Fieldwork Dilemmas Hermine G. De Soto, Nora Dudwick, 2000      Recalling Fieldwork Raluca Mateoc, François Rüegg, 2020-01-01 The volume addresses reflections on the social conditions in which anthropological research in Eastern European countries under and after socialism was conducted Methodological commonalities and differences for anthropologists coming from specific academic traditions and political contexts are revealed through fresh reflections on the everyday fieldwork Institutional settings of the 70s and 80s challenges in entering the field or engagement with the needs and desires of the studied subjects come out of this web of reflections While some authors recall fieldwork based in single countries others recall journeys though multi sited ethnographies Raluca Mateoc is postdoctoral researcher in Social Anthropology at the University of Fribourg and at the University of Geneva Fran ois R egg is Emeritus Professor of the Institute of Social Anthropology of the University of Fribourg      Postsocialism C.M. Hann, 2003-09 Social scientist did not predict the collapse of the socialist system in 1989 91 Their attempts to explain postsocialism have not been comprehensive This book examines why for the first time from an anthropological standpoint      Migration and Identity in Central Asia Rano Turaeva, 2015-11-19 This book is an ethnographic and sociolinguistic study of Uzbek migrants in the capital city of Uzbekistan The ethnographic details of the book represent post Soviet urban realities on the ground where various forms of belonging clash and kinship ties are reinforced within social safety networks Theoretically it challenges the existing theories of identity and identification which often considered the relations between We and Them taking the We for granted The book offers in depth insights into the communication strategies of migrants the formation of collective consciousness and the relations within the We domain Constructed around contradictions regarding Uzbek identity and how various groups relate to one another as different ethnic groups the theoretical argument of the book is built through such methods and analytical tools as strategic rhetoric and discourse analysis communication and identity theories and the analysis of power and dependence The book will be of interest to students and scholars of Central Asian Studies Migration Studies and Central Asian Culture and Society      Order at the Bazaar Regine A. Spector, 2017-08-15 Order at the Bazaar delves into the role of bazaars in the political economy and development of Central Asia Bazaars are the economic bedrock for many throughout the region they are the entrepreneurial hubs of Central Asia However they are often regarded as mafia governed environments that are largely populated by the dispossessed By immersing herself in the bazaars of Kyrgyzstan Regine A Spector learned that some are rather best characterized as islands of order in a chaotic national context Spector draws on interviews archival sources and participant observation to show how traders landowners and municipal officials create order in the absence of a coherent government apparatus and bureaucratic state Merchants have adapted Soviet institutions including trade unions and pre Soviet practices such as using village elders as the arbiters of disputes to the urban bazaar by building and asserting their own authority Spector s findings have relevance beyond the bazaars and borders of one small country they teach us how economic development operates when the rule of law is weak      The Risk of War Vasiliki P. Neofotistos, 2012-03-14 The Risk of War focuses on practices and performances of everyday life across ethnonational borders during the six month armed conflict in 2001 between Macedonian government forces and the Albanian National Liberation Army NLA a conflict initiated by the NLA with the proclaimed purpose of securing greater rights for the Albanian community in Macedonia and terminated by the internationally brokered Ohrid Framework Agreement Anthropologist Vasiliki P Neofotistos provides an ethnographic account of the ways middle and working class Albanian and Macedonian noncombatants in Macedonia's capital city Skopje went about their daily lives during the conflict when fear and uncertainty regarding their existence and the viability of the state were intense and widespread Neofotistos finds that rather than passively observing the international community's efforts to manage the political crisis members of the Macedonian and Albanian communities responded with resilience and wit to disruptive and threatening changes in social structure intensely negotiated relationships of power and promoted indeterminacy on the level of the everyday as a sense of impending war enfolded the capital More broadly The Risk of War helps us better understand how postindependence Macedonia has managed to escape civil bloodshed despite high political volatility acute ethno nationalist rivalries and unrelenting external pressures exerted by neighboring countries      Cohesion and Dissolution Ingo Rohrer, 2013-11-26 The apocryphal story of punk and hardcore is narrated as a history of young rebels united by shared interests values and a sense of equality Through the example of the scene of Buenos Aires Ingo Rohrer demonstrates that this unity is fragile and requires different practices of maintenance to ensure the cohesive continuity of the community Friendship is the focus of these efforts but at the same time it is also a point of vulnerability where the group's dissolution and disappointment about the scene germinates Ingo Rohrer examines how a local scene's quest for cohesion is concurrent with tensions and contradictions Beyond the attention put on the friendship in the local scene the author asks what role friendships play in the local life world of neighborhoods and in the globalized punk and hardcore scene Based on rich empirical data the author suggests new perspectives on group processes and local transnational relations with relevance far beyond the realm of these vibrant music scenes      Reimagining Utopias Iveta Silova, Noah W. Sobe, Alla Korzh, Serhiy Kovalchuk, 2017-07-13 Reimagining Utopias explores the shifting social imaginaries of post socialist transformations to understand what happens when the new and old utopias of post socialism confront the new and old utopias of social science This peer reviewed volume addresses the theoretical methodological and ethical dilemmas encountered by researchers in the social sciences as they plan and conduct education research in post socialist settings as well as disseminate their research findings Through an interdisciplinary inquiry that spans the fields of education political science sociology anthropology and history the book explores three broad questions How can we re imagine research to articulate new theoretical insights about post socialist education transformations in the context of globalization How can we re imagine methods to pursue alternative ways of producing knowledge And how can we navigate various ethical dilemmas in light of academic expectations and fieldwork realities Drawing on case studies conceptual and theoretical essays autoethnographic accounts as well as synthetic introductory and conclusion chapters by the editors this book advances an important conversation about these complicated questions in geopolitical settings ranging from post socialist Africa to Eastern Europe and Central Asia The contributors not only expose the limits of Western conceptual frameworks and research methods for understanding post socialist transformations but also engage creatively in addressing the persisting problems of knowledge hierarchies created by abstract universals epistemic difference and geographical distance inherent in comparative and international education research This book challenges the readers to question the existing education narratives and rethink taken for granted beliefs theoretical paradigms and methodological frameworks in order to reimagine the world in more complex and pluriversal ways

The Shaping Shaikh Dejan Aždajić, 2020-01-20 Islam is more than a system of rigid doctrines and normative principles It is a diverse mosaic of subjective often contradictory interpretations and discrepant applications that prohibit a narrow one dimensional approach This book argues that to uncover this complex reality and achieve a more accurate understanding of Islam as a lived religion it is imperative to consider Islam from the point of view of human beings who practice their faith Consequently this book provides an important contribution through a detailed ethnographic study of two contemporary Sufi communities Although both groups shared much in common there was a fundamental almost perplexing range of theological convictions and ritual implementations This book explores the mechanism that accounts for such diversity arguing for a direct correlation between Sufi multiformity and the agency of the spiritual leader the Shaikh Empirical research regarding the authority by which Shaikhs subjectively generate legitimate adaptations that shape the contours of religious belief are lacking This study is significant because it focuses on how leadership operates in Sufism highlighting the primacy of the Shaikh in the selection and appropriation of inherited norms

When Things Fall Apart Nora Dudwick, Elizabeth Gomart, Alexandre Marc, 2003 This study uses quantitative and qualitative research methods to document the experiences of people in Armenia Georgia the Kyrgyz Republic Latvia Moldova Tajikistan Ukraine and Uzbekistan struggling to cope with the dramatic changes in lifestyle and economic conditions following the collapse of the Soviet Union It demonstrates how poverty in the region differs from that experienced in other parts of the world and looks at how cultural and institutional barriers have hindered attempts to improve these problems It also examines the links between poverty gender and ethnicity and seeks to convey the psychological impact of poverty as well as its social and economic effects

Dacha Idylls Melissa L. Caldwell, 2011 Anyone who has spent time in Russia knows the importance of going to the dacha In this ethnography Melissa Caldwell reveals the mystique of rural life by exploring the social nature of gardening and making food and Russian relationships to the land It is truly an innovative study Catherine Wanner author of Communities of the Converted Ukrainians and Global Evangelism In this engaging ethnography Melissa Caldwell brilliantly demonstrates what is peculiarly Russian about the dacha long an object of literary and nostalgic imagining while simultaneously situating the vacation cottage within larger histories of leisure consumption home and post socialist transition A must read for scholars of Russia or tourism

Pamela Ballinger author of History in Exile Memory and Identity at the Borders of the Balkans Research Ethics in Human Geography Sebastian Henn, Judith Miggelbrink, Kathrin Hörschelmann, 2021-10-25 This book explores common ethical issues faced by human geographers in their research It offers practical guidance for research planning and design that incorporates geographic disciplinary knowledge to conceptualise research ethics The volume brings together international insights from researchers in geography and related fields to provide a comprehensive overview of relevant ethical frameworks and challenges in human geography research It includes in depth reflections on a range of ethical dilemmas that arise in certain contextual conditions and spatial constructions that face those researching and teaching on spatial dimensions of social life With a focus on the increased need for specialist ethics training as part of postgraduate education in the Humanities and Social Sciences and the necessity for fostering sensitivity in cross cultural comparative research the book seeks to enable people to engage in ethical decision making and moral reasoning while conducting research Chapters examine the implications of geographical research for conceptualising ethics and discuss specific case studies from which more general conclusions linked to conceptual debates are drawn As a research based reference guide for tackling ethically sensitive projects and international differences in legal and institutional standards and requirements the book is useful for postgraduate and undergraduate students as well as academics teaching at senior levels The Moral Evaluation of Emergency Department Patients Marius Wamsiedel, 2023-03-14 In The Moral Evaluation of Emergency Department Patients An Ethnography of Triage Work in Romania Marius Wamsiedel examines the social categorization of patients and its consequences at two emergency departments in Romania Based on long term ethnographic fieldwork this work argues that moral evaluation is an attempt on the part of triage nurses and clerks to keep the emergency service afloat in the context of high care demand insufficient resources and uneven access to primary care At the same time Wamsiedel argues that moral evaluation is an effort to align the provision of emergency services with socially dominant values norms and representations As such the moral evaluation of patients becomes a Procrustean bed that reduces some inequities in access to health care while generating or amplifying others By adopting an interactionist lens Wamsiedel unravels the underlying social logic of moral evaluation the criteria and assumptions that inform it and attempts by triage workers and patient to negotiate access to emergency care The Moral Evaluation of Emergency Department Patients offers new ways of understanding the work of street level bureaucracies and informal barriers to care Key Methods in Geography Nicholas Clifford, Gill Valentine, 2010-05-30 Its range is far broader than the majority of methods texts being concerned with both human and physical geography Given the seriousness with which Key Methods in Geography approaches all aspects of research it will continue to find wide favour among undergraduate geographers Times Higher Education Textbook Guide All geographers whatever their interest need to do research This book will help them get started in the best possible way with thoughtful

The Politics of Knowledge in Central Asia Sarah Amsler, 2007-04-24 Through careful historical and ethnographic research and extensive use of local scholarly works this book provides a persuasive and careful analysis of the production of knowledge in Central Asia The author demonstrates that classical theories of science and society are inadequate for understanding the science project in Central Asia Instead a critical understanding of local science is more appropriate In the region the professional and political ethos of Marxism Leninism was incorporated into the logic of science on the periphery of the Soviet empire This book reveals that science organizes and constructed by Soviet rule was also defined by individual efforts of local scientists Their work to establish themselves between Marx and the market is therefore creating new political economies of knowledge at the edge of the scientific world system

Shadowlands Meike Wulf, 2016-01-01 Located within the forgotten half of Europe historically trapped between Germany and Russia Estonia has been profoundly shaped by the violent conflicts and shifting political fortunes of the last century This innovative study traces the tangled interaction of Estonian historical memory and national identity in a sweeping analysis extending from the Great War to the present day At its heart is the enduring anguish of World War Two and the subsequent half century of Soviet rule Shadowlands tells this story by foregrounding the experiences of the country's intellectuals who were instrumental in sustaining Estonian historical memory but who until fairly recently could not openly grapple with their nation's complex difficult past

The New Bosnian Mosaic Elissa Helms, 2016-02-17 Since the violent events of the Bosnian war and the revelations of ethnic cleansing that shocked the world in the early 1990s Bosnia has become a metaphor for the new ethnic nationalisms for the transformation of warfare in the post Cold War era and for new forms of peacekeeping and state building This book is unique in offering a re examination of the Bosnian case with a bottom up perspective It gathers together cultural anthropologists and other social scientists to consider the specificities of the Bosnian case However the book also raises broader questions what are the consequences of internecine violence and how should societies attempt to overcome them Are the uncertainties and the transformations of Bosnian post war society due entirely to the war or are they related to wider processes encompassing post communist Europe as a whole And are the difficulties experienced by international state building operations mainly due to distinctive features of the local societies or are they due to the policies promoted by the international community itself

Ethnologia Balkanica ,     The Old Faith and the Russian Land* Douglas Rogers,2016-02-04 The Old Faith and the Russian Land is a historical ethnography that charts the ebbs and flows of ethical practice in a small Russian town over three centuries The town of Sepych was settled in the late seventeenth century by religious dissenters who fled to the forests of the Urals to escape a world they believed to be in the clutches of the Antichrist Factions of Old Believers as these dissenters later came to be known have maintained a presence in the town ever since The townspeople of Sepych have also been serfs free peasants collective farmers and now shareholders in a post Soviet cooperative Douglas Rogers traces connections between the town and some of the major transformations of Russian history showing how townspeople have responded to a long series of attempts to change them and their communities tsarist era efforts to regulate family life and stamp out Old Belief on the Stroganov estates Soviet collectivization drives and antireligious campaigns and the marketization religious revival and ongoing political transformations of post Soviet times Drawing on long term ethnographic fieldwork and extensive archival and manuscript sources Rogers argues that religious political and economic practice are overlapping arenas in which the people of Sepych have striven to be ethical in relation to labor and money food and drink prayers and rituals religious books and manuscripts and the surrounding material landscape He tracks the ways in which ethical sensibilities about work and prayer hierarchy and inequality gender and generation have shifted and recombined over time Rogers concludes that certain expectations about how to be an ethical person have continued to orient townspeople in Sepych over the course of nearly three centuries for specific identifiable and often unexpected reasons Throughout he demonstrates what a historical and ethnographic study of ethics might look like and uses this approach to ask new questions of Russian Soviet and post Soviet history

Women in Belfast Alice McIntyre,2004-03-30 In this study a group of working class women narrate their own stories lives and place in Belfast showing how the geography community and perhaps most of all conflict becomes deeply intertwined with identity These women who have been socially excluded and economically disadvantaged describe their lives during war and a now precarious peace Challenging traditional methods of conducting research in the social sciences McIntyre enlists Participatory action research to understand how these women see themselves their world and their place in it Participatory action research includes creative and interactive projects collages painting poetry and photography to enable free expression We see in this volume how the Belfast women negotiate and struggle with the intersections of violence politics gender parenting community work religion fear humor friendship and their deeply held views of what it means to be an Irish woman
