Education For Justice:

Values, Education, Emotional Learning, and the Quest for Justice in Education ,2024-07-15 In this book emotional teaching learning is explored as it is cultivated based on teachers and learners attraction to reasonableness and emotions and can give rise to a plausible form of decoloniality or decolonisation in and through education It is argued that when the latter manifests the democratic transformation of education might ensue Put differently decoloniality and or decolonisation of education is a substantive way to look at the democratisation and by implication transformation of education and schooling Readers are invited to engage with the meanings espoused throughout this book in the quest to cultivate a genuinely decolonial form of education in universities and schools where values education should be enacted reasonably and emotively in such educational institutions Teachers and learners cannot remain silent when oppressive and hegemonic forces of modernity continue to guide educational practices in institutions Contributors are Ahoud Alasfour N Dri Th r se Assi Lumumba Emiliano Bosio Jos Br s Juan Carlos Rodriguez Camacho Michael Cottrell Lucimar Dantas Amanda Fiore Carla Galego Maria Neves Gon alves Logan Govender Beatriz Koppe Sibonokuhle Ndlovu Phefumula Nyoni Adaobiagu Nnemdi Obiagu Peter Oyewole Theresa A Papp Martyn Reynolds Kabini Sanga V Sucharita Yusef Waghid and Emnet Tadesse Woldegiorgis

Campaigning for “Education for all” Antoni Verger, Mario Novelli, 2012-07-31 Civil society organizations have risen up the global education agenda since the international community adhered to the Education For All Action Framework in the World Education Forum that was held in Dakar in 2000. With the foundation of the Global Campaign for Education (GCE), civil society advocacy has sought to ensure that national governments, donors and international organisations make the necessary efforts to guarantee quality education for all children in the world. This book explores the strategies and actions as well as the challenges and impact of civil society organizations in the achievement of the Education For All international commitments. It does so by specifically focusing on seven national coalitions affiliated to the GCE: From Africa to Asia to Latin America, the book shows how these coalitions work and manage the differences between their different types of constituencies, explores their varied tactics and strategies and explains their successes and failures after more than a decade of coordinated action. The book also provides a concise and comprehensive synthesis of findings from the distinct case studies and offers a series of lessons learned that are vital for education practitioners, academics, activists and policy makers committed to more equitable and relevant education systems around the world. *People's Journey with God IV' 2007 Ed. The Palgrave International Handbook of Education for Citizenship and Social Justice Andrew Peterson, Robert Hattam, Michalinos Zembylas, James Arthur, 2016-10-20 This state of the art comprehensive Handbook is the first of its kind to fully explore the interconnections between social justice and education for citizenship on an international scale. Various educational policies and practices are predicated on notions of social justice yet each of these are explicitly or implicitly shaped by and in turn themselves shape particular notions of citizenship education for citizenship. Showcasing current research and theories from a diverse range of perspectives and including chapters from internationally renowned scholars, this Handbook seeks to examine the philosophical, psychological, social, political and cultural backgrounds, factors and contexts that are constitutive of contemporary research on education for citizenship and social justice and aims to analyse the transformative role of education regarding social justice issues. Split into two sections, the first contains chapters that explore central issues relating to social justice and their interconnections to education for citizenship whilst the second contains chapters that explore issues of education for citizenship and social justice within the contexts of particular nations from around the world. Global in its perspective and definitive in content, this one-stop volume will be an indispensable reference resource for a wide range of academics, students and researchers in the fields of Education, Sociology, Social Policy, Citizenship Studies and Political Science. Curriculum for Justice and Harmony Keith C. Barton, Li-Ching Ho, 2021-09-30 Barton and Ho present a global vision of social and civic education, one that reorients the field toward justice and harmony. Drawing from diverse philosophical and cultural traditions as well as empirical research, they introduce curriculum principles designed to motivate and inform students thoughtful and compassionate deliberation of public issues This book argues that the curriculum must prepare young people to take action on issues of justice and harmony societal ideals that are central to all communities Effective action depends on deliberation characterized by emotional commitment collaborative problem solving and engagement with diverse perspectives and forms of expression Deliberation for public action also requires knowledge of people s lives and experiences their insights into social issues and strategies for advancing justice and harmony These curriculum principles are illustrated through case studies of public housing food insecurity climate change gender bias public health exploitation of domestic workers incarceration of racialized minorities the impact of development and environmental change on Indigenous communities and other pressing global concerns For additional resources and related information please visit the authors website www.justiceandharmony.com Longing for Justice Jennifer S. Simpson, 2014-11-05 A timely and persuasive argument for Higher Education s obligations to our democratic society Longing for Justice combines personal narrative with critical analysis to make the case for educational practices that connect to questions of democracy justice and the common good Jennifer S Simpson begins with three questions First what is the nature of the social contract that universities have with public life Second how might this social contract shape undergraduate education And third how do specific approaches to knowledge and undergraduate education inform how students understand society In a bold challenge to conventional wisdom about Higher Education Simpson argues that today s neoliberal educational norms foreground abstract concepts and leave the complications of real life especially the intricacies of power unexamined Analysing modern teaching techniques including service learning and civic engagement Simpson concludes that for Higher Education to serve democracy it must strengthen students abilities to critically analyse social issues recognize and challenge social inequities and pursue justice Knowledge for Justice Halvorsen, Tor, Ibsen, Hilde, 2017-11-28 With the adoption of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and the Paris Agreement the purpose of development is being redefined in both social and environmental terms Despite pushback from conservative forces change is accelerating in many sectors To drive this transformation in ways that bring about social environmental and economic justice at a local national regional and global levels new knowledge and strong cross regional networks capable of foregrounding different realities needs and agendas will be essential In fact the power of knowledge matters today in ways that humanity has probably never experienced before placing an emphasis on the roles of research academics and universities In this collection an international diverse collection of scholars from the southern African and Nordic regions critically review the SDGs in relation to their own areas of expertise while placing the process of knowledge production in the spotlight In Part I the contributors provide a sober assessment of the obstacles that neo liberal hegemony presents to substantive transformation In Part Two lessons learned from North South research collaborations and academic exchanges are assessed in terms of their potential to offer real alternatives In Part III a set of case studies supply clear and nuanced human rights access critical pedagogy and equity into their teaching and curriculum 2 How are teacher educators preparing language teachers to teach for social justice human rights access and equity United Auto Workers, 1937 Educating for Justice Jeremy Cooper, Louise C. Trubek, 2018-12-17 Published in 1997 an edited collection of essays by a group of international public interest scholars and activists that examines the role and function of the law school in developing transmitting and understanding the use of law to bring about social change to the advantage of subordinated people The book traces this influence from the early days of the law school and its induction of legal principles and client responsibilities through training for practices in a variety of settings including teaching social action research client empowerment programs to the outer limits of law school in community legal education and awareness An important and pioneering series of international case studies Teaching History for Justice Christopher C. Martell, Kaylene M. Stevens, 2021 Learn how to enact justice oriented pedagogy and foster students critical engagement in today's history classroom Over the past 2 decades various scholars have rightfully argued that we need to teach students to think like a historian or think like a democratic citizen In this book the authors advocate for cultivating activist thinking in the history classroom Teachers can use Teaching History for Justice to show students how activism was used in the past to seek justice how past social movements connect to the present and how democratic tools can be used to change society The first section examines the theoretical and research foundation for thinking like an activist and outlines three related pedagogical concepts social inquiry critical multiculturalism and transformative democratic citizenship The second section presents vignettes based on the authors studies of elementary middle and high school history teachers who engage in justice oriented teaching practices Book Features Outlines key components of justice oriented history pedagogy for the history and social studies K 12 classroom Advocates for students to develop thinking like an activist in their approach to studying the past Contains research based vignettes of four imagined teachers providing examples of what teaching history for justice can look like in practice Includes descriptions of typical units of study in the discipline of history and how they can be reimaged to help students learn about movements and social change Teaching For Justice Kathleen Maa Weigert, Robin J. Crews, 2023-07-03 Tenth in the Service Learning in the Disciplines Series this book shows how both peace studies and service learning have been developing new ideas of how social learning takes place as a community process in conflict situations and what the dynamics of peace building are The process has created a new niche in academia for preparing students to become social change agents The enthusiasm of the contributors in this book gives the reader a new vision of what is possible on college campuses in community based peace and service learning at a time when there is a critical need for peace building skills Philosophical Foundations for Moral Education and Character Development George F. McLean, Frederick Edward Ellrod, 1992 Justice, Education, and the World of Today Inga Bostad, Marianna Papastephanou, Torill Strand, 2023-05-04 This edited book challenges the limits of current educational philosophical discourse and argues for a restored normativisation of education through a powerful notion of justice Moving beyond conventional paradigms of how justice and education relate the book rethinks the promotion of justice in for and through education in its current state Chapters combine international and diverse philosophical perspectives with a focus on contemporary issues such as climate change the COVID 19 pandemic racism and migrant crises Divided into three distinct parts the book explores the ontological and socio political grounds underlying our notions of education and justice and offers self reflective meta critique on education philosophers tendency of promoting and upholding orthodox visions and missions Ultimately the book offers contemporary and innovative philosophical reflections on the link between justice and education and enriches the discourse through a multi perspectival and sensitive exploration of the topic It will be of great interest to scholars researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of philosophy of education education policy and politics education studies and social justice The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license Funded by University of Oslo

Teacher for Justice is a major contribution to the history of the women's movement working class activism and Australian political internationalism But it is more than this By focusing on the life of Lucy Woodcock an unrecognised and under researched figure this book rewrites the history of twentieth century Australia from the perspective of an activist who challenged conventions to fight for gender race and class equality exploring the complex and multi layered intersections of these aspects It explores Woodcock's personal relationships and the circles she mixed in and the friendships she forged as well as the conventions she challenged as a single woman in possibly a same sex relationship The book makes a key contribution to the history of progressive education and the experience of women teachers Above all it charts the life of a transnational figure who made connections globally and in particular with refugees and with women in India and the Asian region It is a detailed thoroughly researched and richly textured history which places Woodcock within the context of the times in which she lived Joy Damousi Professor of History University of Melbourne Meet Lucy Woodcock a complex undaunted woman in a tough and changing world From her role as a public school principal in Depression and wartime to her union and feminist organising to her transnational engagements for peace this clear and thoughtful book brings to life forgotten forms of activism It's the gripping story of how Lucy navigated the minefields of gender class race and coloniality to change her world Raewyn Connell Professor Emerita University of Sydney Just over a century ago the last of the pupil teachers Lucy Woodcock co founded the NSW Teachers Federation So many of the principles and traditions that underpin our union today can be traced back to the lifelong work of Lucy Woodcock She fought for the industrial rights of teachers deep in the knowledge of the broader social and economic context in which she lived and worked Too often the role of working class women whose influence is profound is ignored This biography installs Lucy Woodcock into her rightful place as pivotal player in the history of twentieth century Australia Maurie Mulheron President NSW Teachers Federation A
