Dostoevsky and the Epileptic Mode of Being Paul Fung, 2017-07-05 For Fyodor Dostoevsky 1821-81 who lived with epileptic seizures for more than thirty years illness is an ineradicable part of existence Epilepsy in his writings denotes both a set of physical symptoms and a state of survival in which the protagonists incessantly try to articulate theorize or master what is ungraspable in their everyday experience Their attempts to deal with what they cannot control or comprehend results in disappointment or what Dostoevsky called a mystical terror Dostoevsky's heroes are unable fully to understand this state and their existence becomes epileptic in so far as self knowledge and self coincidence are never achieved Fung explores new critical pathways by reexamining five of Dostoevsky's post Siberian novels Drawing on insights from writers including Benjamin Blanchot Freud Lacan and Nietzsche the book takes epilepsy as a trope for discussing the unspeakable moments in the texts and is intended for students and scholars who are interested in the subject of modernity critique of the visual and dialogues between philosophy and literature Paul Fung is Assistant Professor in English at Hang Seng Management College Hong Kong

Reconstructing Education Greta Hofman Nemiroff, 1992-05-30 Drawing on elements of progressive education existential theory feminist pedagogy and values education critical humanism combines the holistic psychological concerns of humanistic education with the sociopolitical contextualization of critical pedagogy Developed over the past seventeen years in one of North America's most experimental postsecondary programs The New School of Dawson College this theory and practice responds to both the personal and the political needs of students Reconstructing Education is at once a review of this century's educational theories an account of the work at the school and an empowering illustration of the way in which schools can incite the motivation of students and encourage them to become active members in a truly democratic society The case study chapters on The New School give concrete examples of how this philosophy is manifested in the school's methodology structure and pedagogy and draws heavily on the written work of teachers and students To formulate a similar approach for a specific school it is essential to combine a rigorous analysis of existing educational models with the dialectical process of creating and recreating a new model defined by the articulation of both learners and teachers affective cognitive and socially constructed needs This is a valuable book for anyone concerned with alternative approaches to education and for courses on educational theory or the philosophy of education

American community From Modernism to Postmodernism Gerhard Hoffmann, 2016-08-01 This systemic study discusses in its historical cultural and aesthetic context the postmodern American novel between the years of 1960 and 1980. A general overview of the various definitions of postmodernism in philosophy, cultural theory and aesthetics provides the framework for the inquiry into more specific problems such as the broadening of aesthetics, the relationship between aesthetics and ethics, the transformation of the artistic tradition, the interdependence between modernism and postmodernism and the change in the aesthetics of fiction. Other topics addressed here include situationalism, montage, the ordinary and the fantastic, the subject and the character, the imagination, comic modes and the future of the postmodern strategies. The authors whose fiction is treated in some detail under the various aspects thematized are John Barth, Donald Barthelme, Richard Brautigan, Robert Coover, Stanley Elkin, Raymond Federman, William Gaddis, John Hawkes, Jerzy Kosinski, Thomas Pynchon, Ishmael Reed, Ronald Sukenick and Kurt Vonnegut.

The First Naipaul World Epics, 2021-07-31 The plethora of commentary from highly respected voices in a broad cross section of academic disciplines which V S Naipaul's death on 11 August 2018 elicited ranged so widely both cognitively and emotionally that if a student of literature unfamiliar with the Naipaulian era read it all they would have failed to make sense of the divergences. Allegations included that he was a cruel man, a scarred man, the darkest dungeons of colonialism incarnate, self-punishing, self-loathing, world-loathing, full of nastiness and fury, a ventriloquist for the nastiest clichés. European colonialism had devised to rule the world with arrogance and confidence and so on. On the other hand, writers referred to Naipaul as a brilliant writer, a writer one who holds a mirror of imagination unto society to capture a certain view of reality and one who has turned the genre of the travelogue into an art form. Debates aside, many of us appreciate the value of Naipaul's writing to the deepest possible comprehension of the imperial impulse and the myriad reasons it manifested as colonialism. The First Naipaul World Epics is the first in a series of critical collections that aim to demonstrate this value. At the same time, the series seeks to help the new student through the quagmire of divergent opinions his personality and writing have generated.
