The English Press in the Eighteenth Century (Routledge Revivals) Jeremy

Black,2010-10-18 First published in 1987 this is a comprehensive analysis of the rise of the British Press in the eighteenth century as a component of the understanding of eighteenth century political and social history Professor Black considers the reasons for the growth of the print culture and the relations of newspapers to magazines and pamphlets the mechanics of circulation and chronological developments Extensively illustrated with quotations from newspapers of the time the book is a lively as well as original and informative treatment of a topic that must remain of first importance for the literate historian

Schwartz,1990 This is a collection of nine essays by senior scholars Donald Greene Morris R Brownell Richard B Schwartz Howard D Weinbrot Maximillian Novak J Paul Hunter John H Middendorf Shirley Strum Kenny and Gwin J Kolb They draw from their own experiences as students and scholars to assess the past and present position of theory in eighteenth century studies and to discuss the important areas of scholarship that remain relatively unexplored often proposing specific projects Some essays are controversial all are lively and personal The essays evolved from a 1987 conference held at Georgetown University the first such conference to examine the state of eighteenth century literary studies in fifteen years

Eighteenth Century Studies Francis Hitchman,1881 Studies in the Eighteenth Century R.F. Brissenden,1968-12-15 The papers brought together in this volume bear witness to the growing vigour and diversity of eighteenth century studies The seminar at which they were presented was held to honour the memory of a literary scholar David Nichol Smith It is therefore understandable and fitting that the majority of the contributions should be concerned primarily with literature History art and philosophy however are also dealt with and the collection as a whole offers a widely ranging and illuminating survey of the period with a new preface by Felicity Nussbaum and Laura Brown examines eighteenth century English literature's resistance to the application of new theoretical approaches and presents new work by leading scholars which both challenges this resistance and demonstrates the usefulness of feminist Marxist new historicist and psychoanalytic approaches to the analysis of eighteenth century texts This book reinterprets and resituates canonical works by such writers as Fielding Goldsmith and Sterne but also explores areas and figures increasingly important to eighteenth century study It opens questions about the canon and about the nature of canonicity itself as it considers texts by women working class literature guidebooks for bourgeois tourists and aspects of the cultural and social terrain including problems of race and colonialism capitalism and penal institutions The New Eighteenth Century not only provides new ways of looking at the literature of the period but serves as a model for future work in eighteenth century studies
