Post-Millennial Gothic Catherine Spooner, 2017-02-23 Surveying the widespread appropriations of the Gothic in contemporary literature and culture Post Millennial Gothic shows contemporary Gothic is often romantic funny and celebratory Reading a wide range of popular texts from Stephenie Meyer's Twilight series through Tim Burton's Gothic film adaptations of Sweeney Todd Alice in Wonderland and Dark Shadows to the appearance of Gothic in fashion advertising and television Catherine Spooner argues that conventional academic and media accounts of Gothic culture have overlooked this celebratory strain of Happy Gothic Identifying a shift in subcultural sensibilities following media coverage of the Columbine shootings Spooner suggests that changing perceptions of Goth subculture have shaped the development of 21st century Gothic Reading these contemporary trends back into their sources Spooner also explores how they serve to highlight previously neglected strands of comedy and romance in earlier Gothic literature

Gothic Architecture and Sexuality in the Circle of Horace Walpole Matthew M. Reeve, 2020-07-15 Gothic Architecture and Sexuality in the Circle of Horace Walpole shows that the Gothic style in architecture and the decorative arts and the tradition of medievalist research associated with Horace Walpole 1717 1797 and his circle cannot be understood independently of their own homoerotic culture Centered around Walpole's Gothic villa at Strawberry Hill in Twickenham Walpole and his Strawberry Committee of male friends designers and dilettantes invigorated an extraordinary new mode of Gothic design and disseminated it in their own commissions at Old Windsor and Donnington Grove in Berkshire Lee Priory in Kent the Wyne in Hampshire and other sites Matthew M Reeve argues that the new third sex of homoerotically inclined men and the new modern styles that they promoted including the Gothic style and chinoiserie were interrelated movements that shaped English modernity The Gothic style offered the possibility of an alternate aesthetic and gendered order a queer reversal of the dominant Palladian style of the period Many of the houses built by Walpole and his circle were understood by commentators to be manifestations of a new queer aesthetic and in describing them they offered the earliest critiques of what would be called a queer architecture Exposing the role of sexual coteries in the shaping of eighteenth century English architecture this book offers a profound and eloquent revision to our understanding of the origins of the Gothic Revival and to medievalism itself It will be welcomed by architectural historians as well as scholars of medievalism and specialists in queer studies The Gothic Novel Victor Sage,1990-02-19 This is a Bloomsbury Academic title For our full Academic Catalogue please visit <https://www.bloomsbury.com/uk/academic> Place-making for the Imagination: Horace Walpole and Strawberry Hill Marion

Harney,2016-04-08 Drawing together landscape architecture and literature Strawberry Hill the celebrated eighteenth century Gothic villa and garden beside the River Thames is an autobiographical site where we can read the story of its creator Horace Walpole This man of taste created private resonances pleasure and entertainment a collusion of the historic the visual and the sensory Above all it expresses the inseparable integration of house and setting and of the architecture with the collection all specific to one individual a unity that is relevant today to all architects landscape designers and garden and country house enthusiasts Avoiding the straightforward architectural description of previous texts this beautifully illustrated book reveals the Gothic villa and associated landscape to be inspired by theories that stimulate The Pleasures of the Imagination articulated in the series of essays by Joseph Addison 1672 1719 published in the Spectator 1712 Linked to this argument it proposes that the concepts behind the designs for Strawberry Hill are not based around architectural precedent but around eighteenth century aesthetics theories antiquarianism and matters of Taste Using architectural quotations from Gothic tombs Walpole expresses the mythical idea that it was based on monastic foundations with visual links to significant historical figures and events in English history The book explains for the first time the reasons for its creation which have never been adequately explored or fully understood in previous publications The book develops an argument that Walpole was the first to define theories on Gothic architecture in his Anecdotes of Painting 1762 71 Similarly innovative The History of the Modern Taste in Gardening 1780 is one of the first to attempt a history and theory of gardening The research uniquely evaluates how these theories found expression at Strawberry Hill This reassessment of the villa and its associated l

Plotting Gothic Stephen Murray,2015-03-06 A historian of medieval art and architecture with a rich appreciation of literary studies Stephen Murray brings all those fields to bear on a new approach to understanding the great Gothic churches of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries Plotting Gothic positions the rhetoric of the Gothic as a series of three interlocking plots a spatial plot tied to the material construction of the churches a social plot stemming from the collaborative efforts that made Gothic output possible and a rhetorical plot involving narratives that treat the churches as objects of desire Drawing on the testimony of three witnesses involved in church building Abbot Suger of Saint Denis Gervase of Canterbury and the image maker Villard de Honnecourt and a range of secondary sources Murray traces common patterns in the way medieval buildings were represented in words and images Our witnesses provide vital information about the way the great churches of Gothic were built and the complexity of their meanings Taking a fresh approach to Gothic architecture Plotting Gothic offers an invigorating new way to understand some of the most lasting achievements of the medieval era A Collection of the Most Approved Examples of Door-ways Thomas Leverton Donaldson,1833 A Collection of the Most Approved Examples of Doorways, from Ancient Buildings in Greece and Italy, Etc Thomas Leverton Donaldson,1833 The Catholic Record ,1875 Modern Antiques Barrett Kalter,2011-11-21 The recovery and reinvention of the past were fundamental to the conception of the modern in England during the long eighteenth century Scholars then forged connections between linear time and empirical evidence that transformed historical consciousness Chronologers textual critics and antiquaries constructed the notion of a material past which spread through the cultures of print and consumption to a broader public offering powerful and for that reason contested ways of perceiving temporality and change the historicity of objects and the relation between fact and imagination But even as these innovative ideas won acceptance they also generated rival forms of historical meaning The regular progression of chronological time accentuated the deviance of anachronism and ephemerality while the opposition of unique artifacts to ubiquitous commodities exoticized things that straddled this divide Inspired by the authentic products as well as the anomalous by products of contemporary scholarship writers craftsmen and shoppers appropriated the past to create nostalgic and ironic alternatives to their own moment Barrett Kalter explores the history of these modern antiques including Dryden s translation of Virgil modernizations of The Canterbury Tales Gray s Gothic wallpaper and Walpole s Strawberry Hill Though grounded in the ancient and medieval eras these works uncannily addressed the controversies about monarchy nationhood commerce and specialized knowledge that defined the present for the English eighteenth century Bringing together literary criticism historiography material culture studies and book history Kalter argues that the proliferation of modern antiques in the period reveals modernity s paradoxical emergence out of encounters with the past The Builder ,1880 Gothic: Eighteenth-century Gothic : Radcliffe, reader, writer, romancer Fred Botting,Dale Townshend,2004-05 This collection brings together key writings which convey the breadth of what is understood to be Gothic and the ways in which it has produced reinforced and undermined received ideas about literature and culture In addition to its interests in the late eighteenth century origins of the form this collection anthologizes path breaking essays on most aspects of gothic production including some of its nineteenth twentieth and twenty first century manifestations across a broad range of cultural media The Living Age ,1866 Changing Ideals in Modern Architecture, 1750-1950 Peter Collins,1998-07-14 Collins explains what Revivalism Rationalism Eclecticism and Functionalism meant to those who practised them examining the impact that social forces and the other arts and sciences had on architectural styles while recognizing the tectonic continuities that underlie the seeming ruptures between pre modern modern and post modern approaches to design His work is infused with a deep sympathy for the classical spirit of the eighteenth century and he argued rigorously and passionately that Enlightenment ideas could be of real value to the architects of his generation particularly since technology had made it possible to use them effectively Collins's plea for sensitivity to tradition and the urban fabric while encouraging technological innovation and unprecedented programs makes his thought just as vital today as it was ahead of its time when first published Collins had long wished to see an affordable fully illustrated edition of his book and McGill Queen's University Press and the McGill School of Architecture are proud to at long last fulfil this wish The new edition includes a biographical sketch of Collins a brief publication history of the work and an introductory essay by Kenneth Frampton that discusses the importance of the work at the time it was first published and highlights its relevance for the architectural problems of today Like the classic works of Hitchcock Giedion Pevsner and Benevolo Changing Ideals in Modern Architecture is essential reading and forms a striking contrast with other works on modernism such as Reyner Banham's It will be pertinent to all those interested in architectural history and theory modern history history of ideas and aesthetics The Annual Register, Or a View of the History, Politicks and Literature of the Year ..., 1763 Annual Register Edmund Burke, 1763 THE ANNUAL REGISTER, OR, A VIEW OF THE HISTORY, POLITICKS, AND LITERATURE., 1763 Annual Register, 1805
