Fieldwork Under Fire Contemporary:

Fieldwork Under Fire Carolyn Nordstrom, Antonius C. G. M. Robben, 1995 Required reading for anyone about to leave for the field A timely deserving and original contribution to a rapidly growing body of literature on the study of violence Jean Paul Dumont George Mason University Methodological Practices in Social Movement Research Donatella Della Porta, 2014 Social movement studies have grown enormously in the last few decades spreading from sociology and political science to other fields of knowledge as varied as geography history anthropology psychology economics law and others With the growing interest in the field there has been also an increasing need for methodological guidance for empirical research This volume aims at addressing this need by introducing main methods of data collection and data analysis as they have been used in past research on social movements The book emphasises a practical approach presenting in each chapter specific discussions on the main steps of research using a certain method from research design to data collection and the use of information In doing so dilemmas and choices are presented and illustrated within chapters following the same systemic approach New Perspectives in Political Ethnography Lauren Joseph, Matthew Mahler, Javier Auyero, 2007-09-20 The use of ethnographic research social research based on the observation of individuals or institutions where the researcher becomes part of the group or very close to the group to better understand their actions is becoming more and more of a prevalent methodology within sociology As ethnography gains prominence within the discipline its focus theoretical underpinnings and narrative styles are also expanding to the yet unexamined worlds and institutions of society Politics political institutions and those working in politics state officials politicians and activists have so far missed the lens of the ethnographer As a group politicians and those in politics can be found in every corner of the world While political systems and politicians are by no means the same in every country what brings these people together to be part of the political process Ethnography is uniquely equipped to look microscopically at the foundations of political institutions and their attendant set of practices just as it is ideally suited to explain why political actors behave the way they do and to identify the causes processes and outcomes that are part and parcel of political life The volume based on a special issue of Qualitative Sociology has a two fold purpose to bring politics into the ethnographic literature and of ethnography in studies of politics The case studies included are based on the research of ethnographers studying the various level of politics in Brazil Japan El Salvador Bosnia the Philippines India and the United States It will be of interest to those in the sociology of politics political science and those looking for ethnographic research on a global level Contemporary Ethnographies Francisco Ferrándiz, 2020-04-28 Contemporary Ethnographies is a call to use ethnography in imaginative ways adjusting to rapidly evolving social circumstances It is based on a reflexive and theoretically grounded exploration of the author's two main research projects the study of the spiritist possession cult of Mar a Lionza in Venezuela and the analysis of the contemporary exhumation of Civil War 1936 1939 mass graves in contemporary Spain Ferrándiz critically reviews the labyrinthine and continuous transforming nature of ethnographic engagement He defends both the need for methodological rigour and the astounding flexibility of ethnography to adjust in creative ways to shifting realities in a dynamic world a world in which research scenarios multiply social actors are on the move physically or digitally acts of violence proliferate new technologies are transforming the experience and perception of human life and the demand production circulation and consumption of knowledge is greatly diversified overshadowing former well established and more hierarchical patterns of diffusion The book is conceived of as a historically grounded open debate providing as many certainties as moments of unpredictability and unresolved dilemmas It is valuable reading for students and scholars interested in ethnographic methods and anthropological theory

Governance of Islam in Pakistan Sarah Holz,2022-10-15 Modern states increasingly seek to regulate religious expression practice and discourse This is profoundly evident at many levels of Islamic policy interaction from debates about the banning of the Muslim face veil in Europe to civic re education programmes for Muslim citizens in China Governance of Islam in Pakistan provides a systematic account of how interactions between multiple public and private bodies direct the regulation and standardisation of Islam in one of the largest Muslim majority states in the world Analysis centres on the institutional development of the Council of Islamic Ideology a constitutional body tasked with issuing advice to the executive and legislature about the compatibility of laws with Islamic principles Based on archival material that has been subject to little scholarly attention and interviews with Council members and staff of other state bodies Sarah Holz proposes governance as an analytical framework to study the negotiation of religious expression practice and discourse In contrast to the established Islamisation narrative which generally labels such religious institutions as mere rubberstamps in the process of policy making the study of governance offers an alternative approach that enables examination of the dynamic competition and cooperation among multiple actors Through collective interaction the Council and other relevant bodies are active players in the governance of Islam Insights gained from analysis of the ideational structural and functional evolution of the Council offers a Global South perspective on liberal democratic ideas about the functionality of the modern state and its institutional structure Issues of economic cultural and local international political influence bear strongly in governance analysis Engagement with the governance policy tool has applicability across the social sciences but is particularly relevant for South Asian Near and Middle East Studies

The Press and Political Culture in Ghana Jennifer Hasty, 2005-04-28 In The Press and Political Culture in Ghana Jennifer Hasty looks at the practices of journalism and newsmaking at privately owned and state operated daily newspapers in Ghana Hasty decodes the styles and uncovers the strategies that characterize Ghana s major printed news media focusing on the differences between news generated by the state and news that comes from private sources Not only are the angles radically different but so are ways of gathering the news assigning beats using sources and writing articles For all its differences in presentation however Hasty shows that the news in Ghana projects a unified voice that is the result of a contentious and multifarious process that joins Ghanaians in global national and local debates An important engagement with the production of news and news media this book also explores questions about the relationship of popular culture to state politics the expression of civic culture and the role of the media in constituting national and cultural identities

Violence and Belonging Vigdis Broch-Due,2005 Violence and Belonging explores the formative role of violence in shaping people s identities in modern postcolonial Africa

Emergency Research Ethics A.M. Viens,2017-03-02 The essays selected for this volume focus on issues that arise when attempting to design review and undertake research involving human participants who are experiencing a private or public emergency The main themes discussed by the essays are the distinctive and significant ethical questions as to how research participants can be treated during emergency settings the ethical challenges raised by emergencies for researchers undertaking research and its effects on the nature of research pursued and procedural obstacles raised by emergencies which can affect the quality of good research ethics review The volume is unique in that it is the first collection to exclusively deal with all of the central ethical aspects of conducting human subject research in the context of emergency

Gender and Citizenship in Transitional Justice Sanne Weber,2024-12-10 Through two Colombian case studies Sanne Weber identifies the ways in which conflict experiences are defined by structures of gender inequality and how these could be transformed in the post conflict context The author reveals that current apparently gender sensitive transitional justice TJ and disarmament demobilization and reintegration DDR laws and policies ultimately undermine rather than transform gender equality and consequently weaken the chances of achieving holistic and durable peace To overcome this Weber offers an innovative approach to TJ and DDR that places gendered citizenship as both the starting point and the continued driving force of post conflict reconstruction

Field Research in Africa An Ansoms,Aymar Nyenyezi Bisoka,Susan Thomson,2021 How do African scholars navigate the complexities of their own identities when researching in Africa or meet the challenges of being perceived as activists What is the impact of long term engagement in a particular region and local ties on research Researchers working in Africa are engaged in ethical methodological logistical emotional and professional compromises Juggling the demands of research with being human scholars must balance the recording of data with the emotional demands of listening of analysing and reporting personal and often contradictory narratives This book lays bare the process by which the researcher grapples with emotions and how feelings inform and shape data collection interpretation write up and dissemination Based on on the ground work from Central African Republic to Rwanda the DRC Algeria and South Africa the contributors to this book reveal the ambiguities and inconsistencies that emerge at all stages of fieldwork and provide guidance on how to tackle this Book jacket

Conducting Terrorism Field Research Adam Dolnik,2013-03-05 This book offers a detailed and practically oriented guide to the challenges of conducting terrorist fieldwork The past decade has seen an explosion of research into terrorism However field research on terrorism has traditionally been surrounded by many myths and has been called anything from necessary and crucial to dangerous unethical and impossible While there is an increasing interest among terrorism specialists in conducting such research there is no single volume providing prospective field researchers with a guideline to such work Conducting Terrorism Field Research aims to fill this gap and offers a collection of articles from experienced authors representing different risk groups disciplines methodological approaches regional specializations and other context specific aspects Each contributor provides a road map to their own research describing planning and preparation phases the formalities involved in getting into conflict zones and gaining access to sources The end product is a how to guide to field research on terrorism which will be of much value to terrorism experts and novices alike This book will be of much interest to students and researchers of terrorism studies war and conflict studies criminology IR and security studies Women Fielding Danger Martha K.

Huggins,Marie-Louise Glebbeek,2009-01-16 In a compelling exploration of an oft hidden aspect of qualitative field research Women Fielding Danger shows how identity performances can facilitate or block field research outcomes The book asks questions that are crucial for all women engaged in field research Do researchers enter their field site with a totally neutral identity Can a researcher s own identity be at odds with how interviewees see her Could a researcher be of the wrong gender sexuality nationality or religion for those being studied Must some of a researcher s identities be subsumed in certain research settings How much identity disguise is possible before a researcher violates research ethics or loses herself Together these questions inform the book s themes of the centrality of gender social and political danger the negotiation of identities and on site ethics Focusing on ethnographic research across a wide range of disciplines and world regions this deeply informed book presents practical to dos and technical research strategies In addition it offers unique illustrations of how the political geographic and organizational realities of field sites shape identity negotiations and research outcomes Understanding these dynamics the authors show is key to surviving the ethnographic field Partitioned Lives Anjali Gera
