Visual Spatial Enquiry Robyn Creagh, Sarah McGann, 2018-12-07 Visual Spatial Enquiry explores visual and textual ways of working within spatial research Architects and spatial thinkers from the arts social sciences and humanities present rich case studies from remote and regional settings in Australia to the suburbs of Los Angeles and from gallery and university settings to community collaborations in Mongolia Through these case studies the authors reappraise and reconsider research approaches methods and processes within and across their fields In spatial research diagramming can be used as a method to synthesise complex concepts into a succinct picture whereas metaphors can add the richness of lived experiences Drawing on the editors own architectural backgrounds this volume is organised into three key themes seeing doing and making space In seeing space chapters consider observational research enquiries where developing empathy for the context and topic is as important as gathering concrete data Doing space explores generative opportunities that inform new and innovative propositions and making space looks at ways to rethink and reshape spatial and relational settings Through this volume Creagh and McGann invite readers to find their own understandings of the value and practices of neighbouring fields including planning geography ethnography architecture and art This exploration will be of value to researchers looking to develop their cross disciplinary literacy and to design practitioners looking to enhance and articulate their research skills

Islamabad and the Politics of International Development in Pakistan Markus Daechsel, 2015-03-19 This is a highly original account of the design and development of Pakistan's capital city one of the most iconic and ambitious urban reconstruction projects of the twentieth century Balancing archival research with fresh theoretical insights Markus Daechsel surveys the successes and failures of Greek urbanist Constantinos A Doxiadis's most ambitious endeavour Islamabad analysing how the project not only changed the international order but the way in which the Pakistani state operated in the 1950s and 1960s In dissecting Doxiadis's fraught encounter with Pakistani policy makers bureaucrats and ordinary citizens the book offers an unprecedented account of Islamabad's place in post war international development Daechsel provides new insights into this period and explores the history of development as a charged transnational venture between foreign consultants and donors on the one side and the postcolonial nation state on the other

Time Briton Hadden, Henry Robinson Luce, 1928 International Cooperation in the Early Twentieth Century

Daniel Gorman, 2017-09-21 The early 20th century world experienced a growth in international cooperation Yet the dominant historical view of the period has long been one of national military and social divisions rather than connections International Cooperation in the Early Twentieth Century revises this historical consensus by providing a more focused and detailed analysis of the many ways in which people interacted with each other across borders in the early decades of the 20th century. It devotes particular attention to private and non governmental actors. Daniel Gorman focuses on international cooperation, international social movements, various forms of cultural internationalism, imperial and anti imperial internationalism, and the growth of cosmopolitan ideas. The book incorporates a non Western focus alongside the transatlantic core of early 20th century internationalism. It interweaves analyses of international anti colonial networks, ideas emanating from non Western sites of influence such as Japan, China, and Turkey, the emergence of networks of international indigenous peoples in resistance to a state centric international system, and diaspora and transnational ethno cultural religious identity networks.
