Evaluation in Academic Libraries Karen C. Kohn, 2015-06-24 Librarians have long used data to describe their collections Traditional measures have simply been inputs and outputs volumes acquired processed owned or circulated With the growth since the 1990s of cultures of assessment librarians have sought statistics that are evaluative rather than simply descriptive More recently exponentially increasing journal prices and an economic recession have intensified the need to make careful purchasing decisions and to justify these to administrators A methodical evaluation of a library collection can help librarians understand and meet user needs and can help communicate to administrators that the library is a good use of the institution's money Collection Evaluation in Academic Libraries A Practical Guide for Librarians equips collections managers to select and implement a method or several methods of evaluating their library collections It includes sections on four tools for evaluation Comparison to peer institutions Core lists Usage statistics from circulation and ILL Citation analysis Chapters on each of these approaches present the advantages and disadvantages of each method instructions on data collection and analysis with screenshots and suggested action steps after completing the analysis With a unique combination of step by step instructions and discussions of the purpose and role of data this book provides an unusually thorough guide to collection evaluation It will be indispensable for collection development librarians and anyone looking to strengthen the culture of assessment within the library

The Politics of Literature in Nazi Germany Jan-Pieter Barbian, 2013-08-29 This is the most comprehensive account to date of literary politics in Nazi Germany and of the institutions organizations and people who controlled German literature during the Third Reich Barbian details a media dictatorship involving the persecution and control of writers publishers and libraries but also voluntary assimilation and pre-emptive self-censorship that began almost immediately under the National Socialists leading to authors forced declarations of loyalty literary propaganda censorship and book burnings Special attention is given to Nazi regulation of the publishing industry and command over all forms of publication and dissemination from the most prestigious publishing houses to the smallest municipal and school libraries

Barbian also shows that although the Nazis censored books not in line with Party aims many publishers and writers took advantage of loopholes in their system of control Supporting his work with exhaustive research of original sources Barbian describes a society in which everybody who was not openly opposed to it participated in the system whether as a writer an editor or even as an ordinary visitor to a library
