Ecology And Vision:

Adaptive Mechanisms in the Ecology of Vision S. Archer, 1999-01-31 The field of the ecology of vision has grown considerably since John Lythgoe first wrote his original book on the subject in 1979 John Lythgoe was instrumental in founding the subject that has inspired vision researchers to relate the functioning of the visual system with the visual requirements demanded by the environment and behaviour of the animal in it This book represents a timely and much needed review of the wealth of research that has been carried out in the last twenty years It deals with theoretical and physical considerations of light and photoreception practical examples of visual system structure and function and aspects of visual behaviour and communication Importantly the book emphasises one of the main themes to have emerged from studies of the ecology of vision that the visual system is extremely adaptable when confronted with changing environmental and behavioural conditions Finally this updated review is a multi author collection of leading experts currently working in the field of visual ecology a requirement that reflects the high level of current research activity The book approaches the visual system from many different areas of biology including neurobiology sensory biology cellular biology and behavioural biology Consequently the book will be of interest to workers both within and outside the field of vision research and also to undergraduate and graduate students interested in vision

The Ecological Vision Peter Drucker, 2017-09-08 Periods of great social change reveal a tension between the need for continuity and the need for innovation The twentieth century has witnessed both radical alteration and tenacious durability in social organization politics economics and art To comprehend these changes as history and as guideposts to the future Peter F Drucker has over a lifetime pursued a discipline that he terms social ecology The writings brought together in The Ecological Vision define the discipline as a sustained inquiry into the man made environment and an active effort at maintaining equilibrium between change and conservation The chapters in this volume range over a wide array of disciplines and subject matter They are linked by a common concern with the interaction of the individual and society and a common perspective that views economics technology politics and art as dimensions of social experience and expressions of social value Included here are profiles of such figures as Henry Ford John C Calhoun Soren Kierkegaard and Thomas Watson analyses of the economics of Keynes and Schumpeter and explorations of the social functions of business management information and technology Drucker's chapters on Japan examine the dynamics of cultural and economic change and afford striking comparisons with similar processes in the West In the concluding chapter Reflections of a Social Ecologist Drucker traces the development of his discipline through such intellectual antecedents as Alexis de Tocqueville Walter Bagehot and Wilhelm von Humboldt He illustrates the ecological vision an active practical and moral approach to social questions Peter Drucker summarizes a lifetime of work and exemplifies the communicative clarity that are requisites of all intellectual enterprises His book will be of interest to economists business people foreign affairs specialists and intellectual historians

Gibson,2013-05-13 This is a book about how we see the environment around us its surfaces their layout and their colors and textures where we are in the environment whether or not we are moving and if we are where we are going what things are good for how to do things to thread a needle or drive an automobile or why things look as they do The basic assumption is that vision depends on the eye which is connected to the brain The author suggests that natural vision depends on the eyes in the head on a body supported by the ground the brain being only the central organ of a complete visual system When no constraints are put on the visual system people look around walk up to something interesting and move around it so as to see it from all sides and go from one vista to another That is natural vision and what this book is about Vision ,2001

Vision + Value Series: Arts of the environment Gyorgy Kepes,1972 Journal of Experimental Biology ,2002 A Green and Permanent Land Randal S. Beeman,James A. Pritchard,2001 Once patronized primarily by the counterculture and the health food establishment the organic food industry today is a multi billion dollar business driven by ever growing consumer demand for safe food and greater public awareness of ecological issues Assumed by many to be a recent phenomenon that industry owes much to agricultural innovations that go back to the Dust Bowl era This book explores the roots and branches of alternative agricultural ideas in twentieth century America showing how ecological thought has challenged and changed agricultural theory practice and policy from the 1930s to the present It introduces us to the people and institutions who forged alternatives to industrialized agriculture through a deep concern for the enduring fertility of the soil a passionate commitment to human health and a strong advocacy of economic justice for farmers Randal Beeman and James Pritchard show that agricultural issues were central to the rise of the environmental movement in the United States As family farms failed during the Depression a new kind of agriculture was championed based on the holistic approach taught by the emerging science of ecology Ecology influenced the permanent agriculture movement that advocated such radical concepts as long term land use planning comprehensive soil conservation and organic farming Then in the 1970s sustainable agriculture combined many of these ideas with new concerns about misguided technology and an over consumptive culture to preach a more sensible approach to farming In chronicling the overlooked history of alternative agriculture A Green and Permanent Land records the significant contributions of individuals like Rex Tugwell Hugh Bennett Louis Bromfield Edward Faulkner Russell and Kate Lord Scott and Helen Nearing Robert Rodale Wes Jackson and groups like Friends of the Land and the Practical Farmers of Iowa And by demonstrating how agriculture also remains central to the public interest especially in the face of climatic crises genetically altered crops and questionable uses of pesticides this book puts these issues in historical perspective and offers readers considerable food for thought
