Golden Space:

The Golden Space Pamela Sargent, 2015-05-19 A brilliant vision of a future Earth populated by immortals from the Nebula and Locus Award winning author of The Shore of Women The Seattle Times When Josepha was a teenager she tried to kill herself But the pills she swallowed did not deliver the release she was seeking and three hundred years later she is still alive thanks to the miraculous scientific breakthrough called the Transition Like Josepha the biologist Merripen can remember only too well what the world once was before his groundbreaking work in genetic engineering rendered death obsolete The perfect children he and Josepha bred together were unburdened by physical flaws and emotional defects And now centuries on these undying offspring have an eternity to question the reasons for their very existence and to seek answers in Death Cults and frightening new experiments in genetic manipulation Vividly imagined episodic in structure The Golden Space is a profound and disturbing meditation on humanity's desire for immortality from one of the genre's best writers The Washington Post

Homesmind Pamela Sargent, 2014-04-01 Anra is a solitary She was born without the power to mindspeak and unlike her fellows she cannot communicate in unspoken thoughts In the past she would have been killed at birth but the arrival of the Wanderer the comet controlled by the cybernetic intelligence known as the Homesmind has changed everything The people of the comet the skydwellers now supply solitaires with implants that allow artificial mindspeaking The solitaires are sequestered in a single village that is willing to care for such children Anra and her new brethren were thought to be the possible bridge between the people of Earth and the skydwellers but the gap may be too great since the people of Earth consider solitaires an abomination and the skydwellers as soulless The solitaires are instead outcasts in two worlds part of each but fully accepted in neither Another comet enters the system refusing to communicate with Homesmind and speaking to the people of Earth with the voices of their own dead seducing them into a submission of their individual wills and trying to lure them to oblivion Anra and her fellow solitaires have the power to resist their call but can they unite in time to save everyone else

The Shore of Women Pamela Sargent, 2014-04-01 A dystopian tale of a power struggle between the sexes in the post nuclear future perfect for readers of Margaret Atwood and Ursula K Le Guin After a nuclear holocaust women rule the world Using advanced technology they've expelled men from their vast walled cities to roam the countryside in primitive bands bringing them back only for the purpose of loveless reproduction under the guise of powerful goddesses When one young woman Birana questions her society's deception she finds herself exiled among the very men she has been taught to scorn She crosses paths with a hunter Arvil and the two grow close as they evade the ever threatening female forces and the savage wilderness men Their love just might mend their fractured world if they manage to survive Hailed as one of the genre's best writers by the Washington Post Book World Pamela Sargent is the author of numerous novels including Earthseed and Venus of Dreams The winner of the Nebula and Locus awards she has also coauthored several Star Trek novels with George Zebrowski

novel by the Nebula and Locus Award winning author of The Shore of Women follows five human clones in an unforgiving world Shock and outrage greet Paul Swenson s announcement of the success of his latest and most controversial scientific endeavor Having taken advantage of a brief lull in legislative restrictions the renowned astrophysicist and a team of bioscientists have created five human clones four males and one female from Swenson s own genetic material From the moment Michael Edward Albert James and Kira Swenson are revealed to the world they are viewed with hostility and suspicion Growing up under the heavy yoke of specialness the five exceptional human experiments have no one but each other to turn to for emotional support Then tragedy strikes and everything falls apart Now Kira and her brothers must follow their destinies down separate divergent paths Heading out into a world that never welcomed them each clone is intent on pursuing knowledge career family all the desired elements of a so called normal life But they cannot escape their shared past because the true purpose behind Paul Swenson s remarkable achievement remains shrouded in shadow And his children are prepared to travel to the ends of the Earth and beyond for an answer to the question that has always haunted them Why were we made

Watchstar Pamela Sargent,2014-04-01 Alone in the desert Daiya is faced with a dilemma that will determine her fate If she can successfully resolve it she will join the Net of her village but if she fails her life will be spent with the feared Merged Ones Confused and torn between worlds near and far Daiya harbors a secret of her people and must find a way to move beyond her discoveries to a safe place where she can survive

The Watchstar Trilogy Pamela Sargent,2018-06-05 The adventures of three brave young heroines in a telepathic dystopia from the Nebula Award winning author and one of the genre s best writers The Washington Post In Pamela Sargent s fascinating vision of a far future post technological agrarian society Earthfolk communicate with each other telepathically can heal themselves and fly at will all by using their mindpowers But those born without psychic ability solitaries must be euthanized to preserve the harmony of the society This is the way of the world until the appearance of a mysterious comet in the sky Watchstar The time has come Daiya has turned fourteen and must now survive a rite of passage in the desert in order to join the Net the telepathic web of the villagers minds During this ordeal she encounters a young man who has come down in a shuttle from a comet with startling news His people are descended from those who fled Earth thousands of years ago He is also a solitary Now everything Daiya has accepted at face value is about to be challenged Eye of the Comet Young Lydee has always known this strange but wonderful comet world to be Home Like all skydwellers she is linked through an implant to an omnipresent cybernetic intelligence known as the Homesmind which guides the fate of her world and the people in it Now she has a special task to perform for she may be the only one who can be a bridge between her comet Home and her species native Earth Homesmind Anra niece of Daiya is a solitary born without the power to mindspeak Once she would have been killed at birth But now the skydwellers of the Wanderer the comet controlled by Homesmind supply solitaries with implants that allow artificial mindspeaking The people of Earth still consider solitaries an abomination and skydwellers soulless making Anra and her brethren outcasts in two worlds But when another comet enters the system speaking directly to the Earthfolk seducing them to oblivion only Anra and her fellow solitaries have the power to resist the call and attempt to save their people

Cosmic Rays at Earth P.K.F. Grieder, 2001-07-27 In 1912 Victor Franz Hess made the revolutionary discovery that ionizing radiation is incident upon the Earth from outer space He showed with ground based and balloon borne detectors that the intensity of the radiation did not change significantly between day and night Consequently the sun could not be regarded as the sources of this radiation and the question of its origin remained unanswered Today almost one hundred years later the question of the origin of the cosmic radiation still remains a mystery Hess discovery has given an enormous impetus to large areas of science in particular to physics and has played a major role in the formation of our current understanding of universal evolution For example the development of new fields of research such as elementary particle physics modern astrophysics and cosmology are direct consequences of this discovery Over the years the field of cosmic ray research has evolved in various directions Firstly the field of particle physics that was initiated by the discovery of many so called elementary particles in the cosmic radiation There is a strong trend from the accelerator physics community to reenter the field of cosmic ray physics now under the name of astroparticle physics Secondly an important branch of cosmic ray physics that has rapidly evolved in conjunction with space exploration concerns the low energy portion of the cosmic ray spectrum Thirdly the branch of research that is concerned with the origin acceleration and propagation of the cosmic radiation represents a great challenge for astrophysics astronomy and cosmology Presently very popular fields of research have rapidly evolved such as high energy gamma ray and neutrino astronomy In addition high energy neutrino astronomy may soon initiate as a likely spin off neutrino tomography of the Earth and thus open a unique new branch of geophysical research of the interior of the Earth Finally of considerable interest are the biological and medical aspects of the cosmic radiation because of its ionizing character and the inevitable irradiation to which we are exposed This book is a reference manual for researchers and students of cosmic ray physics and associated fields and phenomena It is not intended to be a tutorial However the book contains an adequate amount of background materials that its content should be useful to a broad community of scientists and professionals The present book contains chiefly a data collection in compact form that covers the cosmic radiation in the vicinity of the Earth in the Earth's atmosphere at sea level and underground Included are predominantly experimental but also theoretical data In addition the book contains related data definitions and important relations The aim of this book is to offer the reader in a single volume a readily available comprehensive set of data that will save him the need of frequent time consuming literature searches
