Fields Of The Lord Animism Christian Minorities And State Development In Indonesia:

Fields of the Lord Lorraine V. Aragon, 2000-06-01 Religious and ethnic violence between Indonesia's Muslims and Christians escalated dramatically just before and after President Suharto resigned in 1998. In this first major ethnographic study of Christianization in Indonesia, Aragon delineates colonial and postcolonial circumstances contributing to the dynamics of these contemporary conflicts. Aragon's ethnography of Indonesian Christian minorities in Sulawesi combines a political economy of colonial missionization with a microanalysis of shifting religious ideology and practice. Fields of the Lord challenges much comparative religion scholarship by contending that religions like contemporary cultural groups be located in their spheres of interaction rather than as the abstracted cognitive and behavioral systems conceived by many adherents, modernist states, and Western scholars. Aragon's portrayal of near-tribal populations who characterize themselves as fanatic Christians asks the reader to rethink issues of Indonesian nationalism and modern development as they converged in President Suharto's late New Order state. Through its careful documentation of colonial missionary tactics, unexpected postcolonial upheavals, and contemporary Christian narratives, Fields of the Lord analyzes the historical and institutional links between state rule and individuals' religious choices. Beyond these contributions, this ethnography includes captivating stories of Salvation Army angels of the forest and nationally marginal but locally autonomous dry rice and coffee farmers. These Salvation Army soldiers make Protestantism work on their own ecological, moral, and political turf, maintaining their communities and ongoing religious concerns in the difficult terrain of the Central Sulawesi highlands. The Institutional

Origins of Communal Violence Yuhki Tajima, 2014-07-28 Why are transitions from authoritarian rule often marked by spikes in communal violence? Through examining Indonesia's recent transition to democracy, this book develops a novel theoretical explanation for this phenomenon that also accounts for why some communities are vulnerable to violence during such transitions while others are able to maintain order. Yuhki Tajima argues that repressive intervention by security forces in Indonesia during the authoritarian period rendered some communities dependent on the state to maintain intercommunal security, whereas communities with a more tenuous exposure to the state developed their own informal institutions to maintain security. As the coercive grip of the authoritarian regime loosened, communities that were more accustomed to state intervention were more vulnerable to spikes in communal violence until they developed informal institutions that were better adapted for less state intervention. To test the theory, Tajima employs extensive fieldwork in and rigorous statistical evidence from Indonesia as well as cross-national data. From Rebellion to Riots Jamie Seth Davidson, 2008

From Rebellion to Riots is a critical analysis of the roots of contemporary violence in one of Indonesia's most ethnically heterogeneous provinces, West Kalimantan. Since the late 1960s, this province has suffered periodic outbreaks of ethnic violence among its Dayak, Malay, Madurese, and ethnic Chinese populations. Citing evidence from his research, internal military documents, and ethnographic accounts, Jamie S. Davidson refutes popular explanations for these flare-ups. The recurrent violence has less to do with a clash of cultures the ills of New Order led development or indigenous marginalization than with the ongoing politicization of ethnic and indigenous identity in the region Looking at key historical moments markedly different in their particulars Davidson reveals the important links between ethnic violence and subnational politics In one case army officers in Soeharto's recently established New Order regime encouraged anti Chinese sentiments To move against communist inspired rebellion they recruited indigenous Dayaks to expunge tens of thousands of ethnic Chinese from interior towns and villages This counter insurgent bloodshed inadvertently initiated a series of clashes between Dayaks and Madurese another migrant community Driven by an indigenous empowerment movement and efforts by local elites to control benefits provided by decentralization and democratization these low intensity riots rose to immense proportions in the late 1990s From Rebellion to Riots demonstrates that the endemic violence in this vast region is not the inevitable outcome of its ethnic diversity and reveals that the initial impetus for collective bloodshed is not necessarily the same as the forces that sustain it A comprehensive case study Essential reading for students of the West Kalimantan violence Dave McRae Indonesia Fairies, Demons, and Nature Spirits Michael Ostling, 2017-11-23 This book examines the fairies demons and nature spirits haunting the margins of Christendom from late antique Egypt to early modern Scotland to contemporary Amazonia Contributions from anthropologists folklorists historians and religionists explore Christian strategies of encompassment and marginalization and the small gods undisciplined tendency to evade such efforts at exorcism Lurking in forest or fairy mound chuckling in dark corners of the home or of the demoniac's body the small gods both define and disturb the borders of a religion that is endlessly syncretistic and in endless active denial of its own syncretism The book will be of interest to students of folklore indigenous Christianity the history of science and comparative religion A History of Modern Indonesia Adrian Vickers, 2013-03-25 Since the Bali bombings of 2002 and the rise of political Islam Indonesia has frequently occupied media headlines Nevertheless the history of the fourth largest country on earth remains relatively unknown Adrian Vickers book first published in 2005 traces the history of an island country comprising some 240 million people from the colonial period through revolution and independence to the present Framed around the life story of Pramoedya Ananta Toer Indonesia's most famous and controversial novelist and playwright the book journeys through the social and cultural mores of Indonesian society focusing on the experiences of ordinary people In this new edition the author brings the story up to date revisiting his argument as to why Indonesia has yet to realise its potential as a democratic country He also examines the rise of fundamentalist Islam which has haunted Indonesia since the fall of Suharto Spiritual Economies Daromir Rudnyckyj, 2011-08-15 In Europe and North America Muslims are often represented in conflict with modernity but what could be more modern than motivational programs that represent Islamic practice as conducive to business success and personal growth Daromir Rudnyckyj's innovative and surprising book challenges widespread assumptions about contemporary Islam by showing how moderate Muslims in Southeast Asia are reinterpreting Islam not to reject modernity but to create a spiritual economy consisting of practices conducive to globalization Drawing on more than two years of research in Indonesia most of which took place at state owned Krakatau Steel Rudnyckyj shows how self styled spiritual reformers seek to enhance the Islamic piety of workers across Southeast Asia and beyond Deploying vivid description and a keen ethnographic sensibility Rudnyckyj depicts a program called Emotional and Spiritual Quotient ESQ training that reconfigures Islamic practice and history to make the religion compatible with principles for corporate success found in Euro American management texts self help manuals and life coaching sessions The prophet Muhammad is represented as a model for a corporate CEO and the five pillars of Islam as directives for self discipline personal responsibility and achieving win win solutions Spiritual Economies reveals how capitalism and religion are converging in Indonesia and other parts of the developing and developed world Rudnyckyj offers an alternative to the commonly held view that religious practice serves as a refuge from or means of resistance against modernization and neoliberalism Moreover his innovative approach charts new avenues for future research on globalization religion and the predicaments of modern life

Durga's Mosque Stephen Headley,2004 Stephen Headley s new book explores contemporary religious change in the Surakarta region of Central Java In his analysis of the Durga ritual complex the author sheds light on one of the most unusual court traditions to have survived in an era of deepening Islamisation

The Anthropology of Christianity Fenella Cannell,2006-11-07 Ethnographies exploring the vastly different ways that Christianity is experienced and understood by different groups around the world

Renegotiating Boundaries ,2014-04-09 For decades almost the only social scientists who visited Indonesia s provinces were anthropologists Anybody interested in politics or economics spent most of their time in Jakarta where the action was Our view of the world s fourth largest country threatened to become simplistic lacking that essential graininess Then in 1998 Indonesia was plunged into a crisis that could not be understood with simplistic tools After 32 years of enforced stability the New Order was at an end Things began to happen in the provinces that no one was prepared for Democratization was one decentralization another Ethnic and religious identities emerged that had lain buried under the blanket of the New Order s modernizing ideology Unfamiliar sometimes violent forms of political competition and of rentseeking came to light Decentralization was often connected with the neo liberal desire to reduce state powers and make room for free trade and democracy To what extent were the goals of good governance and a stronger civil society achieved How much of the process was captured by regional elites to increase their own powers Amidst the new identity politics what has happened to citizenship These are among the central questions addressed in this book This volume is the result of a two year research project at KITLV It brings together an international group of 24 scholars mainly from Indonesia and the Netherlands but also from the United States Australia Germany Canada and Portugal

The Limits of Meaning Matthew Engelke,Matt Tomlinson,2006-08-01 Too often anthropological accounts of ritual leave readers with the impression that everything goes smoothly that rituals are meaningful events But what happens when rituals fail or when they seem meaningless Drawing on research in the anthropology of Christianity from around the globe the authors in this volume suggest that in order to analyze meaning productively we need to consider its limits This collection is a welcome new addition to the anthropology of religion offering fresh debates on a classic topic and drawing attention to meaning in a way that other volumes have for key terms like culture and fieldwork

Ethics of Belonging Erica M. Larson, 2023-11-30 The city of Manado and province of North Sulawesi have built a public identity based on religious harmony claiming to successfully model tolerance and inter religious relations for the rest of Indonesia Yet in discourses and practices relevant to everyday interactions in schools and political debates in the public sphere two primary contested frames for belonging emerge in tension with one another On the one hand aspirational coexistence recognizes a common goal of working toward religious harmony and inclusive belonging On the other hand majoritarian coexistence in which the legitimacy of religious minorities is understood as guaranteed exclusively by the goodwill of the Protestant majority also emerges in discourses and practices of coexistence These two agonistic frames of coexistence stem from both a real pride at having staved off ethno religious violence that plagued surrounding regions at the turn of the twenty first century as well as a concern about whether the area will maintain a Christian majority in the future Based on ethnographic research in Manado North Sulawesi a Protestant majority region of Indonesia Ethics of Belonging investigates the dynamics of ethical deliberation about religious coexistence In this analysis schools are understood as central sites for exchange about the ethics and politics of belonging in the nation The author draws on in depth fieldwork at three secondary schools a public high school private Catholic boarding school and public madrasah an inter religious exchange program among university students and societal debates about religion and belonging Each of the schools promotes a distinct method to addressing diversity and a particular understanding of the relationship between religious and civic values Larson s research demonstrates how ethical frameworks for approaching religious difference are channeled and negotiated through educational institutions linking up with their broader political context and debates in the community This resource argues for a consideration of ethical reflection as a fundamentally pedagogical process with important ramifications beyond the immediate environment The focus on educational institutions provides a critical connection between interpersonal and public ethical deliberation elucidating the entanglements of ethics and politics and their manifestation across different societal scales

Dreams Made Small Jenny Munro, 2018-05-22 For the last five decades the Dani of the central highlands of West Papua along with other Papuans have struggled with the oppressive conditions of Indonesian rule Formal education holds the promise of escape from stigmatization and violence Dreams Made Small offers an in depth ethnographic look at journeys of education among young Dani men and women asking us to think differently about education as a trajectory for transformation and belonging and ultimately revealing how dreams of equality are shaped and reshaped in the face of multiple constraints

Laughing at Leviathan Danilyn Rutherford, 2022-12-22 For West Papua and its people the promise of sovereignty has never been realized despite a long and fraught struggle for independence from Indonesia In

Laughing at Leviathan Danilyn Rutherford examines this struggle through a series of interlocking essays that drive at the core meaning of sovereignty itself how it is fueled formed and even thwarted by pivotal but often overlooked players those that make up an audience Whether these players are citizens missionaries competing governmental powers nongovernmental organizations or the international community at large Rutherford shows how a complex interplay of various observers is key to the establishment and understanding of the sovereign nation state Drawing on a wide array of sources from YouTube videos to Dutch propaganda to her own fieldwork observations Rutherford draws the history of Indonesia empire and postcolonial nation building into a powerful examination of performance and power Ultimately she revises Thomas Hobbes painting a picture of the Leviathan not as a coherent body but a fragmented one distributed across a wide range of both real and imagined spectators In doing so she offers an important new approach to the understanding of political struggle

Java, Indonesia and Islam Mark Woodward, 2010-10-28 Mark R Woodward's Islam in Java Normative Piety and Mysticism in the Sultanate of Yogyakarta 1989 was one of the most important work on Indonesian Islam of the era This new volume Java Indonesia and Islam builds on the earlier study but also goes beyond it in important ways Written on the basis of Woodward's thirty years of research on Javanese Islam in a Yogyakarta south central Java setting the book presents a much needed collection of essays concerning Javanese Islamic texts ritual sacred space situated in Javanese and Indonesian political contexts With a number of entirely new essays as well as significantly revised versions of essays this book is a valuable contribution to the academic community by an eminent anthropologist and key authority on Islamic religion and culture in Java

Reconciling Indonesia Birgit Bräuchler, 2009-09-10 Indonesia has been torn by massive internal conflicts over the last decade The absence of functioning national tools of reconciliation and the often limited success of an internationally established reconciliation toolkit of truth commissions and law enforcement justice and human rights forgiveness and amnesty requires us to interrogate commonly held notions of reconciliation and transitional justice Reconciling Indonesia fills two major gaps in the literature on Indonesia and peace and conflict studies more generally the neglect of grassroots agency for peace and the often overlooked collective and cultural dimension of reconciliation Bringing together scholars from all over the world this volume draws upon multi disciplinary theoretical perspectives extensive fieldwork and activists experience and explores the ways in which reconciliation connects with issues like civil society gender religion tradition culture education history displacement and performance It covers different areas of Indonesia from Aceh in the West to the Moluccas in the East and deals with a broad variety of conflicts and violence such as communal violence terrorist attacks secessionist conflicts localized small scale conflicts and the mass violence of 1965-66 Reconciling Indonesia offers new understandings of grassroots or bottom up reconciliation approaches and thus goes beyond prevalent political and legal approaches to reconciliation Reconciling Indonesia is important reading for scholars activists and anyone interested in current developments in Indonesia and the broader region and in new approaches to peace and conflict research Culture and Customs of Indonesia Jill Forshee, 2006-09-30 Indonesia comprises more than 17 000 islands stretching on either side of the equator for nearly 4 000 miles and hundreds of ethnic groups with almost 300 languages spoken This book reveals the remarkable social religious and geographical differences that exist from island to island Because of such variety Indonesia defies simple categorizations Europeans have produced most of the written histories of this region although Indonesians have contributed much Culture and Customs of Indonesia reveals something of local people s ideas of their identities and pasts as well Indonesian cultures covered include those of forest dwelling hunters rice growers fisherfolk village artisans urban office and factory workers intellectuals artists wealthy industrialists street vendors and homeless people Readers will learn about the amazing range of belief systems material culture and arts that enliven Indonesia Forshee describes the majestic temples complex poetry and literature lavish theatrical performances and splendid visual arts and more that have distinguished Indonesia for centuries and continue into the present Indonesians are shown to be constantly reinterpreting and refining their cultures in the modern world

Remaking Muslim Politics Robert W. Hefner, 2009-01-10 There is a struggle for the hearts and minds of Muslims unfolding across the Islamic world The conflict pits Muslims who support pluralism and democracy against others who insist such institutions are antithetical to Islam With some 1.3 billion people worldwide professing Islam the outcome of this contest is sure to be one of the defining political events of the twenty first century Bringing together twelve engaging essays by leading specialists focusing on individual countries this pioneering book examines the social origins of civil democratic Islam its long term prospects its implications for the West and its lessons for our understanding of religion and politics in modern times Although depicted by its opponents as the product of political ideas made in the West civil democratic Islam represents an indigenous politics that seeks to build a distinctive Islamic modernity In countries like Turkey Iran Malaysia and Indonesia it has become a major political force Elsewhere its influence is apparent in efforts to devise Islamic grounds for women s rights religious tolerance and democratic citizenship Everywhere it has generated fierce resistance from religious conservatives Examining this high stakes clash Remaking Muslim Politics breaks new ground in the comparative study of Islam and democracy The contributors are Bahman Baktiari Thomas Barfield John R Bowen Dale F Eickelman Robert W Hefner Peter Mandaville Augustus Richard Norton Gwenn Okruhlik Michael G Peletz Diane Singerman Jenny B White and Muhammad Qasim Zaman

The Art of Clothing: A Pacific Experience Susan Kuchler, Graeme Were, 2014-05-22 The Art of Clothing A Pacific Experience is a collection of richly textured and tremendously engaging empirical studies of cloth and clothing in colonial and post colonial Pacific contexts By challenging readers to reconsider the very nature of the materiality of clothing the editors productively situate this volume at the intersection of a number of ongoing interdisciplinary projects that are coalescing around an interest in cloth and clothing The book as a whole speaks lucidly to issues of current concern in a wide range of academic fields including cultural studies material culture Pacific history art history history of religions and museum studies
