Dunar, 2006-11-07 Blessed by a booming economy the United States experienced the benefits of technology in the 1950s with television and the automobile transforming the way people lived and the space race offering new challenges At the same time the nation faced domestic divisions and international crises that would have far reaching historical and political consequences The 1950s evoke images of prosperity suburbia a smiling President Eisenhower cars with elaborate tail fins Elvis Presley Marilyn Monroe and the golden age of television seemingly a simpler time in which the idealized family life of situation comedies had at least some basis in reality A closer examination however recalls more threatening images the hysteria of McCarthyism the shadow of the atomic bomb war in Korea the Soviet threat manifested in the launch of Sputnik and the bombast of Nikita Khrushchev and a clash over the integration of public buses in Montgomery Alabama and a high school in Little Rock Arkansas Andrew J Dunar successfully shows how the issues confronting America in the late twentieth century have roots in the fifties some apparent at the time others only in retrospect civil rights environmentalism the counterculture and movements on behalf of women Latinos and Native Americans The rise of the beats the continuing development of jazz the emergence of rock n roll and the art of Jackson Pollock reveal the decade to be less conformist than commonly portrayed While the cold war rivalry with the Soviet Union generated the most concern Dunar skillfully illustrates how the rise of Nasser in Egypt Castro in Cuba and Communist regimes in North Korea Vietnam and China signaled new regional challenges to American power This book will be ideal for instructors of American history survey courses at the high

Hendricks, 2006 Hendricks writes on how towns in backcountry Virginia came about from the designs and ambitions of entrepreneurial individuals They did not just spring up randomly in some pleasing meadow or on some riverbank happened upon by a frontiersman for example or a group which had struck out into the wilderness The people who put these plans for towns into action were motivated by a variety of economic social or philanthropic factors and sometimes purely by circumstance and opportunity These entrepreneurial like individuals were not a part of any organized movement But their activities in toto played a large part in opening up the western parts of Virginia and setting a pattern for westward expansion Among the towns Hendricks studies in larger topological areas such as the Piedmont and the Great Valley Shenandoah are Winchester Marysville Leesburg Woodstock Charlottesville and Brent Town Early maps of many of the towns especially demonstrate the ideas and purposes of their founders Along with the maps the authors specifics on the conception establishment and early period of the many towns makes each one stand out distinctively The enterprises and goals of the town were as varied as the individuals who conceived them Governor's Houses and State Houses of British Colonial America, 1607-1783 Hoke P.
