Parliament. House of Commons, 1877 A New English Dictionary on Historical Principles Bradley, James Augustus Henry Murray, Murray, 1914 Stepping Forth into the World Edward J. M. Rhoads, 2011-02-01 The Chinese Educational Mission was one of the earliest efforts at educational modernization in China As part of the Self Strengthening Movement the Qing government sent 120 students to New England to live and study for a decade before they were abruptly summoned home to China in 1881 This book based upon extensive research in local archives and newspapers focuses on the experiences of the students during their nine year stay in the United States Historians of modern China will find this book highly relevant because of its detailed account of one of the major projects of the Self Strengthening Movement To date there are at most two credible studies in English and Chinese on the Chinese Educational Mission both are deficient in source citation and tend to dwell on the students experiences after their return to China rather than during their stay in America This volume will also appeal to specialists in Asian American studies for its comparing and contrasting the experiences of the Chinese students with those of other Chinese in the United States during a period of rising anti Chinese sentiment which culminated in the enactment of Chinese Exclusion in 1882 This book offers a slightly different perspective than most other works on the nature of the anti Chinese movement which may have been more class based rather than race based The compare and contrast of students from China with those from Japan which also sent large numbers of students to New England at roughly the same period of time will be of interest to East Asian comparative historians as well Edward J M Rhoads is a professor emeritus in history at the University of Texas at Austin He is the author of China's Republican Revolution The Case of Kwangtung 1895-1913 and Manchus and Han Ethnic Relations and Political Power in Late Qing and Early Republican China 1861-1928 Rhoads has meticulously constructed the individual and collective histories of the 120 young men and boys sent by a beleaguered late Qing government to live and acquire English and Western knowledge in white New England families schools and universities As the vanguard of legions of Chinese students who have studied in the U S since and as contemporaries of the far more numerous Chinese coolies whose paths they never crossed this compelling study adds a surprising new chapter to early Asian American history Evelyn Hu DeHart Professor of History and Ethnic Studies Director Center for the Study of Race and Ethnicity in America Brown University
