Golden Roads Migration Pilgrimage And Travel In Medieval And Modern Islam:

Golden Roads Ian Richard Netton, 2005-09-29 Essays on themes migration pilgrimage and travel as old as Islam itself and integral in the development of a cosmopolitan Islamic social order embracing much of Africa and Eurasia Golden Roads Ian Richard Netton, 1993 The triple themes of this book migration pilgrimage and travel in Islam are as old as the religion itself The Prophet Muhammad made his famous archetypal Hijra migration from Mecca to Medina in 622 AD a year which became the Year 1 of the Muslim lunar calendar the Hajj pilgrimage of Farewell enacted by the Prophet in 632 AD provided the paradigm for all future pilgrimages to the sacred Ka ba in Mecca while a much quoted hadith portrays the Founder of Islam counselling his followers that they should seek knowledge even as far as China The concept of Rihla travel in search of knowledge thus became a primary motif in the lives of many medieval and modern Muslim scholars jurists collectors of tradition and indeed ordinary people The Mamluk Sultanate from the Perspective of Regional and World History Reuven Amitai, Stephan Conermann, 2019-06-17 The Mamluk Sultanate represents an extremely interesting case study to examine social economic and cultural developments in the transition into the rapidly changing modern world On the one hand it is the heir of a political and military tradition that goes back hundreds of years and brought this to a high pitch that enabled astounding victories over serious external threats On the other hand as time went on it was increasingly confronted with modern problems that would necessitate fundamental changes in its structure and content The Mamluk period was one of great religious and social change and in many ways the modern demographic map was established at this time This volume shows that the situation of the Mamluk Sultanate was far from that of decadence and until the end it was a vibrant society although not without tensions and increasing problems that did its best to adapt and compete in a rapidly changing world The New Cambridge History of Islam: Volume 4, Islamic Cultures and Societies to the End of the Eighteenth Century Robert Irwin, 2010-11-04 Robert Irwin's authoritative introduction to the fourth volume of The New Cambridge History of Islam offers a panoramic vision of Islamic culture from its origins to around 1800 The introductory chapter which highlights key developments and introduces some of Islam's most famous protagonists paves the way for an extraordinarily varied collection of essays The themes treated include religion and law conversion Islam's relationship with the natural world governance and politics caliphs and kings philosophy science medicine language art architecture literature music and even cookery What emerges from this rich collection written by an international team of experts is the diversity and dynamism of the societies which created this flourishing civilization Volume four of The New Cambridge History of Islam serves as a thematic companion to the three preceding politically oriented volumes and in coverage extends across the pre modern Islamic world Court Ceremonies and Rituals of Power in Byzantium and the Medieval Mediterranean, 2013-09-19 Publicly performed rituals and ceremonies form an essential part of medieval political practice and court culture This applies not only to western feudal societies but also to the linguistically and culturally highly diversified environment of Byzantium and the Mediterranean basin The continuity of Roman traditions and cross fertilization between various influences originating from Constantinople Armenia the Arab Muslim World and western kingdoms and naval powers provide the framework for a distinct sphere of ritual expression and ceremonial performance This collective volume placing Byzantium into a comparative perspective between East and West examines transformative processes from Late Antiquity to the Middle Ages succession procedures in different political contexts phenomena of cross cultural appropriation and exchange and the representation of rituals in art and literature Contributors are Maria Kantirea Martin Hinterberger Walter Pohl Andrew Marsham Björn Weiler Eric J Hanne Antonia Giannouli Jo Van Steenbergen Stefan Burkhardt Ioanna Rapti Jonathan Shepard Panagiotis Agapitos Henry Maguire Christine Angelidi and Margaret Mullett

German Jewry and the Allure of the Sephardic John M. Efron, 2019-05-28 In the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries as German Jews struggled for legal emancipation and social acceptance they also embarked on a program of cultural renewal two key dimensions of which were distancing themselves from their fellow Ashkenazim in Poland and giving a special place to the Sephardim of medieval Spain Where they saw Ashkenazic Jewry as insular and backward a result of Christian persecution they depicted the Sephardim as worldly morally and intellectually superior and beautiful products of the tolerant Muslim environment in which they lived In this elegantly written book John Efron looks in depth at the special allure Sephardic aesthetics held for German Jewry Efron examines how German Jews idealized the sound of Sephardic Hebrew and the Sephardim's physical and moral beauty and shows how the allure of the Sephardic found expression in neo Moorish synagogue architecture historical novels and romanticized depictions of Sephardic history He argues that the shapers of German Jewish culture imagined medieval Iberian Jewry as an exemplary Jewish community bound by tradition yet fully at home in the dominant culture of Muslim Spain Efron argues that the myth of Sephardic superiority was actually an expression of withering self critique by German Jews who by seeking to transform Ashkenazic culture and win the acceptance of German society hoped to enter their own golden age Stimulating and provocative this book demonstrates how the goal of this aesthetic self refashioning was not assimilation but rather the creation of a new form of German Jewish identity inspired by Sephardic beauty

The [European] Other in Medieval Arabic Literature and Culture N. Hermes, 2012-04-09 Contrary to the monolithic impression left by postcolonial theories of Orientalism the book makes the case that Orientals did not exist solely to be gazed at Hermes shows that there was no shortage of medieval Muslims who cast curious eyes towards the European Other and that more than a handful of them were interested in Europe New Perspectives on Safavid Iran Colin P.

Mitchell, 2011-03-03 Based around the three key themes historiography politics and economy art and architecture this collection examines the latest research on Safavid Iran The book dedicated to the renowned Safavid historian Roger Savory will supplement and re-interpret the existing literature on the subject Europe Through Arab Eyes, 1578-1727 Nabil I. Matar, 2009 and Malta From the first non-European description of Queen Elizabeth I to early accounts of Florence and Pisa in Arabic from Tunisian descriptions of the Morisco expulsion in 1609 to the letters of a Moroccan Armenian ambassador in London the translations of the book's second half draw on the popular and elite sources that were available to Arabs in the early modern period Matar notes that the Arabs of the Maghrib and the Mashriq were eager to engage Christendom despite wars and rivalries and hoped to establish routes of trade and alliances through treaties and royal marriages However the rise of an intolerant and exclusionary Christianity and the explosion of European military technology brought these advances to an end In conclusion Matar details the decline of Arab Islamic power and the rise of Britain and France Book Jacket

Three Centuries of Travel Writing by Muslim Women Siobhan Lambert-Hurley, Daniel Majchrowicz, Sunil

Sharma,2022-08-02 When thinking of intrepid travelers from past centuries we don't usually put Muslim women at the top of the list And yet the stunning firsthand accounts in this collection completely upend preconceived notions of who was exploring the world Editors Siobhan Lambert Hurley Daniel Majchrowicz and Sunil Sharma recover translate annotate and provide historical and cultural context for the 17th to 20th century writings of Muslim women travelers in ten different languages Queens and captives pilgrims and provocateurs these women are diverse Their connection to Islam is wide ranging as well from the devout to those who distanced themselves from religion What unites these adventurers is a concern for other women they encounter their willingness to record their experiences and the constant thoughts they cast homeward even as they traveled a world that was not always prepared to welcome them Perfect for readers interested in gender Islam travel writing and global history Three Centuries of Travel Writing by Muslim Women provides invaluable insight into how these daring women experienced the world in their own voices The Meaning of Mecca M. E. McMillam,2011-12-05 The hajj the fifth pillar of Islam is a religious duty to be performed once in a lifetime by all Muslims who are able The Prophet Muhammad set out the rituals of hajj when he led what became known as the Farewell Hajj in 10 AH 632AD This set the seal on Muhammad's career as the founder of a religion and the leader of a political entity based on that religion The convergence of the Prophet with the politician infuses the hajj with political as well as religious significance For the caliphs who led the Islamic community after Muhammad's death leadership of the hajj became a position of enormous political relevance as it presented them with an unrivalled opportunity to proclaim their pious credentials and reinforce their political legitimacy Exhaustively researched The Meaning of Mecca is the first study to analyse the leadership of the hajj in the formative and medieval periods and to assess the political subtext of Islam's most high profile religious ritual Mecca F. E. Peters,2017-03-14 For the non Muslim Mecca is the most forbidden of Holy Cities and yet in many ways it is the best known Muslim historians and geographers have studied it and countless pilgrims and travelers many of them European Christians in disguise have left behind lively and well publicized accounts of life in Mecca and its associated shrine city of Medina where the Prophet lies buried The stories of all these figures holy men and heathens alike come together in this book to offer a remarkably revealing literary portrait of the city's traditions and urban life and of the surrounding area Closely following the publication of F E Peters's The Hajj Princeton 1994 which describes the perilous pilgrimage itself from the travelers' perspectives this collection of writings and commentary completes the historical travelogue The accounts begin with the Muslims themselves in the patriarchal age of Abraham and Ishmael and trace the sometimes glorious and sometimes sad history of Islam's central shrine down to the last Grand Sharif of Mecca Husayn ibn Ali whose fragile kingdom was overtaken by the House of Sa'ud in 1926 Because of chronic flooding and constant rebuilding there is little or no material evidence for the early history of Islam's holy cities By assembling analyzing and fashioning these literary accounts of Mecca however Peters supplies us with a vivid sense of place and human interaction much as he did in his widely acclaimed Jerusalem
