Good Administration and the Council of Europe Ulrich Stelkens, Agnė Andrijauskaitė, 2020-09-11 Good Administration and the Council of Europe Law Principles and Effectiveness examines the existence and effectiveness of written and unwritten standards of good administration developed within the framework of the Council of Europe CoE and in the case law of the European Court of Human Rights These standards called pan European general principles of good administration cover the entire range of general organizational procedural and substantive legal institutions meant to ensure a democratically legitimized open and transparent administration respecting the rule of law They are about the limiting function of administrative law its function to protect individuals from arbitrary power to legitimize administrative action and to combat corruption This book analyses the sources and functions of the pan European general principles of good administration and seeks to uncover how deeply they are rooted in the domestic legal systems of the CoE Member States It comprises 28 country reports dedicated to an in depth exploration of the impact of these standards on the national legal systems of the Member States written by respective experts on these systems It argues that the pan European general principles of good administration lead to a certain harmonization of the legal orders of the Member States with regard to the limiting function of administrative law despite the many fundamental differences between their administrative and legal systems It comes to the further conclusion that the pan European general principles of good administration can be considered as a concretization of the founding values of the CoE and describes the administrative law obligations a Member State entered into when joining the CoE

Nietzsche, Wagner, Europe Martine Prange, 2013-08-29 Friedrich Nietzsche 1844 1900 supported the unification of Europe and reflected on this like few other philosophers before or after him Many of his works are concerned with the present state and future of European culture and humanity Resisting the nationalist nonsense and politics of dissolution of his day he advocated the birth of good Europeans i e supra national individuals and the amalgamation of nations Nietzsche Wagner Europe analyzes the development of Friedrich Nietzsche's ideal of European culture based on his musical aesthetics It does so against the background of contemporary searches for a wider cultural meaning beyond Europe's economic political union The book claims that Nietzsche always propagated the aestheticization of Europe but that his view on how to achieve this changed as a result of his dramatically altering philosophy of music The main focus is on Nietzsche's passion for and later aversion to Wagner's music and in direct connection with this his surprising embrace of Italian operas as new forms of Dionysian music and of Goethe as a model of Good Europeanism

Imperialist Imagination Sara L. Friedrichsmeyer, Sara Lennox, Susanne

M. Zantop, 2025-10-01 Race relations are a controversial topic in today's Germany. Have Germans learned from the past? How far back must one go to understand the tensions, prejudices, and strategies that have marked race relations in the recently unified nation? The Imperialist Imagination explores the German preoccupation with racial and ethnic differences throughout the past two centuries in a colonial and postcolonial context. Germany's belated national unification in 1870, its short colonial period (1884-1918), and the loss of its colonies as a consequence of World War I rather than through wars of liberation generated very different colonial and postcolonial conditions from those in Britain and France. This volume's sixteen essays investigate how, as a consequence of these conditions, Germans imagined their relationship to racial and ethnic others, how they supported and contested colonization during the colonial period, how their colonial fantasies fed into the Nazis' racial and expansionary policies after the loss of German colonies, and how they represent their relationship to German minorities and foreigners within and outside Germany today. The contributors include scholars in literature, history, art history, political science, philosophy, ethnography, film, popular culture, photography, and theater. The anthology will appeal not only to Germanists but to all those interested in postcolonial and cultural studies. Sara Friedrichsmeyer is Professor of German, University of Cincinnati; Sara Lennox is Professor of German, University of Massachusetts; Susanne Zantop is Professor of German and Comparative Literature, Dartmouth College.

Constructions of European Identity Senem

Aydin Düzgüt, 2012-12-15 This book examines EU discourses on Turkey in the European Commission, European Parliament, and three EU member states: France, Germany, and Britain, to reveal the discursive construction of European identity through EU representations of Turkey. Based on a poststructuralist framework that conceptualizes identity as discursively constructed through difference, the book applies Critical Discourse Analysis to the analysis of texts and argues that there are multiple Europe's that are constructed in talks over the enlargement of Turkey, varying within and between different ideological, national, and institutional contexts. The book discerns four main discourse topics over which these Europe's are constructed, corresponding to the conceptualization of Europe as a security community, as an upholder of democratic values, as a political project, and as a cultural space. The book argues that Turkey constitutes a key case in exploring various discursive constructs of European identity, since the talks on Turkey pave the way for the construction of different versions of Europe in discourse.

European Union Law Damian Chalmers, Gareth Davies, Giorgio Monti, 2010-06-24 This eagerly awaited new edition has been significantly revised after extensive user feedback to meet current teaching requirements. The first major textbook to be published since the rejuvenation of the Lisbon Treaty, it retains the best elements of the first edition: the engaging, easily understandable writing style; extracts from a variety of sources showing the creation, interpretation, and application of the law; and comprehensive coverage. In addition, it has separate chapters on EU law in national courts, governance, and external relations, reflecting the new directions in which the field is moving. The examination of the free movement of goods and competition law has been restructured. Chapter introductions clearly set out what will be covered in each section, allowing students to approach complex material with confidence and detailed further reading sections encourage further study Put simply it is required reading for all serious students of EU law The Politics of EU Police Cooperation John D. Europe and the Other and Europe as the Other Bo Stråth, 2010 This book contributes to the debate on what Europe means by demonstrating the complexities and contradictions inherent in the concept They are seen most clearly when Europe is viewed from a long historical perspective During the closing decades of the twentieth century Europe emerged as one of the main points of reference in both the cultural and the political constructs of the global community An obsession with the concept of European identity is readily discernible This process of identity construction provokes critical questions which the book aims to address At the same time the book explores the opportunities offered by the concept of Europe to see how it may be used in the construction of the future The approach is one of both deconstruction and reconstruction The issue of Europe is closely related in the book to more general issues concerning the cultural construction of community The book should therefore be seen as the companion of Myth and Memory in the Construction of Community which is also published by PIE Peter Lang in the series Multiple Europes The book appears within the framework of a research project on the cultural construction of community in modernisation processes in comparison This project is a joint enterprise of the European University Institute in Florence and the Humboldt University in Berlin sponsored by the Bank of Sweden Tercentenary Fund

Justice in the EU Floris de Witte, 2015-07-09

In Justice in the EU The Emergence of Transnational Solidarity Floris de Witte argues that European Union law can be understood as an instrument for the elaboration of what justice is means and requires on the level beyond the nation state

Approaching the question of justice from the European perspective however challenges us to think beyond the contractarian idea that equates justice with national political self determination A proper model of justice demands a tiered institutional and normative understanding of justice involving both the nation state and the EU which can make sense of the new ties between individual citizens that the process of European integration continues to generate It also requires that we construct a theory of transnational solidarity that can explain what those new ties tell us about our transnational obligations of justice This book tackles three issues in turn It explains which precise institutional and normative structures are indispensable in the pursuit of justice how the European Union can be understood to increase our capacity for the attainment of justice and formulates a theory of transnational solidarity that informs the interaction between national and European spheres Three different types of transnational solidarity are identified and carefully traced throughout the case law of the Court of Justice market solidarity communitarian solidarity and aspirational solidarity Read together these three transnational solidarities tell us exactly what justice means in the EU

The Emotions of Internationalism Ilaria Scaglia, 2020 By examining a broad range of individuals and institutions engaged in international cooperation in the Alps in the 1920s and 1930s this book explains how internationalists constructed and used emotions to attain their goals It undertakes a journey through the most diverse terrains and venues from the international art exhibitions and congresses organized by the Union Internationale des Associations d Alpinisme also known as UIAA or the International Mountaineering and Climbing Federation to the summer camps and schools run by transnational bodies such as the League for Open Air Education to the international sanatoria for students workers and soldiers healing from tuberculosis in the Swiss village of Leysin Along the way this study encounters a broad spectrum of state and non state actors involved a variety of cross border endeavors from large scale infrastructure projects akin to the tunnel under the Mont Cenis to the League of Nations and its propaganda efforts to the plethora of smaller international organizations emulating the League's work in fields as diverse as leisure health and education Through this metaphorical travel this book thus argues that starting from the nineteenth century and accelerating in the interwar years emotions became a fundamental feature of internationalism shaped its development and constitute an essential dimension of international history to this day The Power of Words A Compendium of Great Speeches from World Leaders LornaMarie,2018-06-11 This book is a treasure in the hands of anyone required to use oratory skill in their role It is known in most countries of the world that lawyers are good orators perhaps due to the nature of their profession Barristers are known to address the court Some of our world leaders past and present are great orators it is however important to note that while not all of them were lawyers they have delivered remarkable and memorable speeches to their respective nations One of the qualities of a good leader is the ability to address the nation with good oratory skills This book therefore explores the power and effect that words have on all of us Messenger of Peace ,1928
