Ecological Security In Northeast Asia:

Ecological Security in Northeast Asia Miranda Alice Schreurs, Dennis Pirages, 1998      The Environmental Dimension of Asian Security In-t'aek Hyön, Miranda Alice Schreurs, 2007 Northeast Asia is a region with highly disparate levels of industrialization and political systems It also contains some very troubling security flashpoints the Taiwan Strait the Korean Peninsula and the East China Sea China's rapacious quest for energy and rapid industrial expansion have led to intense international competition with Japan and the United States and internal instability as well North Korea poses two distinct environmental security threats famine refugees and the regime's use of nuclear blackmail for subsidized energy Yet there is very little regional cooperation despite the need to manage disputes over energy natural resources and pervasive pollution The Environmental Dimension of Asian Security examines these issues through a regional environmental security complex that explores the potential for greater intersubjective understandings of regional environmental and natural resource problems and greater institutional collaboration and management      Environmental Change and Security Project Report, 1998      Complexity, Security and Civil Society in East Asia Peter Hayes, Kiho Yi, 2015-06-22 Complexity Security and Civil Society in East Asia offers the latest understanding of complex global problems in the region including nuclear weapons urban insecurity energy and climate change Detailed case studies of China North and South Korea and Japan demonstrate the importance of civil society and civic diplomacy in reaching shared solutions to these problems in East Asia and beyond Each chapter describes regional civil society initiatives that tackle complex challenges to East Asia's security In doing so the book identifies key pressure points at which civil society can push for constructive changes especially ones that reduce the North Korean threat to its neighbors Unusually this book is both theoretical and practical Complexity Security and Civil Society in East Asia presents strategies that can be led by civil society and negotiated by its diplomats to realize peace security and sustainability worldwide It shows that networked civic diplomacy offers solutions to these urgent issues that official complex diplomacy cannot By providing a new theoretical framework based on empirical observation this volume is a must read for diplomats scholars students journalists activists and individual readers seeking insight into how to solve the crucial issues of our time      Facing Global Environmental Change Hans Günter Brauch, Navnita Chadha Behera, Patricia Kameri-Mbote, John Grin, Úrsula Oswald Spring, Béchir Chourou, Czeslaw Mesjasz, Heinz Krümmenacher, 2009-06-04 The year 2007 could perhaps accurately be described as the year when climate change finally received the attention that this challenge deserves globally Much of the information and knowledge that was created in this field during the year was the result of the findings of the Fourth Assessment Report AR4 of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC which were disseminated on a large scale and reported extensively by the media This was the result not only of a heightened interest on the part of the public on various aspects of climate change but also because the IPCC itself proactively attempted to spread the findings of its AR4 to the public at large The interest generated on the scientific realities of climate change was further enhanced by the award of the Nobel Peace Prize to the IPCC and former Vice President of the US Al Gore. By taking this decision in favour of a leader who has done a great deal to create awareness on climate change and a body that assesses all scientific aspects of climate change and disseminates the result of its findings the Norwegian Nobel Committee has clearly drawn the link between climate change and peace in the world. Japan's Security Relations with China Since 1989

China's Challenges to Human Security Guoguang Wu, 2012-11-27 This book looks at human security in China's foreign relations. It discusses the concept and theory of human security and their implications for China. The book goes on to analyse environmental security issues including climate change and water resources as well as looking at issues from an energy consumption perspective. Significant human security issues are then focussed on including food safety, pandemic disease control, migration and the human rights implications of China's overseas investment. Landscape and Land Capacity

Yeqiao Wang, 2020-05-19 Authored by world class scientists and scholars The Handbook of Natural Resources Second Edition is an excellent reference for understanding the consequences of changing natural resources to the degradation of ecological integrity and the sustainability of life. Based on the content of the bestselling and CHOICE awarded Encyclopedia of Natural Resources this new edition demonstrates the major challenges that the society is facing for the sustainability of all well being on the planet Earth. The experience, evidence, methods and models used in studying natural resources are presented in six stand alone volumes arranged along the main systems of land, water and air. It reviews state of the art knowledge, highlights advances made in different areas and provides guidance for the appropriate use of remote sensing and geospatial data with field based measurements in the study of natural resources. Volume 2 Landscape and Land Capacity covers soils and landscape issues, their diversity and importance and how soils are related to the landscapes in which they form. It includes discussions on land conservation, land use and land cover changes and urban environments and unravels the complex bond between humans and soils. New in this edition are discussions on habitat conservation and planning, landscape epidemiology and vector borne disease and landscape patterns and changes. This volume demonstrates the key processes, methods and models used through several practical case studies from around the world. Written in an easy to reference manner The Handbook of Natural Resources Second Edition as individual volumes or as a complete set is an essential reading for anyone looking for a deeper understanding of the science and management of natural resources. Public and private libraries, educational and research institutions, scientists, scholars and resource managers will benefit enormously from this set. Individual volumes and chapters can also be used in a wide variety of both graduate and undergraduate courses in environmental science and natural science at different levels and disciplines such as biology, geography, earth system science and ecology. Energy Security and Geopolitics in the Arctic Hooman Peimani, 2013 This book sheds light on how global warming has caused the ongoing environmental disaster in the Arctic namely its melting It offers insights on the issues that have grave implications for energy security and geopolitics in the arctic

Environmental Politics in Japan, Germany, and the United States Miranda A. Schreurs, 2003-03-13 A decade of climate change negotiations almost ended in failure because of the different policy approaches of the industrialized states Japan Germany and the United States exemplify the deep divisions that exist among states in their approaches to environmental protection Germany is following what could be called the green social welfare state approach to environmental protection which is increasingly guided by what is known as the precautionary principle In contrast the US is increasingly leaning away from the use of environmental regulations towards the use of market based mechanisms to control pollution and cost benefit analysis to determine when environmental protection should take precedence over economic activities Internal political divisions mean that Japan sits uneasily between these two approaches Miranda A Schreurs uses a variety of case studies to explore why these different policy approaches emerged and what their implications are examining the differing ideas actors and institutions in each state
