Enthoven, 2014-04-23 These lectures review the research and experience on the subject of health care economy The author also sets down a moderately rigorous statement of the economic concepts underlying the kind of competition that he regards as the most promising way to achieve a reasonable degree of equity and efficiency in health care The first lecture is on the public policy goals of health care financing and delivery and discusses efficiency in health care The second presents an economic analysis of the systems for organizing and financing medical care systems in the United States The third lecture is about managed competition and the fourth reviews American experience with efforts to convert from the traditional system to a competitive system The book is addressed primarily to economists health policy makers and health services researchers It explains how market forces may be managed in pursuit of equity and efficiency in health care It addresses systematically many of the causes of market failure and proposes a strategy managed competition for overcoming them It should be of interest to policy makers in any country interested in incentives for more efficient health care delivery It should also be very useful supplemental reading for courses in health care economics Serious and Unstable Condition Henry Aaron,2010-12-01 The United States spends more on health care than any other nation in the world yet millions of Americans cannot afford basic care for acute illnesses few are insured against the costs of long term care and many frequently used medical procedures have never been fully evaluated The goals of controlling spiraling health care costs and extending insurance coverage or even maintaining current insurance coverage seem to be in conflict But progress can be made on both goals if they are tacked together Henry Aaron evaluates these critical issues and explores how adequate care can be provided without fueling inflation Because the current arrangements for financing America s health care cannot endure Aaron contends that a major national debate on the restructuring of the U S system of financing health care is inescapable and major legislation is likely Serious and Unstable Condition offers a guide that is crucial to understanding the reform debate It explains the important economic issues of health care as a background for evaluating both the current system and proposals for change Aaron compares the U S system of health care financing with certain foreign systems and reviews major options for reform He cautions that unless the health insurance system is radically changed the number of uninsured will continue to increase and costs will continue to escalate He then offers his own comprehensive plan to address these problems Financing Health Care Mingshan Lu,2008-04-09 Discussing international issues of health care financing this is the first volume in a completely new public health book series edited by the Institute of Health Economics IHE in Edmonton Canada Starting with various funding methods the reference also features sections on different health care payment and purchasing mechanisms as well as equity issues Of interest to medical and allied health professionals and those working in health care industries insurance and economics Financing Universal Access To Healthcare: A Comparative Review Of Landmark Legislative Health Reforms In The Oecd Alexander S Preker,2018-03-20 The recent expansion of health insurance coverage in the USA under the Affordable Health Care Act and current threats to reverse the benefits of this reform have once again focused the world s attention on the difficult challenges faced by other countries trying to provide better access to healthcare to their population at an affordable cost This textbook provides a comparative review of financing universal access to healthcare in the Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development OECD countries The first two chapters of the book provide a framework for financing universal access to healthcare The remaining eight chapters present case studies of eight OECD countries that have successfully introduced reforms to finance universal access to healthcare for their population through landmark legislative reforms A concluding chapter focuses on the lessons learned from the OECD and recommendations from policymakers and others who are planning

Health Financing in the Developing World Guy Carrin, 2011 A collection of peer reviewed articles and contributions to books this overview of the finance of health insurance concentrates on developing countries The material covers various financing strategies and explains how each can or cannot help improve the transition toward universal coverage The model plans shown here are particularly useful for policy makers and technical advisers who have to decide upon health financing policies or are engaged in a debate about them and the sample forms can be adjusted to the particular economic and political context of the developing countries involved In addition there are reminders that this process varies in some countries universal coverage may take time and require a step by step approach In other developing countries a swift transition to universal coverage may be quite feasible
