Fiction Of Nationality In An Era Of Transnationalism:

The Fiction of Nationality in an Era of Transnationalism Nyla Ali Khan, 2013-10-15 The book focuses on the representation of South Asian life in works by four Anglophone writers V S Naipaul Salman Rushdie Amitav Ghosh and Anita Desai Concentrating on the intertwined topics of nationalism transnationalism and fundamentalism the book addresses the dislocation associated with these phenomena offering a critical dialogue between these works and contemporary history using history to interrogate fiction and fiction to think through historical issues Despite all their differences the works of these authors delineate the asymmetrical relations of colonialism and the aftermath of this phenomenon as it is manifested across the globe The binary structures created by the colonial encounter undergo a process of dialectical interplay in which each culture makes incursions into the other This dialogic interplay becomes the basis for strategies that enable transnational and postcolonial writers to reimagine themselves and their world The book shows for instance how Naipaul articulates a sensibility created by multilayered identities and the remapping of old imperial landscapes in the process suggesting a new dynamic of power relations in which politics and selfhood empire and psychology prove to be profoundly interrelated how Rushdie encourages a nationalist self imagining and a rewriting of history that incorporate profound cultural religious and linguistic differences into our sense of identity how Ghosh is critical of the putative cultural and religious necessity to forge a unified nationalist identity arguing that no single theory sufficiently frames the multiple inheritances of present diasporic subjectivities and how Desai seeks to imagine a responsible form of artistic social and political agency Although transnationalism then can have positive effects which have been celebrated in terms such as hybridity the book suggests why this sort of term too cannot be a stopping place for our thinking about a world radically transformed by postcolonial struggles

Western literary tradition the jew has long been a figure of ethnic exclusion and social isolation the wanderer the scapegoat the alien But it is no longer clear where a perennial outsider belongs This provocative study of contemporary British writing points to the figure of the jew as the litmus test of multicultural society Efraim Sicher and Linda Weinhouse examine the jew as a cultural construction distinct from the Jewishness of literary characters in novels by among others Salman Rushdie Anita Desai Doris Lessing Monica Ali Caryl Philips and Zadie Smith as well as contemporary art and film Here the image of the jew emerges in all its ambivalence from postcolonial migrant and modern everyman to more traditional representations of the conspirator and malefactor The multicultural discourses of ethnic and racial hybridity reflect dissolution of national and personal identities yet the search for transnational cultural forms conceals both the acceptance of marginal South Asian Caribbean and Jewish voices as well as the danger of resurgent antisemitic tropes Innovative in its contextualization of the jew in the multiculturalism debate in contemporary Britain Under Postcolonial Eyes Figuring the jew in Contemporary British Writing analyzes the narrative of identities in a globalized culture and offers new interpretations of postmodern classics
