The Happiness Illusion Luke Hockley, Nadi Fadina, 2015-06-19 The West has never been more affluent yet the use of antidepressants is on the increase to the extent that the World Health Organisation has declared it a major source of concern How has this state of affairs come about and what can be done Television and advertising media seem to know Wherever we look they offer countless remedies for our current situation unfortunately none of them seem to work The Happiness Illusion explores how the metaphorical insights of fairy tales have been literalised and turned into commodities In so doing their ability to educate and entertain has largely been lost Instead advertising and television sell us products that offer to magically transform the way we look how we age where we live both in the city and the countryside the possibility of new jobs and so forth All of these are supposed to make us happy But despite the allure of retail therapy modern magic has lost its spell What then are the sources of happiness in our contemporary society Through a series of fairy tales The Happiness Illusion How the media sold us a fairytale looks at topics such as age gender marriage and rom coms Nordic Noir and the representations of therapy on television In doing so it explores alternative ways to relate to the world in a symbolic and less literal manner it suggests that happiness comes by making sure we don't fall under the spell of the illusionary promises of contemporary television and advertising Instead happiness comes from being ourselves warts and all This book will be of interest to Jungian academics film media and cultural studies academics social psychologists and their students as well as reaching out to those interested in fairy tale studies psychotherapists and educated cinema goers

Luke Hockley PhD is Research Professor of Media Analysis at the University of Bedfordshire UK He is a practicing psychotherapist and is registered with the United Kingdom Council for Psychotherapy UKCP Luke is joint Editor in Chief of the International Journal of Jungian Studies IJJS and a member of the Advisory Board for the journal Spring and lectures widely www.lukehockley.com

The Truth about Camilla Gertrude Hall Brownell, 1913 The National Magazine: Devoted to Literature, Art, and Religion, 1854 Miss Dymond Anne Thackeray Ritchie, 1890 Character Sketches of Romance, Fiction and the Drama Ebenezer Cobham Brewer, 2004-03 Originally published in 1892 the object of this Handbook is to supply readers and speakers with a lucid but very brief account of such names as are used in allusions and references whether by poets or prose writers to furnish those who consult it with the plot of popular dramas the story of epic poems and the outline of well known tales The number of dramatic plots sketched out is many hundreds Another striking and interesting feature of the book is the revelation of the source from which dramatists and romancers have derived their stories and the strange repetitions of historic incidents It has been borne in mind throughout that it is not enough to state a fact It must be stated attractively and the character described must be drawn characteristically if the reader is to appreciate it and feel an interest in what he reads This work an American reprint of The Reader s Handbook by E Cobham Brewer while retaining all of the original material that can interest and aid the English speaking student gives also characters and sketches found in American novels poetry and drama     Mrs Dymond lady Anne Isabella Ritchie,1885     Henry Rowe Schoolcraft Richard Henry Stoddard,1855     The Reader's Handbook of Famous Names in Fiction, Allusions, References, Proverbs, Plots, Stories, and Poems Ebenezer Cobham Brewer,1910
