Gonas Gone:

Gona's Gone! David W. Cameron,2023-08-02 With the Australian troops crossing of the Kumusi River in mid November 1942 after pushing the Japanese back along the Kokoda Track to the north coast of Papua New Guinea the time had come to face the entrenched Japanese at their beachheads at Gona Sanananda and Buna The Japanese were determined to fight to the last man in the defence of these critical positions The first beach to be captured by the Australians was Gona which fell on 9 December after bitter fighting This however was not the end of the fighting around this beachhead as just west of Gona on the opposite side of Gona Creek a larger Japanese Force had been landed which was intent on not only reinforcing Gona but also Sanananda and Buna both located east of Gona The fighting west of Gona Creek would be just as brutal and deadly as the fighting to take the Gona Beachhead Even so after this fighting Australian and American troops operating together for the first time in the Pacific War were still bogged down in the battles to take Sanananda and Buna the fighting at these beachheads would continue into January 1943 Gona J. G. Zomchick,2010-10-25 Journey to a world beyond worlds To a place where hatred causes suffering and being different is death or for those who are willing to conform slavery This is the planet Piedra a place of awe inspiring imagination yet so real that the aroma of the sweat and blood of its people will grip your mind forbidding you sleep Where those who have nothing even the little they have will be taken away Still in all of this darkness there is hope and that one hope is Gona Sanananda: a Bastard of a Place David W. Cameron,2024-12-04 With the Australian troops crossing of the Kumusi River in mid November 1942 after pushing the Japanese back along the Kokoda Track to the north coast of Papua New Guinea the time had come to face the entrenched Japanese at their beachhead at Gona Buna and Sanananda The end of the Kokoda Campaign in mid November 1942 marked a turning point for the Australians but the fighting was far from over Within days the battles for the Japanese beachheads would commence The fighting for the Japanese beachheads was among the fiercest of the whole Pacific War and the first combined large scale operation between Australian and American troops against the Japanese By the 3rd January 1943 the Japanese beachheads at Gona and Buna were finally in Australian and American hands after almost two months of desperate fighting One beachhead however remained to be taken the best defended not only in terms of its deep defence and network of supporting bunkers and slit trenches but also by its large deep swamps and jungle Hundreds of men had already been killed Australian and American in trying to take Sanananda It was recognised that this beachhead was the worst of the three battlefields Isolated pockets of Australians and Americans confronted well dug in and camouflaged positions often on small islands in the fetid and crocodile infested swamps It would be another three weeks before Sanananda fell to the Australian and American forces It was appropriately described by Sergeant Bill Spencer 2 9th Battalion as A bastard of a place Walking with Ghosts in Papua New Guinea Rick Antonson,2019-09-10 Acclaimed travel writer Rick Antonson Full Moon Over Noah s Ark tackles his most challenging adventure yet a formidable trail through the remote jungles of Papua New Guinea Rick Antonson has traveled to parts of the world that are not simply exotic but sometimes damned near inaccessible He has climbed to the summit of Mount Ararat in eastern Turkey traveling beyond to Iraq and Iran and Armenia He has undertaken an improbable overland journey to the ancient city of Timbuktu an enlightening look into efforts to preserve the city's priceless manuscripts Now he has traversed the notorious Kokoda Trail in Papua New Guinea a country some call the last wild place on earth The trail is a narrow 60 mile footpath featuring rough jungle 6 000 feet in elevation change and punishing weather extremes In a country unfairly locked in Western misperceptions the track is inhospitable terrain yet home to hospitable indigenous peoples who live among the rusting reminders of the Japanese Australian and American armies that clashed in some of the deadliest protracted combat of World War II In Walking With Ghosts in Papua New Guinea Antonson shares a journey of physical and mental endurance in his inimitable way in the company of a mixed band of resolute adventurers blending fascinating historical context with the tribulations of unexpected discoveries in faraway lands The Home Front Patrick

Lindsay,2023-04-11 Forty one Australian soldiers died in action over 20 years of fighting in Afghanistan in that time more than 1400 veterans have taken their own lives Veterans today are chronically over represented when it comes to PTSD depression homelessness and suicide Australians rightfully pause on Anzac Day each year to solemnly remember fallen soldiers but are we forgetting our returned veterans whose personal battles continue every single day and how did we get to this point In this authoritative compelling and urgent book bestselling author Patrick Lindsay The Spirit of the Digger and Fromelles among many looks at the wide ranging damage caused by training Australians to be fighting machines and then inadequately supporting them as they re enter their communities Featuring moving interviews with veterans and their families as well as a broader analysis of Australian military culture and government responses Lindsay illustrates both the personal and societal costs of this dereliction of duty The Home Front is a fascinating and rousing indictment of the culture of war the thinking of those who wage it and the cost to those who experience it The Battle of Brisbane Robert

Macklin,2011-10-25 The Hard Slog Karl James,2012-04-30 The island of Bougainville in the South Pacific was the site of one of the largest and most gruelling campaigns fought by Australian forces during the Second World War During the offensive against the Japanese from November 1944 to August 1945 more than 500 Australians were killed and two Victoria Crosses awarded A veteran later described Bougainville as one long bloody hard slog Despite this little is known about the campaign which was dismissed as an unnecessary and costly operation In the first major study of the Bougainville campaign since 1963 Karl James argues that it was in fact a justifiable use of Australia's military resources Drawing on original archival research including wartime reports and soldiers letters and diaries James illustrates the experience of Australian soldiers who fought Generously illustrated with over forty photographs this important book tells how this often overlooked battle played an important part in Australia's Second World War victory The Australian Army in World War II Mark Johnston,2013-08-20 This book recounts the organization and deployment of one of the most important fighting armies of

World War II Australian divisions made a large and distinctive contribution to victory both in the deserts of the Middle East and the jungles of the South West Pacific earning for the second time a unique reputation for aggressiveness endurance and independence of spirit The text is illustrated with original wartime photos from all fronts and with full colour plates showing a wide range of uniforms and gear together with the complex and colourful Australian system of unit insignia Australian Battalion Commanders in the Second World War Garth Pratten,2009-04-27 In Australian Battalion Commanders in the Second World War Garth Pratten explores for the first time the background role and conduct of the commanding officers of Australian infantry battalions in World War II Despite their vital role as the lynchpins of the battlefield uniting the senior officers with the soldiers who fought the battalion commanders have previously received scant attention in contemporary military history This book redresses the balance providing a gripping meticulously researched and insightful account that charts the development of Australia s infantry commanding officers from part time ill prepared amateurs to seasoned veterans who although still not professional soldiers deserved the title of professional men of war Drawing on extensive and original archival material Pratten recreates battle scenes and brings to light many diverse personalities It is a story of men confronting the timeless challenges of military leadership mastering their own fear and discomfort in order to motivate and inspire their troops to endure the maelstrom of war Struggling for Self Reliance Bob Breen,2008-10-01 Military force projection is the self reliant capacity to strike from mainland ports bases and airfields to protect Australia s sovereignty as well as more distant national interests Force projection is not just a flex of military muscle in times of emergency or the act of dispatching forces It is a cycle of force preparation command deployment protection employment sustainment rotation redeployment and reconstitution If the Australian Defence Force consistently gets this cycle wrong then there is something wrong with Australia s defence This monograph is a force projection audit of four Australian regional force projections in the late 1980s and the 1990s valid measures of competence It concludes that Australia is running out of luck and time The Rudd Government has commissioned a new Defence White paper This monograph is Exhibit A for change
