Golden Road To Modernity:

A Comparative Sociology of World Religions Stephen Sharot, 2001-08 A Sociology of World Religions presents a comparative analysis of the world's religions focusing on the differences and interrelationships between religious elites and lay masses. In each case the volume contextualizes how the relationships between these two religious forms fit within and are influenced by the wider socio-political environment. After introducing the book's major themes, the volume introduces and builds upon an analysis of Weber's model of religious action, drawing on Durkheim, Marxist scholars and the work of contemporary sociologists and anthropologists. The following chapters each focus on major religious cultures including Hinduism, Buddhism, Catholicism, Protestantism, Islam, Judaism and the religions of China and Japan. This ambitious project is the first to offer a comparison of the popular or folk forms of religion around the world. Sharot's accessible introductions to each of the world religions, synthesizing a vast literature on popular religion from sociology, anthropology and historians of religion, make the project ideal for course use. His comparative approach and original analyses will prove rewarding even for experts on each of the world religions.

Edmund Leach Stanley J. Tambiah, 2002-02-14 Intellectual biography of Edmund Leach, a leading social anthropologist of his generation, with illustrations. Buddhism, Politics and Political Thought in Myanmar

Matthew J. Walton, 2017 Walton explains political dynamics in Myanmar through Buddhist thought, providing a conceptual framework for understanding Myanmar's ongoing political transition.

Crafting Parliament in Myanmar's Disciplined Democracy (2011-2021) Renaud Egretteau, 2022-03-01 In January 2011, parliament was restored in Myanmar after two decades of military rule. Startlingly, it began to repeal obsolete laws, scrutinize government expenditures, summon ministers to the floor and discuss the state's annual budget. It also allowed its elected representatives to make public the grievances collected from constituents infuriated at enduring practices of land confiscation, petty corruption and everyday abuses of power. Yet ten years later, in February 2021, parliament was shut down again by a coup d'état. What has been learned in the span of a decade of post-junta parliamentary resurgence? How could an elected legislature resurface and function in a country that had only limited experience with parliamentary affairs and representative politics since its independence from British rule? What lessons can be drawn from the Myanmar case for parliamentary institution building and legislative developments and decay in post-authoritarian and praetorian contexts? This book offers a compelling account of Myanmar's halting efforts to develop the institutional framework and practice of a parliament-based democratic governance between 2011 and 2021. It charts the stages of such a legislative resurgence, tracing its causes and exploring how various institutional and political legacies both informed and constrained the re-establishment and operations of the Union legislature or Pyidaungsu Hluttaw. Embracing both ethnographic observations and a methodical engagement with legislative proceedings and historical material, Renaud Egretteau investigates how parliamentary life re-emerged in Myanmar in the 2010s. His analysis concentrates on key legislative mechanisms, processes and tasks pertaining to government oversight, budgetary control representation and lawmaking and interrogates how they were learned re appropriated and mis performed by Myanmar s new breed of legislators and parliamentary staff until the 2021 army takeover
