St. Nicholas Mary Mapes Dodge,1902      The Making of Home Judith Flanders,2015-09-08 The idea that home is a special place a separate place a place where we can be our true selves is so obvious to us today that we barely pause to think about it But as Judith Flanders shows in her best and most ambitious work to date home is a relatively new idea In The Making of Home Flanders traces the evolution of the house from the sixteenth to the early twentieth century across northern Europe and America showing how the homes we know today bear only a faint resemblance to homes though history What turned a house into the concept of home Why did northwestern Europe a politically unimportant sociologically underdeveloped region of the world suddenly become the powerhouse of the Industrial Revolution the capitalist crucible that created modernity While investigating these important questions Flanders uncovers the fascinating development of ordinary household items from cutlery chairs and curtains to the fitted kitchen plumbing and windows while also dismantling many domestic myths In this prodigiously researched and engagingly written book Flanders brilliantly and elegantly draws together the threads of religion history economics technology and the arts to show not merely what happened but why it happened how we ended up in a world where we can all say like Dorothy in Oz There s no place like home      William Wordsworth's Golden Age Theories During the Industrial Revolution M. Keay,2001-09-26 Wordsworth s romantic critique of industrial life and society was backward looking His Golden Age ideal of pastoral life and rural relationships falls within the scope of English populism as found among the middle ranks of small independent producers and their ideologues Furthermore his rural education and upbringing in the remote North of England explain his long term shift from radical and whig reformer to tory placeman in the years 1789 to 1832 as well as his relative demise as a poet      The Fireside annual [afterw.] pictorial annual [formerly Our own fireside] conducted by C.
