Do You Remember House? Micah E. Salkind, 2019 Today no matter where you are in the world you can turn on a radio and hear the echoes and influences of Chicago house music Do You Remember House tells a comprehensive story of the emergence and contemporary memorialization of house in Chicago tracing the development of Chicago house music culture from its beginnings in the late 70s to the present Based on expansive research in archives and his extensive conversations with the makers of house in Chicago s parks clubs museums and dance studios author Micah Salkind argues that the remediation and adaptation of house music by crossover communities in its first decade shaped the ways that Chicago producers DJs dancers and promoters today re remember and mobilize the genre as an archive of collectivity and congregation The book s engagement with musical kinesthetic and visual aspects of house music culture builds from a tradition of queer of color critique As such Do You Remember House considers house music s liberatory potential in terms of its genre defiant repertoire in motion Ultimately the book argues that even as house music culture has been appropriated and exploited the music s porosity and flexibility have allowed it to remain what pioneering Chicago DJ Craig Cannon calls a musical Stonewall for queers and people of color in the Windy City and around the world Practicing Oral History with

Field Notes Zachary Lockman, 2016-03-30 Field Notes reconstructs the origins and trajectory of area studies in the United States focusing on Middle East studies from the 1920s to the 1980s Drawing on extensive archival research Zachary Lockman shows how the Carnegie Rockefeller and Ford foundations played key roles in conceiving funding and launching postwar area studies expecting them to yield a new kind of interdisciplinary knowledge that would advance the social sciences while benefiting government agencies and the American people Lockman argues however that these new academic fields were not simply a product of the Cold War or an instrument of the American national security state but had roots in shifts in the humanities and the social sciences over the interwar years as well as in World War II sites and practices This book explores the decision making processes and visions of knowledge production at the foundations the Social Science Research Council and others charged with guiding the intellectual and institutional development of Middle East studies Ultimately Field Notes uncovers how area studies as an academic field was actually built a process replete with contention anxiety dead ends and consequences both unanticipated and unintended      Rebel Imaginaries Elizabeth E.

Sine, 2020-11-23 During the Great Depression California became a wellspring for some of the era's most inventive and imaginative political movements In response to the global catastrophe the multiracial laboring populations who formed the basis of California's economy gave rise to an oppositional culture that challenged the modes of racialism nationalism and rationalism that had guided modernization during preceding decades In Rebel Imaginaries Elizabeth E Sine tells the story of that oppositional culture's emergence revealing how aggrieved Californians asserted political visions that embraced difference fostered a sense of shared vulnerability and underscored the interconnectedness and interdependence of global struggles for human dignity From the Imperial Valley's agricultural fields to Hollywood seemingly disparate communities of African American Native American Mexican Filipinx Asian and White working class people were linked by their myriad struggles against Depression era capitalism and patterns of inequality and marginalization In tracing the diverse coalition of those involved in labor strikes citizenship and immigration reform and articulating and imagining freedom through artistic practice Sine demonstrates that the era's social movements were far more heterogeneous multivalent and contested than previously understood      A Field of Their Own John M. Rhea, 2016-04-18 One hundred and forty years before Gerda Lerner established women's history as a specialized field in 1972 a small group of women began to claim American Indian history as their own domain A Field of Their Own examines nine key figures in American Indian scholarship to reveal how women came to be identified with Indian history and why they eventually claimed it as their own field From Helen Hunt Jackson to Angie

Debo the magnitude of their research the reach of their scholarship the popularity of their publications and their close identification with Indian scholarship makes their invisibility as pioneering founders of this specialized field all the more intriguing Reclaiming this lost history John M Rhea looks at the cultural processes through which women were connected to Indian history and traces the genesis of their interest to the nineteenth century push for women s rights In the early 1830s evangelical preachers and women s rights proponents linked American Indians to white women s religious and social interests Later pre professional women ethnologists would claim Indians as a special political cause Helen Hunt Jackson s 1881 publication A Century of Dishonor and Alice Fletcher s 1887 report Indian Education and Civilization foreshadowed the emerging history profession s objective methodology and established a document driven standard for later Indian histories By the twentieth century historians Emma Helen Blair Louise Phelps Kellogg and Annie Heloise Abel in a bid to boost their professional status established Indian history as a formal specialized field However enduring barriers continued to discourage American Indians from pursuing their own document driven histories Cultural and academic walls crumbled in 1919 when Cherokee scholar Rachel Caroline Eaton earned a Ph D in American history Eaton and later Indigenous historians Anna L Lewis and Muriel H Wright would each play a crucial role in shaping Angie Debo s 1940 indictment of European American settler colonialism And Still the Waters Run Rhea s wide ranging approach goes beyond existing compensatory histories to illuminate the national consequences of women s century long predominance over American Indian scholarship In the process his thoughtful study also chronicles Indigenous women s long and ultimately successful struggle to transform the way that historians portray American Indian peoples and their pasts

Religious Revitalization Among the Kiowas Benjamin R. Kracht,2018-04-01 Framed by theories of syncretism and revitalization Religious Revitalization among the Kiowas examines changes in Kiowa belief and ritual in the final decades of the nineteenth century During the height of the horse and bison culture Kiowa beliefs were founded in the notion of daudau a force permeating the universe that was accessible through vision quests Following the end of the Southern Plains wars in 1875 the Kiowas were confined within the boundaries of the Kiowa Comanche Apache Plains Apache Reservation As wards of the government they witnessed the extinction of the bison herds which led to the collapse of the Sun Dance by 1890 Though prophet movements in the 1880s had failed to restore the bison other religions emerged to fill the void left by the loss of the Sun Dance Kiowas now sought daudau through the Ghost Dance Christianity and the Peyote religion Religious Revitalization among the Kiowas examines the historical and sociocultural conditions that spawned the new religions that arrived in Kiowa country at the end of the nineteenth century as well as Native and non Native reactions to them A thorough examination of these sources reveals how resilient and adaptable the Kiowas were in the face of cultural genocide between 1883 and 1933 Although the prophet movements and the Ghost Dance were short lived Christianity and the Native American Church have persevered into the twenty first century Benjamin R Kracht shows how Kiowa traditions and spirituality were amalgamated into the new religions creating a distinctive Kiowa identity Land Use History of the San Rafael Valley, Arizona (1540-1960) Diana Hadley, Thomas E. Sheridan, 1995
