sheriff opened his own public school at the Orleans Parish Prison The Prison School as locals called it enrolled low income African American boys who had been removed from regular public schools because of nonviolent disciplinary offenses such as tardiness and insubordination By examining this school in the local and national context Lizbet Simmons shows how young black males are in the liminal state of losing educational affiliation while being caught in the net of correctional control In The Prison School she asks how schools and prisons became so intertwined What does this mean for students communities and a democratic society And how do we unravel the ties that bind the racialized realities of school failure and mass incarceration The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1886 The School News and Practical Educator ,1903
