Star Planet Faye Iris Johnson-Lenden, 2013-12-05 When I approached the Golden Egg and I was about 5 feet from the egg I was told to stop and stand still Looking around me I was surprised to see all the other Dragons had made a circle around me at a distance of about 30 feet away from where I stood I looked at the Golden Egg that was in soft warm sand in front of me Then I could see that it was gently rocking from side to side and then I noted that tiny cracks appeared they gradually got bigger as the Golden Egg continued to rock I heard a tapping sound coming from the Golden Egg there was no other sound in the warm still air I could hear my heart beating in my breast I thought that it sounded quite loud to me and I hope that I was the only one who could hear my heart beating I then realized that my heart beat and the tapping sound that came from the Golden egg were the same rhythm With breathless anticipation I watched the Golden Eggs cracks become a small hole at first and then much bigger soon a tiny Golden Dragon was nearly fully exposed With one final push a Beautiful Golden Little Dragon cast her eyes on me She looked intently at me for what seemed to be a life time but it was really only one minute she took her first step then the second towards me on wobbly legs Step by shaky unsteady step this little baby dragon came to me when she was close to me she lifted her Golden head and glared at me intently with her big brown eyes Pleading for me to accept her and to pat her on her Golden Head I looked at her and my heart melted I knew that I would love her and protect her until my life ended I stroked her head very gently then I held her close to me in a gentle hug as a mother would her new born child The Court and the London Theatres During the Reign of Elizabeth Thornton Shirley Graves, 1913

Feltman, Sarah Thompson, 2019-03-08

Traditional histories of medieval art and architecture often privilege the moment of a work's creation yet surviving works designated as medieval have long and expansive lives. Many have extended prehistories emerging from their sites and contexts of creation and most have undergone a variety of interventions including adaptations and restorations since coming into being. The lives of these works have been further extended through historiography, museum exhibitions and digital media. Inspired by the literary category of biography and the methods of longue durée historians, the introduction and seventeen chapters of this volume provide an extended meditation on the longevity of medieval works of art and the aspect of time as a factor in shaping our interpretations of them. While the metaphor of lives invokes associations with the origin of the discipline of art history, focus is shifted away from temporal constraints of a single human lifespan or generation to consider the continued lives of medieval works even into our present moment. Chapters on works from the modern countries of Italy, France, England, Spain and Germany are drawn together here by the thematic threads of essence and continuity, transformation, memory and oblivion, and restoration. Together they tell an object-oriented history of art and architecture that is necessarily entangled with numerous individuals and institutions.
