Golden Years of Solihull True North Holdings,2002-11-01 Chain Stores in the Golden Age of the British High Street Kathryn A Morrison,2025-05-08 Familiar multiples like Boots Burton s Marks Spencer and Woolworth s plus a host of smaller chains forged the character of Britain s high streets in the late 19th and 20th centuries Multiple retailing was a supremely successful phenomenon loved by thrifty shoppers but feared by independent competitors It is explored here through the lens of its shops and stores which are generously illustrated with archive and modern photographs These range from the Edwardian grandeur of Boots to the Art Deco splendour of Burton s and the utilitarian post war buildings of Littlewoods Smaller chains are not neglected even if all that survives are weathered signs or mosaic pavements The time is ripe for a study of chain stores Britain s retail giants have been under scrutiny since the shocking collapse of Woolworth s in 2009 followed by BHS in 2016 Online shopping was already undermining bricks and mortar retailing when the COVID pandemic struck in 2020 accelerating the process The recent demise of Debenhams Arcadia Wilko and others leaves vast empty premises in town centres nationwide Our high streets are changing but their legacy of chain store buildings can play a constructive role in repurposing them for future generations Anatomy of a Killing Ian Cobain,2021-05-08 A concise and gripping history of the Troubles revealing the people behind the pain and violence from the award winning investigative journalist Vice On the morning of Saturday 22nd April 1978 members of an Active Service Unit of the IRA hijacked a car and crossed the countryside to the town of Lisburn Within an hour they had killed an off duty policeman in front of his young son In Anatomy of a Killing award winning journalist Ian Cobain documents the hours leading up to the killing and the months and years of violence attrition and rebellion surrounding it Drawing on interviews with those most closely involved as well as court files police notes military intelligence reports IRA strategy papers memoirs and government records this is a unique perspective on the Troubles and a revelatory work of investigative journalism As gripping as a thriller except that this isn t fiction but cold spine tingling reality Daily Mail A remarkable piece of forensic journalism Ed Moloney author of Voices from the Grave Reads like a work of fiction True and harrowing Irish Sunday Independent Books of the Year British Sport: Local histories Richard William Cox,2003 Volume three of a bibliography documenting all that has been written in the English language on the history of sport and physical education in Britain It lists all secondary source material including reference works in a classified order to meet the needs of the sports historian Life after Tragedy Michael W. Brierley,Georgia A. Byrne,2018-01-01 Much has been written on the centenary of the First World War however no book has yet explored the tragedy of the conflict from a theological perspective This book fills that gap Taking their cue from the famous British army chaplain Geoffrey Studdert Kennedy seven central essays all by authors associated with the cathedral where Studdert Kennedy first preached to troops examine aspects of faith that featured in the war such as the notion of home poetry theological doctrine preaching social reform humanitarianism and remembrance Each essay applies its reflections to the life of faith today The essays thus represent a highly original contribution to the history of the First World War in general and the work of Studdert Kennedy in particular and they provide wider theological insight into how in the contemporary world life and tragedy God and suffering can be integrated The book will accordingly be of considerable interest to historians both of the war and of the church to communities commemorating the war and to all those who wrestle with current challenges to faith A foreword by Studdert Kennedy's grandson and an afterword by the bishop of Magdeburg in Germany render this a volume of remarkable depth and worth

The Perfect Distance Pat Butcher, 2012-10-18 The definitive fully authorised story of the record breaking rivalry between London Olympics organiser Sebastian Coe and Steve Ovett Steve Ovett and Sebastian Coe presided over the golden era of British athletics Between them they won three Olympic gold medals two silvers one bronze and broke a total of twelve middle distance records They were part of the landscape of the late seventies and early eighties both household names their exploits were watched by millions As far apart as possible in terms of class and upbringing Ovett is the art student the long haired son of a market trader from Brighton a natural athlete Coe's formative years were spent under the rigorous training routine of Peter Coe a self taught trainer who referred to his son as my athlete their rivalry burned as intense on the track as away from it The pendulum swung between the pair of them each breaking the other's records and memorably triumphing in each other's events in Moscow in 1980 for the best part of a decade until the final showdown at the Los Angeles Olympics in 1984 The Perfect Distance is both a detailed re creation and a fitting celebration of the greatest era of British athletics
