Fides Christi The Justification Debate:

Fides Christi Paul O'Callaghan, 1997 The debate on the nature of Christian justification and its implications for the whole of Christian life was at the heart of the teaching of Luther and of the Reformation movement After several centuries of distancing between Catholics and Lutherans on this fundamental theological question its ecclesiological ethical and spiritual virtualities have been reexamined in recent times and considerable common ground has been established The mature fruit of this research will it is hoped be the publication of a Joint Common Declaration by Catholics and Lutherans on the doctrine of justification This study is the result of several years of lecturing on justification and investigating the debate A first historical part of the work contains a brief and incisive account of Luther's own understanding of justification The second analytical part examines a variety of perspectives that over the last century have given new life to the debate the history of dogma the doctrine of justification as a hermeneutical principle Pauline understanding of justice law and the Gospel the relationship between ecclesiology and grace The final chapter explains one by one the fundamental elements of the doctrine of justification in the context of the tensions still remaining Between Lutheran and Catholic theology Paul, Thessalonica and Early Christianity Karl P. Donfried, 2003-01-30 This book concentrates on major Pauline themes and on I Thessalonians in its cultural and religious context as well as exploring other major issues especially with reference to chronology and Judaism The question of Paul's Jewishness is therefore raised with a new urgency What kind of a Jew was Paul Why do we find so many coherences between his language and thought with that of the Community of the Renewed Covenant i.e. the Essenes One of the essays Paul and Qumran suggests that the Dead Sea Scrolls offer valuable clues to understanding Pauline language and thought If in fact there was contact between Paul and the Essenes where would it have taken place If such meetings were held possibly in the Essene Quarter of Jerusalem is there a connection between that area and the location of the earliest Christians in Jerusalem And what kind of Christians were they and how did they impact on the Apostle's missionary activity In connection with this discussion of Paul and Judaism a number of challenges are offered to the so called New Perspective on Paul especially in the work of E. P. Sanders and James D. G. Dunn to suggest that a closer study of the Dead Sea Scrolls raises serious questions about the appropriateness of their interpretation of both Judaism and Paul as well as opening new perspectives that will necessitate not only the rethinking of second temple Judaism but also the origins of earliest Christianity and the relationship between them Evangelicals and Tradition (Evangelical Ressourcement) D. H. Williams, 2005-06-01 The past few years have seen a growing interest among evangelical leaders in the thought and life of the early Christian church There is a desire to rediscover historical roots in the face of today's postmodern and increasingly post denominational world Evangelicals and Tradition is the first in a valuable new series of books edited by D. H. Williams The series seeks to help today's church leaders recover the early church fathers' ancient understandings of Christian belief and practice for application to ministry in the twenty first century This first book traces the development and role of tradition in the early church what kind of authority should be ascribed to tradition and tradition's interaction with the Protestant hallmarks of Scripture alone and by faith alone

Justification by Faith in Catholic-Protestant Dialogue Anthony N. S. Lane, 2006-08-15 In this assessment of the recent Catholic Protestant dialogue concerning the doctrine of justification Anthony Lane begins by discussing traditional Protestant doctrine with close reference to Calvin and traditional Catholic doctrine with close reference to the Council of Trent He goes on to examine eight key documents from Hans Kung's Justification 1957 to the Joint Declaration on the Doctrine of Justification 1999 Fifteen key theological issues are then explored These include the status of theological language used by Catholics and Evangelicals the definition of justification the grounds on which a person is accounted righteous the question of sin remaining in the Christian whether faith alone can save the relationship between law and gospel the question of merit and reward the assurance of salvation and finally a discussion on the Roman Magisterium and current Evangelical responses to recent changes in Catholic theology In conclusion Anthony Lane discusses the extent to which any agreement or convergence of thinking has been achieved and its future significance

Beyond Ritual Siobhán Garrigan, 2017-03-02 In Beyond Ritual Siobhán Garrigan uses Habermas's theory of communicative action to suggest two things first a method by which theology can access the ritual symbols by which faith is formed and secondly a metaphor of intersubjectivity with which theology can propose an interpretative rather than an instrumental understanding of sacramentality and thus of God Through fieldwork studies of both marginal and mainstream Christian Eucharists Garrigan develops the conversation between Habermas's philosophy and Christian theology showing how ritual interactions form and challenge our very idea of God

Rereading Paul Together David E. Aune, 2006-11 Provides a contemporary reassessment of the Pauline doctrine of justification from both Protestant and Catholic perspectives

Christian Identity Borght, 2008-07-31 In this age of globalization a need for a communicative explanation of personal and group positions also motivates Christians to describe more precisely their identity in relation to other actors in society What makes a Christian a Christian What is specifically Christian in social actions or political calling Is there a difference between Christian justice and justice in general and the way Christians deal with justice What is our calling as Christians The contributions in this volume are the result of the 6th biannual IRTI conference in Seoul 2005 on this theme

invented the Reformation slogan sola fide by faith alone which Philipp Melanchthon and John Calvin brandished and defended. Most Protestants since their time have swallowed it whole. But is evangelical obedience the good works that follow faith and are produced by grace excluded from the basis for justification or otherwise? Asserting that there is no more serious question bearing upon the destiny of human beings than how sinners can be justified before a Holy God, Paul Rainbow examines current and traditional treatments of faith, works, and justification, marshals a biblical case majoring on the New Testament teaching of Paul and James, and offers a series of systematic, historical, and pastoral reflections. Doctrine, Dynamic and Difference Pieter de Witte, 2012-03-29. An analysis of the Lutheran-Roman Catholic Joint Declaration on Justification with a special focus on the method of Differentiated Consensus. Receiving Back One's Deeds Benjamin M. Dally, 2022-11-16. This book investigates the relationship between justification by faith and final judgment according to works as found in Paul's second epistle to the Corinthians within a Protestant theological framework. Benjamin M. Dally first demonstrates the diversity and breadth of mainstream Protestant soteriology and eschatology beginning at the time of the Reformation by examining the confessional standards of its four primary ecclesial theological streams: Lutheran, Reformed, Anabaptist, and Anglican. The soteriological structure of each is assessed, i.e., how each construes the relationship between justification and final judgment, with particular attention given to how each speaks of the place of good works at the final judgment. This initial examination outlines the theological boundaries within which the exegesis of Second Corinthians can legitimately proceed and illuminates language and conceptual matrices that will be drawn upon throughout the remainder of the book. Then drawing upon the narrative logic of Paul's Early Jewish thought world, Dally examines the text of Second Corinthians to discern its own soteriological framework, paying particular attention to both the meaning and rhetorical function of the judgment according to works motif as it is utilized throughout the letter. The book concludes by offering a Protestant synthesis of the relationship between justification and final judgment according to works in Second Corinthians, giving an explanation of the role of works at the final judgment that arguably alleviates a number of tensions often perceived in other readings devoted to this key aspect of Pauline exegesis and theology. Dally ultimately argues a three-fold thesis: 1. For the believer, one's earthly conduct taken as a whole is best spoken of in the language of inferior, secondary cause and/or basis as far as its import at the last judgment. 2. One's earthly conduct again taken as a whole is soteriologically necessary, not solely but secondarily, nonetheless, and not simply of importance for the bestowal of non-soteriological, eschatological rewards. 3. There are crucial resources from within mainstream Protestantism to authorize such ways of speaking and to simultaneously affirm these contentions in conjunction with a robust, strictly forensic, imputational, traditional Protestant understanding of the doctrine of justification by faith alone. Justified in Christ Chris Castaldo, 2017-01-26. Analyzing and comparing the doctrines of justification held by a legendary nineteenth-century Catholic, John Henry Newman, and an Italian hero of the Reformation, Peter Martyr Vermigli, this book uncovers abiding opportunities as well as obstacles at the Catholic

Protestant divide These earnest scholars of the faith were both converts moving in opposite directions across that divide and as a result speak to us with an extraordinary degree of credibility and insight In addition to advancing scholarship on several issues associated with Newman's and Vermigli's doctrines and illuminating reasons and attendant circumstances for conversion across the Tiber the overall conclusions of this study offer a broader range of soteriological possibilities to ecumenical dialogue among Roman Catholics and Reformed Protestants by clarifying the common ground to which both traditions may lay claim

Engrafted Into Christ Christopher J. Malloy, 2005 Catholics and Lutherans signed the Joint Declaration on Justification in 1999 This ecumenical agreement claims to resolve all church dividing differences on justification without requiring doctrinal revision a claim that Engrafted into Christ challenges with a twofold thesis First the historic disagreement over justification was substantial thus doctrinal revision is a sine qua non condition of rapprochement Second portions of the Declaration appear irreconcilable with Catholicism A concluding series of original reflections illustrates the intelligibility of Catholic teaching identifies a self destructive element in sola fide and challenges structural elements of Lutheran theology Experts as well as educated laypersons will be interested in this book

The Oxford Handbook of Ecumenical Studies Geoffrey Wainwright, Paul McPartlan, 2021 Provides a rich source of information and reflection on many aspects of ecumenism from 50 expert contributors of many nationalities and traditions Offers a global perspective showing how ecumenism is a feature of the Church in all parts of the world with different geographical areas specifically considered in chapters focusing on Europe the Middle East Africa Asia and more Offers an invaluable guide to one of the most important Christian activities of today work for unity and reconciliation within the Church itself and as a witness in the world at large Book jacket

Augustine of Hippo and Martin Luther on Original Sin and Justification of the Sinner Jairzinho Lopes Pereira, 2013-12-11 The book is divided into two parts The first part deals with the development of Augustine's theology of Original Sin and Justification Here the emphasis is placed on the defining moments of this development process These moments are the second half of 390s period during which the Church Father wrote two of his key works De diversis quaestionibus ad Simplicianum 396-397 and Confessiones 397-400 and the last twelve years of his literary career with emphasis on the works he produced in the heat of the long and bitter confrontation with Julian of Aelanus In the second part Pereira deals with Luther's doctrines of Original Sin and Justification of the sinner The main source of analysis is Luther's Lectures on Romans 1515-1516 There is an intrinsic relation between the two parts of the work The author demonstrates how Augustine came to break with the patristic soteriology and anthropological theology and adopted the radicalism of grace with which he faced the theologians associated with the fifth century Pelagianism especially Julian of Aelanus In the second part Pereira argues that it was precisely that radicalism of grace that made of

Augustine Luther's favourite theologian The same radicalism of grace was adopted by Luther in his opposition to the recentiores doctores the Nominalist theologians especially Gabriel Biel Without overlooking the crucial role played by the Pauline corpus one can accurately say that Augustine's anti Pelagian thesis were at the core of the young Luther's soteriological and anthropological claims essential to understand what the Lutheran insurgency was all about and were the driving force behind Luther's cry for reformation at least as far as the doctrine of salvation was concerned When it comes to the doctrine of salvation Augustine found in Luther a prominent reader and a faithful follower To understand this fact it would suffice a careful analysis of Luther's doctrine of justification by faith alone since it contains a strong and genuine Augustinian tonality Agreeable Agreement Minna Hietamäki, 2011-10-20 In recent bilateral ecumenical dialogue the aim of the dialogue has been to reach some form of doctrinal consensus The three major chapters of the book discuss the variety of forms of doctrinal consensus found in ecumenical dialogues among Anglicans Lutherans and Roman Catholics In general the dialogue documents argue for agreement consensus based on commonality or compatibility Each of the three dialogue processes has specific characteristics and formulates its argument in a unique way The Lutheran Roman Catholic dialogue has a particular interest in hermeneutical questions and proposes various forms of differentiated or perspectival forms of consensus The Anglican Roman Catholic dialogue emphasises the correctness of interpretations The documents consciously look towards a common future not the separated past Outline of Christian Doctrine Wilfried Harle, 2015-04-14 In this book Wilfried Harle so distills Protestant Christian teaching as to bring fresh insight both to new students and to experienced readers of systematic theology Outline of Christian Doctrine however is not merely a translation of Harle's classic German text Nicholas Sagovsky has also entirely adapted the original work to the needs and resources of English speaking readers Biblically rooted contextually sensitive alert to philosophical issues and relevant with respect to debates about the world as we know it today Harle's Outline of Christian Doctrine An Evangelical Dogmatics is an ideal contemporary theology book for both class use and individual study Justification and Merit Hans Heinz, 2012-10-01 About the Contributor's Hans Johann Heinz ThD born 1930 in Vienna is Professor Emeritus of Systematic Theology and Church History currently residing in Braunau Austria He has served as a pastor evangelist and academic teacher for more than forty years in his home country and in Germany being one of the leading Seventh Day Adventist scholars in the fields of Reformation History and Luther Studies While teaching at the seminaries in Bogenhofen Marienhof and Friedensau his influence guided the theological reflection of numerous students and pastors The present volume represents his doctoral dissertation which was originally published by Andrews University Press 1984 The theological issues addressed in this book are still of vital importance for the modern ecumenical and interchurch dialogue
