislodged icebergs the earth and body inform one another their cycles of life entwined The resulting poems explore grief as an extension of love and mortality as an extension of living Pain she writes is the opened bloom of beauty Invested Indifference Kara Granzow, 2020-06-15 In 2004

Amnesty International characterized Canadian society as indifferent to high rates of violence against Indigenous women and girls When the Canadian government took another twelve years to launch a national inquiry that indictment seemed true Invested Indifference offers a divergent perspective by examining practices during three different periods in the place we now call Edmonton juxtaposing early settler texts documents concerning the former Charles Camsell Indian Hospital and contemporary online police materials Kara Granzow reaches a startling conclusion that what we see as societal indifference doesn't come from an absence of feeling but from a deep rooted and affective investment in framing specific lives as disposable Granzow demonstrates that through mechanisms such as the law medicine and control of land and space violence against Indigenous peoples has become symbolically and politically ensconced in the social construction of Canadian nationhood

Out Here Tomasz Basiuk, Dominika Ferens, Tomasz Sikora, 2009-03-26 Out Here originates from a series of queer studies conferences which took place in Poland between 2002 and 2004 and includes essays an autobiographical account and two short stories Their authors are of eight nationalities Canadian Belgian Flemish German Hungarian Polish Spanish Ukrainian and U S American The academic papers represent a wide range of disciplines philosophy literature ethnography cultural and gender studies Some combine theoretical insights and critical analysis with suggestions for activism The short stories explore the formative moments of a queer adolescence in Anglophone Canada The eclecticism of Out Here reflects the cauldron like mix of concerns taken up locally in places considered peripheral in relation to the centers of queer theory in British and American academia It is out here or back then often within the context of rampant homophobia that queer methodologies prove especially productive Out here queer theory is alive and kicking Whether the authors write about sexual awakenings in Sri Lanka and Canada or heterosexism in contemporary Ukraine Hungary Belgian parks and 1970s Britain or racial exclusion in American gay bars or the veiled homophobia of Polish textbooks what connects them is the commitment to questioning the limitations placed on queer desire
