Fiddlehead Gold 50 Years Of The Fiddlehead Magazine:

The Fiddlehead Moment Tony Tremblay, 2019-12-05 For many Canadians the small province of New Brunswick on Canada's scenic east coast is a nice place to visit but no place to live plagued for generations by outmigration and economic stagnation. In The Fiddlehead Moment Tony Tremblay challenges this potent stereotype by showcasing the work of a group of literary modernists who set out to change the meaning of New Brunswick in the national lexicon. Alfred Bailey, Desmond Pacey, Fred Cogswell, and a formidable group of local poets and cultural workers collectively New Brunswick's Fiddlehead School sought to restore New Brunswick's literary reputation by adapting avant-garde modernist practices to the contours of the province, opening it to the contemporary world while also encouraging writers to make it their subject. The result was a non-urban form of modernism that was as responsive to technical innovation as to the human geographies of New Brunswick. By placing New Brunswick writers and critics at the forefront of Canadian literature in the midcentury modernist project, Tremblay adds an important new chapter to our understanding of Canadian modernism. The Fiddlehead Moment is the first critical examination of this group's considerable influence. Whether through Bailey's ethnomethodology, Pacey's critical ordering, or Cogswell's editorial eclecticism in the Fiddlehead magazine and Fiddlehead Poetry Books, authors in New Brunswick, Tremblay argues, had a profound impact on writing in Canada. Fiddlehead Gold Sabine Campbell, Roger Ploude, Demetres P. Tryphonopoulos, 1995 Ornithologies of Desire Travis V. Mason, 2013-09-03 Ornithologies of Desire develops ecocritical reading strategies that engage scientific texts, field guides, and observation. Focusing on poetry about birds and birdwatching, this book argues that attending to specific details about the physical world when reading environmentally conscious poetry invites a critical humility in the face of environmental crises and evolutionary history. The poetry and poetics of Don McKay provide Ornithologies of Desire with its primary subject matter, which is predicated on attention to ornithological knowledge and avian metaphors. This focus on birds enables a consideration of more broadly ecological relations and concerns, since an awareness of birds in their habitats insists on awareness of plants, insects, mammals, rocks, and all else that constitutes place. The book's chapters are organized according to apparatus that is science as an ecocritical tool: flight and song. Reading McKay's work alongside ecology and ornithology through flight and birdsong both challenges assumptions regarding humans' place in the earth system and celebrates the sheer virtuosity of lyric poetry rich with associative as well as scientific details. The resulting chapters' interchapter and concordance of birds that appear in McKay's poetry encourage amateurs and specialists, birdwatchers and poetry readers to reconsider birds in English literature on the page and in the field. Cape Bretoniana Beaton Institute of Cape Breton Studies, 2005-01-01 Nova Scotia's Cape Breton Island is a beautiful region with a unique community whose history and ethnic composition have resulted in the evolution of a powerful sense of identity and place. While outsiders may think only of the island's perennial economic woes and long economic dependence on coal mining and steel production, it is also the home of a rich, vibrant, and distinct culture.

Brian Douglas Tennyson's Cape Bretoniana is the first bibliography to gather together all known publications relating to the history culture economy and politics of Cape Breton Island. With more than 6000 entries it not only provides a comprehensive listing of publications and post graduate theses but also detailed annotations on the listings. Each entry lists the author title place of publication publisher date of publication volume and issue number in the case of periodicals and page references followed by a brief description of the item. Cape Breton has never been so thoroughly documented. This bibliography will help to ensure that even in a world becoming increasingly homogenized by the forces of globalization unique cultural identities like Cape Breton's can be preserved and nurtured.

Perhaps fittingly her poems demonstrate a sense of isolation a quest for selfhood a desire to understand and to be understood. Often conversational in tone her poems are direct and characterized by a deliberate economy of language and freedom from the restrictions of traditional form. Editor Ingrid Ruthig examines the aesthetic touchstones stylistic shifts and thematic range in the poetry of a woman whose work is included in critical anthologies while her name is missing from their introductions. The Essential Poets Series presents the works of Canada's most celebrated poets in a package that is beautiful accessible and affordable. The Essential Elizabeth Brewster is the twenty second volume in the increasingly popular series From the
