Ein Fest Fuer Boris:

Austrian Information ,1981 Missing Persons William E. Gruber,2011-04-01 In the hands of the twentieth century s most innovative dramatists characters have revealed their identities on stage in a variety of unconventional ways they speak with electronic voices or engage in solipsistic monologues they are lost in self conscious third person forms of communicating or are expressed simply as movement sound and decor Missing Persons is a study of character and its representation on the modern stage Within broad literary contexts William E Gruber addresses specific questions about the dramatis personae of the playwrights Gordon Craig Bertolt Brecht Samuel Beckett Thomas Bernhard and Maria Fomes Among the questions Gruber considers are why mechanical actors or the abrupt dislocations of oriental acting styles meant so much to dramatists as different as Brecht and Craig why figures in Beckett s late plays are so often flat schematized heraldic and why such contemporary dramatists as Fomes and Bernhard share a profound fascination with the mechanics of theatrical representation quoting reciting reproducing or impersonating an absent text The figures who move across these stages are frail contradictory occasionally mutilated or even dismembered They are grim reminders says Gruber that the individual s place in the world is not as secure or as central as we imagine it once was Yet character Gruber argues remains for these authors a crucial element of drama even if it is more fragile more ghostly more enigmatic than ever before The study of character as a crucial component of drama has been neglected for much of this century Missing Persons attempts to restore character to the current discourse by developing a vocabularyfor discussing it in plays in which conventional terms seem insufficient or irrelevant Drawing on evidence from five dramatists whose work has long been considered antagonistic toward character as the term has typically been understood Gruber maintains that modern drama is never anticharacter even when it is most aggressively antirealist and suggests that character remains a defining ideal throughout the modern and postmodern period especially among dramatists who seem deliberately to have forsaken it A Companion to the Works of Thomas Bernhard Matthias Konzett,2002 New essays by leading scholars on major aspects of the most significant Austrian writer of the postwar generation A History of Austrian Literature 1918-2000 Katrin Maria Kohl,Anne Fuchs,Florian Krobb,Ritchie Robertson,2006 New essays examine 20th c Austrian literature in relation to history politics and popular culture 20th century Austrian literature boasts many outstanding writers Schnitzler Musil Rilke Kraus Celan Canetti Bernhard Jelinek These and others feature in broader accounts of German literature but it is desirable to see how the Austrian literary scene and Austrian society itself shaped their writing This volume thus surveys Austrian writers of drama prose fiction and lyric poetry relates them to the distinctive history of modern Austria a democratic republic that was overtaken by civil war and authoritarian rule absorbed into Nazi Germany and re established as a neutral state and examines their response to controversial events such as the collusion with Nazism the Waldheim affair and the rise of Haider and the extreme right In addition to confronting controversy in the relations between literature history and politics the volume examines popular culture in line with current trends Contributors Judith Beniston Janet Stewart Andrew Barker Murray Hall Anthony Bushell Dagmar Lorenz Juliane Vogel Jonathan Long Joseph McVeigh Allyson Fiddler Katrin Kohl is Lecturer in German and a Fellow of Jesus College and Ritchie Robertson is Taylor Professor of German Language and Literature and a Fellow of The Queen's College both at the University of Oxford The Nihilism of Thomas Bernhard Charles W.

Martin,2023-12-18 This study examines the nihilistic basis of Bernhard's writing and traces developments in the author's nihilistic stance throughout his career In the first period of his prose fiction 1963-1975 nihilism is reluctantly accepted by Bernhard's fictional characters as a necessary response to a world perceived as meaningless Various possible sources of transcendence are explored and rejected The autobiographical texts 1975-1982 then represent a sustained attempt by the author himself to transcend his own essentially nihilistic state The apparent success of this attempt is quickly revealed to be illusory in the prose fiction of the second period 1978-1986 and it becomes apparent that nihilism is a no less necessary response to Austrian social reality than to the more purely personal problems which first motivated Bernhard's writing

Imperative of Narration Catharina Wulf,2014-10-01 This is the first book to deal with the self-reflexive nature of narration of Beckett and Bernhard Samuel Beckett's and Thomas Bernhard's works are representative of a persisting perplexity with regard to language The texts of both authors are marked by their narrator's obsessive need to write which is inextricably intertwined with their profound suspicion of language The perpetuation of the narration is explained as an imperative a simultaneously conscious and unconscious command which forces the artist to submit to the creative process The author places this inexplicable force of the imperative within the context of Arthur Schopenhauer's aesthetic theory and Jacques Lacan's concept of desire The attempt to define and interpret the two authors' prose and drama is displaced by this sense of the infinity of desire Lacan and by the eternal becoming of the will Schopenhauer which reveal themselves to lie at the heart of Beckett's and Bernhard's creativity Offstage Space, Narrative, and the Theatre of the Imagination W.

Gruber,2010-03-01 Offstage Space Narrative and the Theatre of the Imagination is a study of extrascenic space and how playwrights have used narrative as an alternative to conventional scenic enactment The book covers the work of writers as diverse as Euripides Plautus Shakespeare Susan Glaspell Gertrude Stein Bertolt Brecht Samuel Beckett Marguerite Duras Brian Friel and Thomas Bernhard William Gruber offers a wide-ranging overview of the dramaturgical choices dramatists make when they substitute imagined events for perceptual ones A Companion to Twentieth-Century German Literature Raymond Furness, Malcolm Humble,2003-09-02 Containing entries on over four hundred authors of fiction poetry and drama from Germany Austria and Switzerland this invaluable work of reference presents material of a range and depth that no other book on the subject in English attains For the second edition the entries have been updated to include the most recent works of German literature A number of new entries have been added dealing in particular with the East German literary scene and the changing literary landscape after reunification In addition to basic biographical facts the Companion offers summaries

Amputation in Literature and Film Erik Grayson, Maren Scheurer, 2021-08-10 Amputation in Literature and Film Artificial Limbs Prosthetic Relations and the Semiotics of Loss explores the many ways in which literature and film have engaged with the subject of amputation The scholars featured in this volume draw upon a wide variety of texts both lesser known and canonical across historical periods and language traditions to interrogate the intersections of disability studies with social political cultural and philosophical concerns Whether focusing on ancient texts by Zhuangzi or Ovid renaissance drama folktales collected by the Brothers Grimm novels or silent film the chapters in this volume highlight the dialectics of loss and gain in narratives of amputation to encourage critical dialogue and forge an integrated embodied understanding of experiences of impairment in which mind and body metaphor and materiality theory and politics are considered as interrelated and interacting aspects of disability and ability

German Literature of the Twentieth Century Ingo Roland Stoehr, 2001 Traces literary developments in the German speaking countries from 1900 to the present This study of German literature in the past hundred years sets its subject clearly in the artistic and political context of developments in Western Europe during the century It begins with the turn of the century aestheticism and visions of decay led by Schnitzler Hofmannsthal and other Austrian writers and the quite different explosion of new artistic energy in the Expressionist and Dada movements These movements are succeeded by the rise of Modernism culminating in the inter war years the poetry of Rilke Brecht's epic theatre and novels by Thomas Mann Kafka Hesse Musil Döblin and Brecht the influence of Nazism on literary production is considered The study of developments after 1945 reflects the struggle to establish a post Holocaust literature and to deal with the questions posed by the political division of Germany Finally the convergence of East and West German literature after unification is addressed Ingo R Stoehr teaches literature at Kilgore College Texas and is editor of the bilingual journal of German literature in English translation Dimension 2
