Balancing Change and Tradition in Global Education Reform Iris C. Rotberg, 2010-04-16 In Balancing Change and Tradition in Global Education Reform Rotberg brings together examples of current education reforms in sixteen countries written by insiders This book goes beyond myths and stereotypes and describes the difficult trade offs countries make as they attempt to implement reforms in the context of societal and global change In some countries reforms are a response to major political or economic shifts in others they are motivated by large upsurges in immigration and increased student diversity Irrespective of the reasons for education reform all countries face decisions about resource allocation equality of educational opportunity across diverse populations access to higher education student testing and tracking teacher accountability school choice and innovation The essays in this volume reveal the policy choices about the school reforms made by countries throughout the world the consequences associated with these choices the role that societal values historical antecedents and political structures play in facilitating or constraining reform Balancing Change and Tradition in Global Education Reform is an invaluable resource for policymakers faculty students and anyone interested in how decisions made about the education system ultimately affect the quality of education educational access and social justice International Education Governance S. Karin Amos, 2010-09-27 Intends to sharpen our analytical tools in order to better appreciate the term governance in the educational field This title also addresses the marginally studied issue of change in the educational science order Immigrants and Refugees at German Universities Lisa Unangst, 2024-07-22 This book takes a critical and historical perspective in parsing the current state of play for refugee and immigrant students in Germany addressing federal state and institutional innovations as well as gaps in service Drawing from de post anticolonial theory it considers the levels of support for diverse groups including migrants refugees and racialized Germans investigating why a comparatively well resourced higher education system has to date selectively invested in the support of some marginalized groups It calls for the reconsideration of policy and programmatic support drawing from emerging best practice across states and higher education institutions HEIs Using historical analysis federal and state level policy documents institutional equal opportunity plans and student facing websites reporting and first person accounts of marginalized students both prospective and enrolled this critically oriented work interrogates how and why the world's fourth largest economy and its primarily public higher education system have failed to engage systemic change with an eye towards addressing mechanisms of exclusion including racialization and xenophobia It concludes with a consideration of possible policy interventions supporting these minoritized student groups who are essential not only to German learning and economy but also to the rebuilding of conflict states This volume will appeal to researchers scholars and practitioners working across comparative and international higher education crisis education and education in emergencies as well as diversity specialists Newsnotes on Education Around the World United States.
