CLAUDIA. MARTIN,2020 Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 The Interpretation of Cosmic and Mystical Experiences Robert Crookall,1969 Albert Schweitzer said All the problems of religion ultimately go back to the one the experience I have of God within myself differs from knowledge concerning Him which I derive from the world In the world He is impersonal force within me He reveals Himself as Personality In his earlier books Dr Crookall dealt with the most important of psychical experiences namely out of the body experiences popularly called astral projections These are he says natural and normal to mankind This work is concerned with cosmic and mystical experiences the highest and most significant of which we are capable These are also natural and normal to mankind In the First Part a large number of experiences of at one ment are assembled and classified preparatory to a consideration of their incidence and nature Some people have at one with inanimate objects others with animate objects nature still others with people and many with God These various groups are shown to overlap there is says Crookall a complete and unbroken spectrum beginning with minerals and ending with God It is clear that at one ment with God is not as some writers have supposed essentially distinct from at one ment with nature On the basis of this the author agrees with Dr Raynor Johnson and the Revd Sidney Spencer the latter concluded Cosmic consciousness is the natural complement of the experience of union with God The Second Part of the book deals with descriptions of at one ment that have hitherto been entirely neglected by writers on this important subject namely those of communicators the supposed dead Some supposed dead communicators are shown to describe at one ment with inanimate objects others with nature with people and still others with God Again these groups overlap to form an unbroken spectrum of experience as in the experiences of the living a strong suggestion of surviving souls In point of fact Crookall notes that mystical experiences seem to be more frequent among the dead than the living This of course might have been expected Human mystical experiences are here considered for the first time in relation to the correlation suggested in the author s first book

Entranced by Story Hugh Crago,2014-04-24 We live in a world of stories yet few of us pause to ask what stories actually are why we consume them so avidly and what they do for story makers and their audiences This book focuses on the experiences that good stories generate feelings of purposeful involvement elevation temporary loss of self vicarious emotion and relief of tension The author examines what drives writers to create stories and why readers fall under their spell why some children grow up to be writers and how the capacity for creating and comprehending stories develops from infancy right through into old age Entranced by Story applies recent research on brain function to literary examples ranging from the Iliad and Wuthering Heights to Harold and the Purple Crayon providing a groundbreaking exploration of the biological and neurological basis of the literary experience Blending research theory and biographical anecdote the author shows how it is the unique structure of the human brain with its layering of sophisticated cognitive capacities upon archaic emotion driven functions which best explains the mystery of story
