British Empire An inquisitive seven year old Martin Booth found himself with the whole of Hong Kong at his feet when his father was posted there in the early 1950s Unrestricted by parental control and blessed with bright blond hair that signified good luck to the Chinese he had free access to hidden corners of the colony normally closed to a Gweilo a pale fellow like him Befriending rickshaw coolies and local stallholders he learnt Cantonese sampled delicacies such as boiled water beetles and one hundred year old eggs and participated in colourful festivals He even entered the forbidden Kowloon Walled City wandered into the secret lair of the Triads and visited an opium den Along the way he encountered a colourful array of people from the plink plonk man with his dancing monkey to Nagasaki Jim a drunken child molester and the Queen of Kowloon the crazed tramp who may have been a member of the Romanov family Shadowed by the unhappiness of his warring parents a broad minded mother who like her son was keen to embrace all things Chinese and a bigoted father who was enraged by his family s interest in going native Martin Booth s compelling memoir is a journey into Chinese culture and an extinct colonial way of life that glows with infectious curiosity and humour
