

The background of the cover is a light grey with faint, white architectural line drawings of industrial buildings. At the top, there's a long, multi-story building with many windows. Below it, on the left, is a large rectangular building with a smaller structure attached to its side. On the right, there's another building with a more complex roofline. At the bottom, there are more drawings of buildings and what looks like a curved path or road. The drawings are technical and detailed, showing structural elements like walls, windows, and roofs.
