Dark Ghetto Kenneth B. Clark, 1989-11 Dr Clark social psychologist college professor a Black man who lived in Harlem for forty years and who has recently been associated with its problems from the top level of Harlem takes the role of involved observer to approach the combined problems of the confined African American and the slum The ghetto he analyzes here is the three and one half square miles containing 232 792 people that make up Harlem excluding Spanish Harlem He examines its social dynamics unemployment and menial jobs result in family instability psychology the Black man has a difficult time asserting his manhood in face of white supremacy pathology chronic self perpetuating as the influence of gangs has declined that of drug addiction has increased schools separate but unequal the cultural deprivation approach is seductive if students were expected to learn and so taught they would progress the power structure the effective exercise of power is severely crippled by the inexperience of its own political leaders The strategy for change must be based on the understanding that the Black America s problems are essentially American and on the empathy of outsiders Dr Clark tempers his aims with the re assurance that in contemporary society no one Black or white can be totally free of prejudice yet each race needs the other Most interesting here the insight into the psycho social dilemmas of African Americans the Black response to the wide spectrum of leadership embodied in Adam Clayton Powell and Dr Martin Luther King Jr Review in Kirkus 1965 lightly edited
