Fetish Recognition Revolution:

Fetish, Recognition, Revolution James T. Siegel, 1997 This book concerns the role of language in the Indonesian revolution James Siegel an anthropologist with long experience in various parts of that country traces the beginnings of the Indonesian revolution which occurred from 1945 through 1949 and which ended Dutch colonial rule to the last part of the nineteenth century At that time the peoples of the Dutch East Indies began to translate literature from most places in the world Siegel discovers in that moment a force within communication more important than the specific messages it conveyed The subsequent containment of this linguistic force he calls the fetish of modernity which like other fetishes was thought to be able to compel events Here the event is the recognition of the bearer of the fetish as a person of the modern world The taming of this force in Indonesian nationalism and the continuation of its wild form in the revolution are the major subjects of the book Its material is literature from Indonesian and Dutch as well as first person accounts of the revolution The Returns of Fetishism Charles de Brosses, 2017-07-26 For more than 250 years Charles de Brosses's term fetishism has exerted great influence over our most ambitious thinkers Used as an alternative to magic but nonetheless expressing the material force of magical thought de Brosses's term has proved indispensable to thinkers as diverse as Kant Hegel Marx Freud Lacan Baudrillard and Derrida With this book Daniel H Leonard offers the first fully annotated English translation of the text that started it all On the Worship of Fetish Gods and Rosalind C Morris offers incisive commentary that helps modern readers better understand it and its legacy The product of de Brosses's autodidactic curiosity and idiosyncratic theories of language On the Worship of Fetish Gods is an enigmatic text that is often difficult for contemporary audiences to assess In a thorough introduction to the text Leonard situates de Brosses's work within the cultural and intellectual milieu of its time Then Morris traces the concept of fetishism through its extraordinary permutations as it was picked up and transformed by the fields of philosophy comparative religion political economy psychoanalysis and anthropology Ultimately she breaks new ground moving into and beyond recent studies by thinkers such as William Pietz Hartmut Böhme and Alfonso Iacono through illuminating new discussions on topics ranging from translation issues to Africanity and the new materialisms The Passage of Literature Christopher GoGwilt, 2011-01-27 Through a set of comparative studies of the fiction of Joseph Conrad Jean Rhys and Pramodya Ananta Toer The Passage of Literature explains the interrelation between English Creole and Indonesian formations of literary modernism arguing that each passage of literature is the site of contest between competing genealogies of culture Colonialism and the Modern World Gregory Blue, Martin Bunton, Ralph C. Croizier, Crioizier, Ralph, 2016-07-08 This collection fills the need for a resource that adequately conceptualizes the place of non European histories in the larger narrative of world history These essays were selected with special emphasis on their comparative outlook The chapters range from the British Empire India Egypt Palestine to Indonesia French colonialism Brittany and Algeria South Africa Fiji and Japanese imperialism Within the chapters key concepts such as gender land and law and regimes of knowledge are considered The Calls of Islam Emilio Spadola, 2013-12-25 A theoretically sophisticated reading of the mediation of social and spiritual relationships in Fez Gregory Starrett University of North Carolina at Charlotte The sacred calls that summon believers are the focus of this study of religion and power in Fez Morocco Focusing on how dissemination of the call through mass media has transformed understandings of piety and authority Emilio Spadola details the new importance of once marginal Sufi practices such as spirit trance and exorcism for ordinary believers the state and Islamist movements The Calls of Islam offers new ethnographic perspectives on ritual performance and media in the Muslim world A superb demonstration of anthropological analysis at its best A major contribution to our understanding of the complicated nexus of religion nationalism and technology Charles Hirschkind author of The Feeling of History An instructive contribution to the literature on Morocco's socio cultural and political idiosyncrasies Review of Middle East Studies Spadola's dense but short study manages admirably well to deal with a complex topic skillfully balancing ethnographic and analytic elements American Ethnologist The tension between social classes is subtly drawn out throughout this exemplary book and Spadola also does a magnificent job tying local national and transnational contexts together Although writing about a very specific place and time he manages to capture post millennial anxieties about Islam and belonging that are far reaching in their scope Contemporary Islam Spadola's book is theoretically sophisticated skillfully constructed and rich in detail Journal of Religion

Conspiracy/Theory Joseph Masco, Lisa Wedeen, 2023-12-01 In an era of intensified information warfare ranging from global disinformation campaigns to individual attention hacks what are the compelling terms for political judgment How are we to build the knowledge needed to recognize and address important forms of harm when critical information is either not to be trusted or kept hidden Rather than approach conspiratorial narrative as an irrational response to an obviously decipherable reality Conspiracy Theory identifies important affinities between conspiracy theory and critical theory It recognizes the motivation people have in their capacities as experts theorists and ordinary citizens to search for patterns in events to uncover what is covert and attend to dimensions of life that might be hiding in plain sight If it seems strange that so many find themselves living in incommensurable disorienting realities the multidisciplinary contributors to Conspiracy Theory explore how and why that came to be Across history and geography contributors inquire into the affects and imaginaries of political mobilization tracking counterrevolutionary projects while acknowledging collective futures that demand conspiratorial engagement Contributors Nadia Abu El Haj Hussein Ali Agrama Kathleen Belew Elizabeth Anne Davis Joseph Dumit Faith Hillis Lochlann Jain Demetra Kasimis Susan Lepselter Darryl Li Louisa Lombard Joseph Masco Robert Meister Timothy Melley Rosalind C Morris George Shulman Lisa Wedeen

State of Fear Joshua Barker, 2024-08-02 In State of Fear Joshua Barker reckons with how fear and violence are produced and reproduced through everyday practices of rule and control Examining the ethnographic and historical genealogies of Indonesian policing Barker focuses on the city of Bandung which is permeated by anxieties about security in spite of the fact that it is a relatively safe city according to the data Drawing from his fieldwork there during the latter years of the authoritarian New Order regime Barker traces the complex relationship between the state and vigilante groups like neighborhood watch patrols and street gangs Through interviews with police officers vigilantes and street level toughs he uncovers a struggle between two visions of social control that continues to animate policing in Indonesia the modern bureaucratic approach favored by the state and a territorial approach that divides the city into fiefdoms overseen by charismatic individuals of authority Synthesizing insights from in depth ethnographic historical and theoretical work Barker reveals how authoritarianism can take root not just from the top down but also from the bottom up

The Floracrats Andrew Goss, 2011-02-01 Situated along the line that divides the rich ecologies of Asia and Australia the Indonesian archipelago is a hotbed for scientific exploration and scientists from around the world have made key discoveries there But why do the names of Indonesia's own scientists rarely appear in the annals of scientific history In The Floracrats Andrew Goss examines the professional lives of Indonesian naturalists and biologists to show what happens to science when a powerful state becomes its greatest and indeed only patron With only one purse to pay for research Indonesia's scientists followed a state agenda focused mainly on exploiting the country's most valuable natural resources above all its major export crops quinine sugar coffee tea rubber and indigo The result was a class of botanic bureaucrats that Goss dubs the floracrats Drawing on archives and oral histories he shows how these scientists strove for the Enlightenment ideal of objective universal and useful knowledge even as they betrayed that ideal by failing to share scientific knowledge with the general public With each chapter Goss details the phases of power and the personalities in Indonesia that have struggled with this dilemma from the early colonial era through independence to the modern Indonesian state Goss shows just how limiting dependence on an all powerful state can be for a scientific community no matter how idealistic its individual scientists may be

Paradoxes of the Popular Nusrat Sabina Chowdhury, 2019-08-27 Few places are as politically precarious as Bangladesh even fewer as crowded Its 57 000 or so square miles are some of the world s most inhabited Often described as a definitive case of the bankruptcy of postcolonial governance it is also one of the poorest among the most densely populated nations In spite of an overriding anxiety of exhaustion there are a few important caveats to the familiar feelings of despair a growing economy and an uneven yet robust nationalist sentiment which together generate revealing paradoxes In this book Nusrat Sabina Chowdhury offers insight into what she calls the paradoxes of the popular or the constitutive contradictions of popular politics The focus here is on mass protests long considered the primary medium of meaningful change in this part of the world Chowdhury writes provocatively about political life in Bangladesh in a rich ethnography that studies some of the most consequential protests of the last decade spanning both rural and urban Bangladesh By making the crowd its starting point and analytical locus this book tacks between multiple sites of public political gatherings and pays attention to the ephemeral and often accidental configurations of the crowd Ultimately Chowdhury makes an original case for the crowd as a defining feature and a foundational force of democratic practices in South Asia and beyond

Underground Asia Tim Harper, 2021-01-12 Tim Harper shows on an epic scale how Asia s anti imperial movements depended on global revolutionary networks and he traces the lingering power of internationalist utopian dreams in the postcolonial world

The Other Kuala Lumpur Yeoh Seng Guan, 2014-02-05 Kuala Lumpur like many Southeast Asian cities has changed very significantly in the last two or three decades expanding its size and modernising and globalising its built environment For many people these changes represent progress and development This book however focuses on the more marginalised residents of Kuala Lumpur Among others it considers street hawkers and vendors refugees the urban poor religious minorities and a sexuality rights group and explores how their everyday lives have been adversely affected by these recent changes The book shows how urban renewal the law and ethno religious nationalism can work against these groups in wanting to live and work in the capital city of Malaysia

Demanding Images Karen Strassler, 2020-03-20 The end of authoritarian rule in 1998 ushered in an exhilarating but unsettled period of democratization in Indonesia A more open political climate converged with a rapidly changing media landscape yielding a vibrant and volatile public sphere within which Indonesians grappled with the possibilities and limits of democracy amid entrenched corruption state violence and rising forms of intolerance In Demanding Images Karen Strassler theorizes image events as political processes in which publicly circulating images become the material ground of struggles over the nation's past present and future. Considering photographs, posters, contemporary art, graffiti, selfies, memes, and other visual media, she argues that people increasingly engage with politics through acts of making, circulating, manipulating, and scrutinizing images. Demanding Images is both a closely observed account of Indonesia's turbulent democratic transition and a globally salient analysis of the work of images in the era of digital media and neoliberal democracy. Strassler reveals politics today to be an unruly enterprise profoundly shaped by the affective and evidentiary force of images. The K-Effect Christopher GoGwilt, 2023-12-05. The K Effect shows how the roman alphabet has functioned as a standardizing global model for modern print culture. Investigating the history and ongoing effects of romanization, Christopher GoGwilt reads modernism in a global and comparative perspective through the works of Joseph Conrad and others. The book explores the ambiguous effect of romanized transliteration both in the service of colonization and as an instrument of decolonization. This simultaneously standardizing and destabilizing effect is abbreviated in the way the letter K indexes changing hierarchies in the relation between languages and scripts. The book traces this K effect through the linguistic work of transliteration and its aesthetic organization in transnational modernism. The book examines a variety of different cases of romanization: the historical shift from Arabic script to romanized print form in writing Malay; the politicization of language and script reforms across Russia and Central Europe; the role of Chinese debates about romanization in shaping global transformations in print media; and the place of romanization between ancient Sanskrit models of language and script and contemporary digital forms of coding. Each case study develops an analysis of Conrad's fiction read in comparison with such other writers as James Joyce, Lu Xun, Franz Kafka, and Pramodya Ananta Toer. The first sustained cultural study of romanization, The K Effect proposes an important new way to assess the multi-lingual and multi-script coordinates of modern print culture. In the Place of Origins Rosalind C. Morris, 2000. A sophisticated wide-ranging theoretical account of how spirit mediums mediate the Thai experience of capitalist modernity. Figures of Criminality in Indonesia, the Philippines, and Colonial Vietnam Vicente L. Rafael, 2018-05-31. A complex examination of criminality and the criminal as constructs and active presences in Southeast Asia. Contributors explore such themes as surveillance, incarceration, law, and custom, secrecy, and corruption. A fascinating study of power and subversion in the modern postcolonial nation-state. Contributors include Daniel S. Lev, Henk M. J. Maier, Rudolf Mrazek, James T. Siegel, and others. Proper Islamic Consumption Johan Fischer, 2008. The West has seen the rise of the organic movement. In the Muslim world, a similar halal movement is rapidly spreading. Malaysia is at the forefront of this new global phenomenon. Examining the powerful linkages between class, consumption, market relations, Islam, and the state in contemporary Malaysia, this is the first book to explore how Malaysia's emerging Malay middle class is constituted through consumer practices and Islamic revivalism. By exploring consumption practices in urban Malaysia, this book shows how diverse forms of Malay middle-class consumption of food, clothing, and cars, for example, are understood, practiced, and contested as a particular mode of modern Islamic practice It illustrates ways in which the issue of proper Islamic consumption for consumers the marketplace and the state in contemporary Malaysia evokes a whole range of contradictory Islamic visions lifestyles and debates articulating what Islam is or ought to be Performing the Nation Jörgen Hellman,2003 In sharp contrast to today s disorder was the apparent cohesion and stability of Indonesia during much of the New Order period 1965 1998 While Suharto s authoritarian rule was significant the regime s cultural policies also played their part in demonstrating that his regime created order throughout Indonesia not just through coercive means Ethnic religious and regional sentiments were to be channeled into art which was used to help develop a national Indonesian identity This theme is explored by this study which focuses on the efforts of a group of young art students based at the Bandung Academy of Performing Arts to revitalize traditional Longser theater ,
