A Few Dying Words Paula Gosling, 2017-12-14 The second compelling whodunit in the Blackwater Bay series from Paula Gosling author of Monkey Puzzle and winner of the CWA Golden Dagger Every year the normally peaceful ordinary citizens of Blackwater Bay celebrate Halloween with a carnival of madness laughter and practical jokes They call it the Howl and each town in the county competes for the wildest Howler of all For one person however the Howl means one thing murder Thirty years ago a killer struck Now under the cover of the carnival the killer has returned Or at least that's what Sheriff Matt Gabriel thinks Everyone else thinks he's crazy Suspicion and resentment surround him as he searches urgently for the one who killed once twice and may kill again This is a writer who always entertains Sunday Telegraph A Few Dying Words is the second book in the Blackwater Bay series The series continues with The Dead of Winter *Some Dying Words. Questions why such linguistic diversity exists in the first place and how can we can best respond to the challenge of recording and documenting these fragile oral traditions while they are still with us Written by one of the leading figures in language documentation and draws on a wealth of vivid examples from his own field experience Brings conceptual issues vividly to life by weaving in portraits of individual last speakers and anecdotes about linguists and their discoveries Last Words Karl S. Guthke,1992-10-30 Whether Goethe actually cried More light on his deathbed or whether Conrad Hilton checked out of this world after uttering Leave the shower curtain on the inside of the tub last words regardless of authenticity have long captured the imagination of Western society In this playfully serious investigation based on factual accounts anecdotes literary works and films Karl Guthke explores the cultural importance of those words spoken at the border between this world and the next The exit lines of both famous and ordinary people embody for us a sense of drama and truthfulness and reveal much about our thoughts on living and dying Why this interest in last words Presenting statements from such figures as Socrates Nathan Hale Marie Antoinette and Oscar Wilde I am dying as I have lived beyond my means Guthke examines our fascination in terms of our need for closure our desire for immortality and our attraction to the mystique of death scenes The author considers both authentic and invented final statements as he looks at the formation of symbols and legends and their function in our culture Last words handed down from generation to generation like cultural heirlooms have a good chance of surviving in our collective memory They are shown to epitomize a life convey a sense of irony or play to an audience as in the case of the assassinated Mexican revolutionary Pancho Villa who is said to have died imploring journalists Don t let it end like this Tell them I said something Originally published in 1992 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Some Last Words of the Rev.
