This book documents a little known aspect of the Jewish experience in America It is a fascinating account of how a group of Jewish refugees from Nazi Germany came to dominate cattle dealing in south central New York and maintain a Jewish identity even while residing in small towns and villages that are overwhelmingly Christian The book pays particular attention to the unique role played by women in managing the transition to the United States in helping their husbands accumulate capital and in recreating a German Jewish community Yet Levine goes further than her analysis of German Jewish refugees She also argues that it is possible to explain the situations of other immigrant and ethnic groups using the structure network identity framework that arises from this research According to Levine situating the lives of immigrants and refugees within the larger context of economic and social change but without losing sight of the significance of social networks and everyday life shows how social structure class ethnicity and gender interact to account for immigrant adaptation and mobility

Personal Perspectives Timothy C. Dowling,2005-09-27 A compelling account of the personal experiences of groups who were affected by World War II both on and off the battlefields Personal Perspectives World War II brings to life the experiences of specific segments of soldiers and civilians as they were affected by the conflict capturing special characteristics of each group and the unique ways they experienced the war Twelve essays written by top international scholars portray what it was really like to experience the war for groups ranging from marines naval aviators and liberators of concentration camps to prisoners of war refugees and women in factories Of interest to both students and nonexperts the book tells the stories of Japanese Americans forced into internment camps and African Americans who experienced intense discrimination the call to activism and opportunity in the armed forces It offers the perspectives of Navajo code talkers diplomats like U S ambassador to Poland Anthony J Biddle who fled his post to avoid death and scientists who worked on the Manhattan project thereby introducing the most destructive form of warfare known to humanity
