Fictional Genders Role Representation:

French Women Writers Eva Martin Sartori, Dorothy Wynne Zimmerman, 1994-01-01 Marie de France Mme De S vign and Mme De Lafayette achieved international reputations during periods when women in other European countries were able to write only letters translations religious tracts and miscellaneous fragments There were obstacles but French women writers were more or less sustained and empowered by the French culture Often unconventional in their personal lives and occupied with careers besides writing as educators painters actresses preachers salon hostesses labor organizers these women did not wait for Simone de Beauvoir to tell them to make existential choices and have projects in the world French Women Writers describes the lives and careers of fifty two literary figures from the twelfth century to the late twentieth All the contributors are recognized authorities Some of their subjects like Colette and George Sand are celebrated and others are just now gaining critical notice From Christine de Pizan and Marguerite de Navarre to Rachilde and H l _ne Cixous from Louise Labe to Marguerite Duras these women speak through the centuries to issues of gender sexuality and language French Women Writers now becomes widely available in this Bison Book edition Fictional Genders Dorothy Kelly, 1989-01-01 Gender and Representation in British 'Golden Age' Crime Fiction Megan Hoffman, 2016-05-17 This book provides an original and compelling analysis of the ways in which British women s golden age crime narratives negotiate the conflicting social and cultural forces that influenced depictions of gender in popular culture in the 1920s until the late 1940s The book explores a wide variety of texts produced both by writers who have been the focus of a relatively large amount of critical attention such as Agatha Christie Dorothy L Sayers and Margery Allingham but also those who have received comparatively little such as Christianna Brand Ngaio Marsh Gladys Mitchell Josephine Tey and Patricia Wentworth Through its original readings this book explores the ambivalent nature of modes of femininity depicted in golden age crime fiction and shows that seemingly conservative resolutions are often attempts to provide a modern yet safe solution to the conflicts raised in the texts Fictional Genders Dorothy Kelly, 1989 Youth Fiction and Trans Representation Tom Sandercock, 2022-07-29 Youth Fiction and Trans Representation is the first book that wholly addresses the growth of trans and gender variant representation in literature television and films for children and young adults in the twenty first century Ranging across an array of media including picture books novels graphic novels animated cartoons and live action television and feature films Youth Fiction and Trans Representation examines how youth texts are addressing and contributing to ongoing shifts in understandings of gender in the new millennium While perhaps once considered inappropriate for youth and continuing to face backlash trans and gender variant representation in texts for young people has become more common which signals changes in understandings of childhood and adolescence as well as gender expression and identity Youth Fiction and Trans Representation provides a broad outline of developments in trans and gender variant depictions for young people in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries and closely analyzes a series of millennial literary and screen texts to consider how they communicate a range of often competing ideas about gender identity expression and embodiment to implied child and adolescent audiences Literati Identity and Its Fictional Representations in Late Imperial China Stephen Roddy, 1998 Examining three works of vernacular fiction dating from 1750 to 1828 this book studies the intellectual and literary factors that in the mid Qing dynasty contributed to the development of vernacular fiction of unprecedented scholarly and satirical sophistication Class Representation in Modern Fiction and Film K. Gandal, 2007-04-16 A fresh exploration of the representation of poverty and class in American literature and film through the juxtaposition of films writings and the unusual lives of Zora Neale Hurston Stephen Crane Henry Miller and Michel Foucault The book argues for Hurston s centrality not merely to the African American canon but to the American tradition Language, Gender and Children's Fiction Jane Sunderland, 2011-01-13 Looks at gender in relation to children s fiction And The role that language plays in this relationship Gender Roles and Political Contexts in Cold War Spy Fiction Sian MacArthur, 2022-10-31 This book analyses the gender roles and political contexts of spy fiction narratives published during the years of the Cold War It offers an introduction to the development of spy fiction both in England and in the United States and explores the ways in which issues such as the atomic bomb double agents paranoia propaganda and megalomania manifest themselves within the genre The book examines the ongoing marginalization of women within spy fiction texts exploring the idea that this unique period in global history is responsible for the active promotion and celebration of masculinity and male superiority From James Bond to Jason Bourne the book evaluates the ongoing enforcement of patriarchal ideas and oppressions that in the name of national security and patriotic duty have contributed to the development of a genre in which discrimination and bias continue to dominate The Routledge Companion to Gender and Science Fiction Lisa Yaszek, Sonja Fritzsche, Keren Omry, Wendy Gay Pearson, 2023-02-10 The Routledge Companion to Gender and Science Fiction is the first large scale reference work of its kind critically assessing the relations of gender and genre in science fiction SF especially but not exclusively as explored in speculative art by women and LGBTQ artists across the world This global volume builds upon the traditions of interdisciplinary inquiry by connecting established topics in gender studies and science fiction studies with emergent ideas from researchers in different media Taken together they challenge conventional generic boundaries provide new ways of approaching familiar texts recover lost artists and introduce new ones connect the revival of old hate based politics with the increasing visibility of imagined futures for all and show how SF stories about new kinds of gender relations inspire new models of artistic technoscientific and political practice Their chapters are grouped into five conversations about the history of gender and genre theoretical frameworks subjectivities medias and transmedialities and transtemporalities that are central to discussions of gender and SF in the current moment A range of both emerging and established names in media literature and cultural studies engage with a huge diversity of topics including eco criticism animal studies cyborg and posthumanist theory masculinity critical race studies Indigenous futurisms Black girlhood and gaming This is an essential resource for students and scholars studying gender sexuality and or science fiction Gender and Politics in Austrian Fiction Ritchie Robertson, Edward Timms, 1996 This volume of essays on Austrian fiction compiled at a time when Austria is forming stronger links within the European Union illustrates a transition from traditional preoccupations with character differences between Austrian and German literature to wider concerns of politics and gender Fictional treatments of such issues as male homosexuality problems in feminism the representation of women in male authored texts and anti war protest are examined both in well known novels and in little known works by underrated authors Many of the authors discussed have received insufficient recognition because they do not fall within a familiar canon of German literature The specialised research involved in compiling this material is accessible through a series of book reviews included at the end of the volume which range in subject area from the life of an eighteenth century soldier in the Habsburg service to the continuing discussion on Austrian identity Representations of the Post/human Elaine L. Graham, 2002 This work draws together a wide range of literature on contemporary technologies and their ethical implications It focuses on advances in medical reproductive genetic and information technologies Racial, Ethnic, Gender and Class Representations in Margaret Laurence's Writings Andreea Topor-Constantin, 2013-07-26 Racial Ethnic Gender and Class Representations in Margaret Laurence s Writings is a study on Canada Canadian literature and Margaret Laurence s works in particular thus addressing various kinds of readership This book avoids the danger of limiting the approach to solely focusing attention on Canada by presenting a thorough analysis of various literary genres allowing the book to be of interest to all literature lovers Furthermore the book explores the parallelism between life and fiction emphasising Laurence s biographic and realist elements and their influence on the writer s fictional writing revealing real and imaginary worlds which would appeal to anybody s literary needs This major contribution to the already existent criticism of Margaret Laurence s works lies in the analysis of her work as an entity balancing both terms of the common binary oppositions fiction versus non fiction Africa versus Canada white versus Black or Metis In spite of critical comments which might be raised Andreea Topor Constantin comments on how the voice of the marginal makes itself heard throughout the author s books underlying Laurence s emphasis on characterisation and her genuine concern for people This book covers all aspects of Laurence s life and fiction from the African to the writer s Canadian background from adults to children s literature from novels to short stories from essays to letters in order to challenge readers perceptions of race ethnicity gender and class Working Papers Film & TV Studies - WP 2010/2: Gender Representations in Belgian Children's Programmes , Ngugi Wa Thiong'o, Gender, and the Ethics of Postcolonial Reading Brendon Nicholls, 2010 This is the first comprehensive book length study of gender politics in Ngugi wa Thiong s fiction Brendon Nicholls argues that the mechanisms of gender subordination are strategically crucial to Ngugi s ideological project but that his fiction also creates transgressive spaces for women Nicholls proposes a strategy of performative reading that offers an ethical basis for analyzing cultural difference and critiquing cultural practices while avoiding both cultural imperialism and cultural relativism Teaching Crime Fiction Charlotte Beyer, 2018-07-18 More than perhaps any other genre crime fiction invites debate over the role of popular fiction in English studies This book offers lively original essays on teaching crime fiction written by experienced British and international scholar teachers providing vital insight into this diverse genre through a series of compelling subjects Taking its starting point in pedagogical reflections and classroom experiences the book explores methods for teaching students to develop their own critical perspectives as crime fiction critics the impact of feminism postcolonialism and ecocriticism on crime fiction crime fiction and film the crime short story postgraduate perspectives and more Intersectionality and Decolonisation in Contemporary British Crime

Fiction Charlotte Beyer, 2023-01-24 Intersectionality and decolonisation are prominent themes in contemporary British crime fiction Through an in depth critical and contextual analysis of selected contemporary British crime fiction novels from the 1990s to 2018 this distinctive book examines representations of race class sexuality and gender by John Harvey Stella Duffy M Y Alam and Dorothy Koomson It argues that contemporary British crime fiction is a field of contestation where urgent cultural and social questions are debated and the politics of representation explored A significant resource which will be valuable to researchers and scholars of the crime genre as well as British literature this book offers timely critical engagement with intersectionality and decolonisation and their representation in contemporary British crime fiction

Women Scientists in Fifties Science Fiction Films Bonnie Noonan, 2015-02-18 In the 1950s science was rapidly advancing and so were scientific opportunities for women Modern science fiction films reflected these simultaneous social developments This book proposes that the social ideology of the 1950s which was partly concerned with gender issues saturated the B science fiction films of that era and inspired a new appreciation for the role of women in scientific advancements and other social achievements Drawing on feminist literary and cultural theory the author argues that the emergence of the modern American science fiction film in 1950 and the situation of post World War II female scientists together created a film genre That genre was explicitly amenable to exploring the tension between a woman s place in her home and her place in the work force particularly in scientific fields Early chapters provide a general introduction to the science fiction genre and specifically describe 1950s B science fiction films as they resonate with concerns proper to feminist theory Subsequent chapters offer detailed historically situated readings of 10 B science fiction films from the 1950s that feature women in science The cinematic representations of female scientists are compared and contrasted with real female professionals of the time illuminating the changing gender dynamics reflected in popular film in the 1950s Films analyzed include Rocketship X M It Came from Beneath the Sea Them Tarantula The Deadly Mantis Beginning of the End Kronos Cat Women of the Moon World Without End and Queen of Outer Space Fan Fiction Genres Julia Elena

Goldmann, 2022-09-01 What if James T Kirk and Spock had a baby left the Enterprise and moved to New Vulcan to live happily ever after Fan fiction plots like this are a strong testament of fans endless creativity Not only do the authors invent their own storylines but they have developed a generic definition of content across fandoms according to the relationship present in the text Classification is therefore profoundly related to gender and sexuality Julia Elena Goldmann examines these generic structures and formulaic patterns comparatively in Star Trek and Supernatural fan fiction She also focuses on the interplay of the concepts of gender sexuality relationships and depictions of family in these texts Linguistic Representations of Gender in Children's Literature Sally Hunt, 2025-02-25 This book examines how aspects of gender and identity are represented in some of the best selling children's book series published in English over the last 100 years Combining the quantitative methods of corpus linguistics with Critical Discourse Analytic interpretation the author's analysis shows how gendered constructions of identity are built on uneven patterns of representation Stories and the characters who inhabit them not only provide child readers with entertainment but also the building blocks of their identities linguistic choices construct representations of how to be a girl or how to be a boy often in binary mutually exclusive terms Hunt's critical corpus linguistic approach uncovers patterns of representation beyond the fiction author's awareness which reveal their assumptions about how girls and women behave or should behave or what boys and men do or should do Chapters cover the gendered patterns found in how characters speak how they express emotion and how they act on the world as well as those characters who contradict these patterns and perform their genders in different ways The detailed analysis and its implications will be relevant to teachers of literature both at school and at university level media researchers lecturers and students of linguistics or gender studies and anyone interested in child development and the fiction written for children
