Achievements in Science and Biotechnology, 1959-2014 Angelo Baracca,Rosella Franconi,2016-07-12 The present book introduces an original new perspective on Cuba This book revisits Cuba s choice after the 1959 revolution to develop an advanced healthcare and scientific system It also introduces new aspects of the problem development underdevelopment From the start every effort of the Cuban leadership and scientific community was driven by the primary purpose of meeting the country s basic economic and social needs Immediate key measures taken after the revolution included free education up to higher levels and free health services In only a couple of decades Third World diseases were defeated and a First World health profile was achieved In the sciences support and collaboration was sought and welcomed from both Soviet and western countries Moreover due to the backward position of the Soviet Union in genetics and molecular biology in the early 1970s Cuban scientists were trained in these fields mainly by Italian biologists In the following decade initially relying on contacts with American and Finnish specialists Cuban biologists and physicians built a large industrial biotechnology complex to produce and commercialize Cuban made and often invented medicines and vaccines In the early 1990s the sudden collapse of the Soviet Union and the socialist market created an unprecedented challenge Yet Cuba s scientific system substantially resiled despite unavoidable setbacks This crisis was faced by confirming and reinforcing government support for biotechnology with the result that today Cuba excels at a global level in the typical capital intensive field of biotechnology While this book is especially devoted to historians of science and technology and to biotechnologists it is of interest to the general public Cuba's Link to Drug Trafficking United States. Reform. Subcommittee on Criminal Justice, Drug Policy, and Human Resources,1999 Cuban-Jewish Journeys Caroline Bettinger-López,2000 Between ten and fifteen thousand persons of Cuban Jewish heritage currently live in Miami Until now however this vibrant community and its unique traditions have to a large extent escaped the notice of ethnographers historians and other scholars In Cuban Jewish Journeys Caroline Bettinger L pez remedies that neglect with an engaging in depth look at a people whose rich mix of cultures confounds typical ethnic images The author begins by investigating the history and development of the Cuban Jewish community tracing its origins back to Jewish enclaves in Eastern Europe Russia and the Mediterranean She explores how these people came to Cuba in the first half of the twentieth century and how they eventually resettled in the United States as part of the larger Cuban migration that followed Fidel Castro s 1959 revolution In recounting this history Bettinger L pez draws heavily on numerous stories told to her by Cuban Jews in Miami and elsewhere Those oral histories also form the basis of Bettinger L pez s subsequent exploration of the identity and assimilation issues facing Jewbans as many in Miami began calling themselves in the 1970s She found that place and date of birth for instance may affect an individual's identification with a particular homeland and political ideology which may in turn influence how the individual remembers Cuban Jewish history. The future of Miami's Jewish community she suggests now lies in the hands of a generation that for the most part has grown up within the United States. Already the community is transforming itself linguistically, culturally and religiously to accommodate the younger generation. Skillfully interweaving historical analysis, personal reflections, intergenerational stories, theories of diaspora, photographs and current debates on ethnographic writing, Cuban Jewish Journeys will appeal not only to scholars but to anyone interested in the ever-changing face of multicultural America. The Author, Caroline Bettinger Lopez, a native of Miami, studied anthropology at the University of Michigan. Since her graduation, she has worked in various teaching and social service positions in Miami. Most recently, she has taught disadvantaged children in Haiti.
