Taiwan Cinema as Soft Power

Song Hwee Lim, 2022 Why has Taiwanese film been so appealing to film directors critics and audiences across the world This book argues that because Taiwan is a nation without hard political and economic power cinema becomes a form of soft power tool that Taiwan uses to attract global attention to gain support and to build allies Author Song Hwee Lim shows how this goal has been achieved by Taiwanese directors whose films win the hearts and minds of foreign audiences to make Taiwan a major force in world cinema The book maps Taiwan s cinematic output in the twenty first century through the three keywords in the book s subtitle authorship transnationality historiography Its object of analysis is the legacy of Taiwan New Cinema a movement that begun in the early 1980s that has had a lasting impact upon filmmakers and cinephiles worldwide for nearly forty years By examining case studies that include Hou Hsiao hsien Ang Lee and Tsai Ming liang this book suggests that authorship is central to Taiwan cinema s ability to transcend borders to the extent that the historiographical writing of Taiwan cinema has to be reimagined It also looks at the scaling down of soft power from the global to the regional via a cultural imaginary called little freshness which describes films and cultural products from Taiwan that have become hugely popular in China and Hong Kong In presenting Taiwan cinema s significance as a case of a small nation with enormous soft power this book hopes to recast the terms and stakes of both cinema studies and soft power studies in academia

The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas Carlos Rojas, Eileen Chow, 2013-03-13 What does it mean for a cinematic work to be Chinese Does it refer specifically to a work s subject or does it also reflect considerations of language ethnicity nationality ideology or political orientation Such questions make any single approach to a vast field like Chinese cinema difficult at best Accordingly The Oxford Handbook of Chinese Cinemas situates the term more broadly among various different phases genres and distinct national configurations while taking care to address the consequences of grouping together so many disparate histories under a single banner Offering both a platform for cross disciplinary dialogue and a mapping of Chinese cinema as an expanded field this Handbook presents thirty three essays by leading researchers and scholars intent on yielding new insights and new analyses using three different methodologies Chapters in Part I investigate the historical periodizations of the field through changing notions of national and political identity all the way from the industry s beginnings in the 1920s up to its current forms in contemporary Hong Kong Taiwan and the global diaspora Chapters in Part II feature studies centered on the field s taxonomical formalities including such topics as the role of the Chinese opera in technological innovation the political logic of the Maoist film and the psychoanalytic formula of the kung fu action film Finally in Part III focus is given to the structural elements that comprise a work s production distribution and reception to reveal the broader cinematic apparatuses within which these works are positioned Taken together the multipronged approach supports a wider platform beyond the geopolitical and linguistic limitations in existing scholarship Expertly edited to illustrate a representative set of up to date topics and approaches The Oxford Handbook of Chinese
