Almost Invisible Mark Strand, 2013-09-03 From Pulitzer Prize winner Mark Strand comes an exquisitely witty and poignant series of prose poems Sometimes appearing as pure prose sometimes as impure poetry but always with Strand's clarity and simplicity of style they are like riddles their answers vanishing just as they appear within reach Fable domestic satire meditation joke and fantasy all come together in what is arguably the liveliest most entertaining book that Strand has yet written Hopper Mark Strand, 2011-11-29 Now in rich color thirty of American painter Edward Hopper's masterpieces with critiques from acclaimed poet Mark Strand Strand deftly illuminates the work of the frequently misunderstood American painter whose enigmatic paintings of gas stations storefronts cafeterias and hotel rooms number among the most powerful of our time In brief but wonderfully compelling comments accompanying each painting the elegant expressiveness of Strand's language is put to the service of Hopper's visual world The result is a singularly illuminating presentation of the work of one of America's best known artists Strand shows us how the formal elements of the paintings geometrical shapes pointing beyond the canvas light from unseen sources locate the viewer as he says in a virtual space where the influence and availability of feeling predominate An unforgettable combination of prose and painting in their highest forms this book is a must for poetry and art lovers alike

Dark Harbor Mark Strand, 1994-06-28 Pulitzer Prize winner Mark Strand gives us a poem in forty five sections that despite its wide range and shifting mood and tone is all of a piece Here Strand speaks candidly to the reader conversing offering urban wit and surrealist digressions that draw on our innermost sensations and the outermost reaches of our reality Is what exists a souvenir of the time Of the great nought and deep night without stars The time before the universe began When we look at each other and see nothing Is that not a confirmation that we are less Than meets the eye and embody some of The night of our origins A timeless pursuit of timeless questions Dark Harbor centers on uncertainty and the known family and isolation the possible and the real The poems in this book are easily recognizable as the world of one of our most interesting and influential poets Man and Camel Mark Strand, 2006 A new collection of poetry celebrates the transience oddities and lasting beauty of life and its mysteries

Handbook of Environment and Communication Anders Hansen, Robert Cox, 2015-03-05. This Handbook provides a comprehensive statement and reference point for theory, research and practice with regard to environment and communication, and it does this from a perspective which is both international and multi-disciplinary in scope. Offering comprehensive critical reviews of the history and state of the art of research into the key dimensions of environmental communication, the chapters of this handbook together demonstrate the strengths of multi-disciplinary and cross-disciplinary approaches to understanding the centrality of communication to how the environment is constructed and indeed contested socially, politically and culturally. Organised in five thematic sections, The Routledge Handbook of Environment and Communication includes contributions from internationally recognised leaders in the field. The first section looks at the history and development of the discipline from a range of theoretical perspectives. Section two considers the sources, communicators and media professionals involved in producing environmental communication. Section three examines research on news, entertainment media and cultural representations of the environment. The fourth section looks at the social and political implications of environmental communication, with the final section discussing likely future trajectories for the field. The first reference Handbook to offer a state-of-the-art comprehensive overview of the emerging field of environmental communication research, this authoritative text is a must for scholars of environmental communication across a range of disciplines including environmental studies, media and communication studies, cultural studies and related disciplines.

Encyclopedia of Bohemian and Czech-American Biography Miloslav Rechcigl Jr., 2016-11-10. As the Czech ambassador to the United States, H. E. Petr Gandalovic noted in his foreword to this book that M. Rechcigl has written a monumental work representing a culmination of his life achievement as a historian of Czech America. The Encyclopedia of Bohemian and Czech-American Biography is a unique and unparalleled publication. The enormity of this undertaking is reflected in the fact that it covers a universe starting a few decades after the discovery of the New World through the escapades and significant contributions of Bohemian Jesuits and Moravian brethren in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, the mass migration of the Czechs after the revolutionary year of 1848 and up to the early years of the twentieth century and the influx of refugees from Nazism and communism. The encyclopedia has been planned as a representative, comprehensive and authoritative reference tool encompassing over 7 500 biographies This prodigious and unparalleled encyclopedic vade mecum reflecting enduring contributions of notable Americans with Czech roots is not only an invaluable tool for all researchers and students of Czech American history but is also a carte blanche for the Czech Republic which considers Czech Americans as their own and as a part of its magnificent cultural history

Collected Poems of Mark Strand Mark Strand, 2016-03-01 Longlisted for the 2014 National Book Award Gathered here is a half century's magnificent work by the former poet laureate of the United States and Pulitzer Prize winner whose haunting and exemplary style has influenced an entire generation of American poets Beginning with the limited edition volume Sleeping with One Eye Open published in 1964 Mark Strand was hailed as a poet of piercing originality and elegance and in the ensuing decades he has not swerved from his vision of how a poem should be shaped and what it should deliver As he entered the middle period of his career with volumes such as The Continuous Life 1990 Strand was already well known for his ability to capture the subtle music of consciousness and for creating painterly physical landscapes that could answer to the inner self And here the dark infinitive to feel Which would endure and have the earth be still And the star strewn night pour down the mountains Into the hissing fields and silent towns In his later work from Blizzard of One 1998 which won the Pulitzer Prize through the sly provocative riddles of his recent Almost Invisible 2012 Strand has delighted in reminding us that there is no poet quite like him for a dose of dark wit that turns out to be deep wisdom and self deprecation He has given voice to our collective imagination with a grandeur and comic honesty worthy of his great Knopf forebear Wallace Stevens With this volume we celebrate his canonical work New York Magazine ,1997-03-10 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea The American Landscape in the Poetry of Frost, Bishop, and Ashbery M. MacArthur,2008-08-04 Robert Frost Elizabeth Bishop and John Ashbery stand out among major American poets all three shaped the direction and pushed the boundaries of contemporary poetry on an international scale Drawing on biography cultural history and original archival research MacArthur shows us that these distinctive poets share one surprisingly central trope in their oeuvres the Romantic scene of the abandoned house This book scrutinizes the popular notion of Frost as a deeply rooted New Englander demonstrates that Frost had an underestimated influence on Bishop whose preoccupation with houses and dwelling is the obverse of her obsession with travel and questions dominant anti biographical readings of Ashbery as an urban identified poet As she reads poems that evoke particular landscapes and houses lost and abandoned by these poets MacArthur also sketches relevant cultural trends including patterns of rural de settlement the transformation of rural economies from agriculture to tourism and modern American s increasing mobility and rootlessness Mark Strand Harold Bloom,2009 Provides reviews of four poems by Mark Strand along with criticism and thematic analysis of other works and a short biography of the poet American Writers Elizabeth H. Oakes,2004 American Writers focuses on the rich diversity of American novelists
