The Economics of Education and Training Christian Dustmann, Bernd Fitzenberger, Stephen Machin, 2008-01-12

Education and training are key to explain the current competitive strengths of national economies While in the past educational and training institutions were often seen as providers of necessary skills for national economies this view has changed with education and training now being seen as a key ingredient for international competitiveness This collection of papers on various aspects of the economics of education and training reflects this new interest Education And The Middle Class Power, Sally, Edwards, Tony, Wigfall, Valerie, 2003-01-01 It is often assumed that for middle class and academically able children schooling is a straightforward process that leads to academic success higher education and entry into middle class occupations However this fascinating book shows these relationships to be complex and often uncertain Based on the biographies of 350 young men and women who might have been considered destined for success at the start of their secondary schooling the book maps out the educational pathways they took It analyses their subsequent achievements and entry into employment and compares them with their parents with one another and with their generation Identifying patterns in the data it also explores examples of extraordinary success and failure and various forms of interrupted and disrupted careers As well as documenting a compelling human story the findings have important implications for current policy debates about academic selection access to elite universities and the limits of meritocracy Educational Upward Mobility Antonia Kupfer, 2015-04-14 What enables the few working class people who enter higher education to achieve against the odds This book offers answers by comparing social contexts educational institutions and policies in Austria and England to demonstrate a surprising number of similarities behind those who succeed using Bourdieu's concept of habitus Resources in

Education, 2000-10 Education in the Commonwealth Lalage J. Bown, 2003 This book explores the changes and developments which have affected education within the Commonwealth over the years As the Secretary General notes The Commonwealth has a strong record and tradition of co operation in education encompassing articulation of values exchange of ideas and direct learning from each other This book is a reminder of that record and tradition and offers a refreshing kaleidoscope of Commonwealth educational action Unequal Attainments Anthony Francis Heath, Yaël

Brinbaum, 2014-10-09 The volume explores the nature and extent of ethnic inequalities in education in ten major western countries The focus is on differences between ethnic groups and between receiving countries Are some minorities more successful and if so why Why might some countries be more favourable environments for educational progress than others

Does Education Matter? Alison Wolf, 2002-05-30 Education education education has become an obsession for politicians and the public alike It is seen as an economic panacea an engine for growth and prosperity But is there a link between increased spending on higher education and economic growth Professor Alison Wolf takes a critical look at successive governments education policy and challenges many of the tenets of received wisdom there are no economic reasons for spending more on higher education in order to stimulate growth The conclusion of this devastating book is that a large proportion of the billions poured into vocational training and university provision might be better spent on teaching the basics at primary school

International Perspectives on the School-to-work Transition Louis Milde Smith, Wilma M. Wells, 1999 This interpretative qualitative study of the Parents as Teachers PAT programme is designed to provide parents with more effective child rearing practices It focuses on how the PAT programme operates with parents who are difficult to contact enroll or maintain in the programme
